Ruling Filipinos in Power Denounced as Colossal Blunder.

Manufacturers and Tradesmen Anxious to Get Rid of Holdings.

[BY WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Business in the Philippines is nearly at a standstill, and if they would sell out if they could, in fact, there is the greatest feeling of uncertainty since the occupation, due to the introduction of politics into the Philippines by the present Democratic administration. It is the consensus of opinion that the present condition of affairs under Gov.-Gen. Harrison will live only six months to a year." Such were some of the statements made by merchants and civilians arriving from Manila by the transport Thomas yesterday, many of whom, however, would not allow their statements to appear over the authors.

Some of the features of the opinions expressed was that there is no voicing them who have been following Democrats, but who do not approve of the action of the present administration in placing the control of power on the commis-

Sunset Lines Are Tied Up.

"Espee" Route from New Orleans to El Paso Affected by the Walkout.

Employees Desert Trains and Engines Wherever They Happened to Be.

Company's Eleventh-Hour Appeal for Mediation Barren of Results.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HOUSTON (Tex.) Nov. 13.—Approximately 2500 trainmen and enginemen on the Atlantiv division of the Southern Pacific Railroad on the Sunset lines, went on strike at 7 o'clock tonight in accordance with an ultimatum presented to the officials of the road here yesterday, by delegates representing the four union organizations involved. The walk-out came after more than six months of negotiations which sought an amicable adjustment of difficulties between the company and the men.

An eleventh-hour appeal to tme Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation by the railroad failed to stop the walk-out and with engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen from El Paso to New Orleans involved, the Southwest tonight faces a possibility of one of the most serious tie-ups of traffic in years.

Railroad officials were silent tonight as to what efforts were being made to relieve the situation, but reports from other points indicated preparations were being made for the coming of men to do the work. All trains due to leave terminal points after 7 o'clock tonight were annulled until further notice. Those leaving before that time, it was stated by union officials, would complete their runs, after which their crews would join the other strikers.

Locally, the walk-out was accomplished quietly. Promptly at 7 o'clock yard crews left their trains and as other trains reached the terminals here the men ceased work. Similar conditions were reported all over the Sunset Central lines, which embrace a total of 2400 miles of track.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and Order of Railway Trainmen are involved in the strike.

The grievances include the question of wages, alleged violation of contract by the railroad and various personal complaints.

The men say they were unable to secure a satisfactory settlement of sixty-seven grievances or to enforce the observance of their contracts through their respective organizations and when they combined their forces President W. B. Scott and General Manager G. S. Wald of the Sunset Central declined to meet the joint committee.

Four unions of operating employees acting in concert, inaugurated the strike on the Atlantic system, known as the Sunset lines, promptly at 7 o'clock tonight, the time set in their ultimatum of the road. The train crews in switch yards left their engines promptly.

TRAINS ANNULLED OWING TO STRIKE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—Two passengers and three freight trains of the Southern Pacific Railroad, scheduled to start from New Orleans tonight, were annulled because of the strike of trainmen and enginemen, called at 7 o'clock. An effort will be made to take a passenger train out tomorrow morning.

Union officials at Algiers, just across the Mississippi River from New Orleans, say the strike order was obeyed by nearly every man on the New Orleans-Lafayette division of the road.

Tonight traffic seems paralyzed. Some trains are out on the line, but it is expected the men will strike when they are brought in. Every engineman and trainman at the Algiers terminus walked out. The shops will be operated by non-union men who have been working, it is said, in place of striking shopmen for several months.

The engines in use are oil-burners and strikers say the company will have difficulty in finding men capable of operating them.

ABANDONED ON THE ROAD.

A train out on the road was abandoned by the crew promptly at 7 o'clock. The crew of a freight that was between Algiers and Gretna, just across the river from New Orleans, struck at the announced hour and walked into Algiers.

The men have been admonished by union officials not to attempt violence, but extra deputy Sheriffs are guarding the Southern Pacific ferry at Avondale tonight.

PET LIONESS INJURES BOY.

Sees Lads Running, Breaks Away and Hits Youth With Her Paw.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

KOESLIN (Germany) Nov. 13.—A young lioness on exhibition before the boys of a local school, escaped today and seriously injured a seven-year-old boy. The trainer was leading the lioness through the ranks of the boys, some of whom took fright and ran. The lioness broke from its keeper and pursued the boys, felling one of them with a blow on the head. Workmen in the grounds drove the animal away from the lad, and it dashed into the school building where it was captured.

Three Persons Are Killed and Many Injured Near Wooster, O. Twelve Excursionists Dead and Over a Hundred Injured in Alabama.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WOOSTER (O.) Nov. 13.—Three persons were killed and a dozen injured, one probably fatally, when eastbound Pennsylvania train No. 52 was wrecked near here tonight. The passenger train was derailed, falling on another track in the path of a freight train and the second crash caused the fatalities.

The dead are:

HARRY KREAKIE, Shreve, O., passenger.

F. K. AMORS, address unknown, horseman.

BRAKEMAN ECHAIBLE, Allegheny, Pa.

The engine and tender and baggage cars leaped the track under the viaduct where the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad crosses the Pennsylvania four miles west of here. The panic-stricken passengers rushed out of the train into the path of a west-bound freight train and Kreakie and Amors were killed. Engineer C. M. Crease of Allegheny, Pa., was badly scalded and it is feared he may die. Fireman Gascoigne of Allegheny and Express Messenger Demarest of Mansfield also were seriously injured, but they will recover.

The greater part of the passengers who had crowded out on the track in the feright train's path leaped into a creek at the foot of the embankment and escaped. B. L. Hauk of Canton, a traveling salesman, stood at the exit of one coach and fought back the passengers who tried to get out, probably saving the lives of many of them.

Automobiles brought the dead and injured to this city.

OFFICIAL REPORT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—The Pennsylvania railroad received a report here tonight that a telegraph lineman and an express car messenger were killed in the wreck at Wooster, O.

The company report stated that local train No. 52, bound from Crestline, O., to Pittsburgh, was derailed, the engine and express car toppling over on their sides. The wreckage spilled over on the westbound track and a freight ran into it.

TWELVE KILLED, MANY INJURED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EUFAULA (Ala.) Nov. 13.—Twelve persons were killed and more than 100 injured, some of them fatally, early today when three coaches of a Central of Georgia passenger train left the rails at a point seventeen miles south of here and plunged down a steep embankment. The train, which consisted of five cars, crowded with excursionists, was en route from Ozark, Ala., to Eufaula, where a fair is being held. The identified white dead include Pomp Outsey, superintendent of the Barbour county poorhouse at Clayton. All were residents of towns along the railroad.

Three dead negroes also were taken from the wreckage.

Among those who escaped with minor injuries was Jefferson D. Clayton, a wealthy Alabaman and brother of Congressman Henry D. Clayton of this State.

A broken rail is said to have caused the accident. As the crowded excursion train rounded a curve the three cars at the rear, packed with passengers, suddenly left the track and, breaking away from the others, rolled down the steep embankment. The coaches were demolished.

Occupants of the two coaches which remained on the rails, immediately bent their efforts to rescuing the hundreds who were caught in the wreckage. Relief trains bearing surgeons and nurses were dispatched from Ozark and Eufaula, where many of the dead and injured later were taken.

Many of the victims were cared for at Clayton, where the citizens turned their residences into emergency hospitals. A majority of the injured received only painful scratches and bruises.

Railroad officials issued a statement tonight in which they ascribed the wreck to a broken rail. It was announced that an investigation would be made.

NOBEL LITERATURE PRIZE GOES TO A HINDU POET.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKHOLM (Sweden) Nov. 13.—The Nobel Prize for literature was awarded today to the Hindu poet Rabindranath Tagore. This is the first time this prize has been given to anybody but a white person.

The works of Tagore were scarcely known outside of British India until recently when some of them were translated into English.

The Tagore family is Hindu and belongs to the province of Bengal. Many of its members have devoted themselves to literature and the arts and some of them are in the Indian Civil Service. Two of the most prominent are Maharajah Pradyot Kumar Tagore and Rajah Sir Sour Indro Mohun Tagore. The latter was given the degree of Doctor of Music in Philadelphia in 1875.

WILSON TO READ BRIEF MESSAGE.

PRESIDENT BEGINS WORK ON ANNUAL DOCUMENT.

Declares He Will Deal Briefly With Chief Subjects on Which He Believes Congress Should Act and Will Leave It to Cabinet Officers' Reports to Reflect His Views.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President Wilson announced today that he would read in person his first annual message to Congress.

The President thus far has read three brief addresses—on tariff, currency and the Mexican affairs—but it was not definitely known whether his first communication to the regular session of Congress would be in accordance with the century-old precedent which he revived last March.

Mr. Wilson told inquirers that he had just begun work on the address and had not decided just how many of the topics dealt with in the annual reports of Cabinet members he would weave into the document. He indicated that no such long and voluminous messages as have heretofore been sent by Presidents to Congress will be prepared by him. It is considered likely that he will deal briefly with the chief subjects upon which he believes Congress should act at the regular session, leaving it to the annual reports of the Cabinet officers to reflects his views on department matters.

WOMAN MISSING, ALSO DIAMONDS.

FIFTH-AVENUE JEWELERS ARE VICTIMS OF SWINDLE.

New York Police Are Searching for Gotham Belle Who Had Entree to Fashionable Circles and Last Year Sold Half a Million in Precious Stones.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—With the disappearance of a young woman who was received in fashionable hotels in Fifth avenue and the discovery by the police of many diamond swindle amounting to more than $100,000 is believed to have been uncovered. A man with whom the young woman formed a partnership for the sale of diamonds on memorandum is also missing. The grand jury will begin an investigation tomorrow.

The activity of the police in the case resulted from the arrest Saturday of Francis Cocks, a diamond broker, charged with withholding diamonds entrusted to him by another broker. Cocks's explanation was that he gave the diamonds to the young woman to sell and that she had not returned them. Other brokers then told of having given the woman diamonds to sell on commission and a search of pawnshops resulted in finding about $9000 of the gems.

The woman, who is described as about 30 years old, and handsome, began selling diamonds on memorandum in a small way two years ago, and last year her sales are said to have amounted to more than $500,000. Her first dealings with the brokers began by small purchases. Soon she began taking out large stones, saying that she had left them at various fashionable homes for approval. As her accounts were always paid her credit finally became unlimited.

MAY ASK LIND BACK.

Promises Made by Huerta Men.

Mexican Cabinet Members Seek to Resume Negotiations With the Envoy.

Declare They Have the Consent of the Provisional President.

Intimations Given of Something Likely to Satisfy the White House.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 13.—Members of President Huerta's official family are working diligently for the reopening of the negotiations and say they have the consent of Gen. Huerta to make concessions which they believe will be satisfactory to the United States.

The Mexican Minister of the Interior, Manuel Garza Aldape, saw Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American Charge d'Affaires, late today and appealed to him to do all in his power to induce the United States to withhold action until the Mexican officials could communicate with Mr. Lind, now at Vera Cruz. He based his appeal on the allegation that they were unable yesterday to get in touch with Gen. Huerta in order to present to him Mr. Lind's communication.

The American Charge could give the Minister little assurance. Senor Aldape asked if Mr. Lind could be persuaded to return to the capital, or failing, if a representative of the government might not go to Vera Cruz and confer with Mr. Lind. Mr. O'Shaughnessy expressed the opinion that either course would be useless. In the end they agreed to present the case to President Wilson, embodying the representations of President Huerta's counsellors, together with an appeal for postponement of action directed at lifting the embargo on arms and ammunition, or such other action as had been decided upon.

It is believed that Gen. Huerta, through his counsellors, purposes to present a plan in the nature of a substitute. He is said to be reconciled to the idea of resigning from the Presidency, but wants to submit his resignation to the new Congress, the body which President Wilson has declared, through Mr. Lind, must not convene.

Gen. Huerta and his friends in the Cabinet, who have been trying to induce him to yield, have been informed that there are certain measures Congress might adopt to which the United States would be unalterably opposed and that if any plan devised by them involves the convening of Congress it would be well to sign papers in which should be set forth exactly what measures this new law-making body expects to pass upon, and to see to it that such measures as are regarded by Washington as objectionable are excluded.

VILLA LAYS SIEGE TO CHIHUAHUA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Nov. 13.—Gen. Francisco Villa's rebel troops began today a siege of Chihuahua. They cut the railroad and telegraph lines connecting Chihuahua with the border and have the city completely isolated. Rebel junta members stated tonight that it is Villa's plan to starve Chihuahua out instead of again trying to take the town by assault.

A passenger and troop train passed the point where the line was cut a few hours before the arrival of the rebel forces at the north of Chihuahua. The trains reached Juarez this evening, bringing more than a hundred Americans, foreigners and native refugees. The twenty-third battalion of Federal infantry accompanied the trains as a guard.

REBELS AWAIT WILSON'S REPLY.

Carranza Bases Hopes on Embargo Being Lifted.

Reiterates His Opposition to American Intervention.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) Nov. 13.—Eyes were directed tonight toward official Washington by the actors in the exchanges between President Wilson and Gen. Carranza through William Bayard Hale. It was considered probable that the next step would come either in the form of some announcement from Washington or continuation of the negotiations through Mr. Hale here. It was not made known whether Washington officials would announce any decision in the matter before the President's special envoy formally notified Gen. Carranza in person of the result of the interviews here yesterday. The Constitutionalist leader, officers of his staff and members of his provisional Cabinet went about their routine of business today with no display of unusual expectation. Mr. Hale remained at his hotel on the American side or chatting with the American Consul Frederick Simpich and his callers at the Consulate.

The military leaders here were cheered by what they considered significant news from the south. Gen. Pablo Gonzales, Constitutionalist commander in the States of Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas, reported tonight to Gen. Carranza that his troops had taken twenty-two towns, routed the Federals in two decisive battles and captured two military trains with large supplies of munitions. Gen. Gonzales said that at present his forces were marching against Victoria, the capital of Tamaulipas.

Col. Gustavo Garmendia, who was a prominent actor at the time of the Mexico City uprising against Madero, was killed in leading his insurgent command against Culiacan, according to a report generally credited here. Gen. Alvaro Obregon, former commander of Sonora State troops, was reported wounded slightly. Other details of the insurgent attack upon the Sinaloa capital were not stated.

REBELS ASK ONLY ARMS.

All the Constitutionalist rebels of Mexico desire of the United States is permission freely to import arms. Gen. Carranza, chief of the Constitutionalists, said today he would not accept mediation in any form by the United States or any other foreign government.

This meant that the Constitutionalists would oppose intervention.

Carranza again declined to discuss the subject matter of the conference between William Bayard Hale, President Wilson's agent, and himself.

Interrogated with reference to the suggestion that the Constitutionalists might get into communication with Mexico City through the media of Hale, at this point, and John Lind, at Vera Cruz, and thus possibly obtain the selection of a Provisional President acceptable to all factions in Mexico, the rebel leader declared flatly he would have no intercourse whatever with Huerta.

Carranza was an ardent supporter of President Madero. As Governor of Coahuila, he was the first to repudiate Huerta, and his declaration today was in line with former statements that he would have nothing whatever to do with the present occupant of the Presidential palace in the City of Mexico, except to overthrow him.

HALE'S PROPOSAL.

The proposition presented by Hale is understood to have been that the United States would open the border for the Constitutionalists to obtain arms if Carranza could guarantee the establishment of order within a reasonable time, and the foundation of real representative government in the southern republic. This would carry with it the certainty of the elimination of Dictator Huerta, without the necessity of armed intervention by the United States.

Neither Carranza nor Hale would give any intimation regarding the results of the conference between the American representative and the Constitutionalist chief and his Cabinet in the customs house capital here yesterday, but it is known that Carranza, who, from the first, has said intervention by the United States would be a grave and disastrous mistake, gave every assurance that the lifting of the embargo on arms was all the American government need do to obtain realization of President Wilson's aims to relieve the present chaotic conditions in Mexico.

There was no question today that the conference yesterday had been satisfactory to both sides. Carranza, large, and standing more than six feet tall, showed no sign today of anxiety over further development at Washington. But his lieutenants, the members of his Cabinet, types of the mercurial Latin temperament, could not conceal their agitation over the possible outcome of the overtures entered into with the American government yesterday.

REBELS ALL PLEASED.

Everybody on the Constitutionalist side was pleased and proud of the attention bestowed upon them, unofficially, but none the less effectually, by the American government in sending Hale to treat with them. It was deemed an auspicious augury—a definite sign of success for the Constitutionalists, and as they put it, a prediction of the redemption of Mexico. Yet the possibility of intervention by armed forces of the United States, the developments at Mexico City last night, and the possibility that Huerta might precipitate matters by some desperate act, worried them.

To Carranza they all turned today for advice and counsel. He is the father of the revolution, the eldest as well as the first chief of the Constitutionalists.

In the conference yesterday he was matched in height only by Mr. Hale, the American representative, but his flowing gray beard and heavy, silvered mane, contrasted with the polished craniums of several of his younger but bald confreres.

Although the entire Constitutionalist Cabinet was present at the meeting, all the talking was done by Hale and Carranza, and that was not much. A silent, grave man, the Constitutionalist chief received the American's proposal and studied it more than a quarter of an hour before he spoke. Then he looked Hale in the eye and slowly enunciated a brief reply.

ROSALES ARRIVES TO JOIN CARRANZA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NOGALES, SONORA (Mex.) Nov. 13.—Ramon M. Rosales, who was elected Governor of Hidalgo under the Madero government, arrived tonight and announced that he had come to join Gen. Carranza. He has been a fugitive in Cuba and the United States since the overthrow of the Madero government. Senor Rosales said that the revolutionary movement was gaining strong foothold in his State, as he asserted it was in all parts of Mexico.

"CHESTER" AT VERA CRUZ.

More Than Hundred Refugees From Mexico City Are on Way to Havana.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

VERA CRUZ, Nov. 13.—The United States scout cruiser Chester arrived today from Philadelphia.

More than 100 American refugees from Mexico City reached here today. Many of them are embarking for Havana.

John Lind, accompanied by Capt. William A. Burnside, American Military Attache, arrived today and took up his quarters at the United States Consulate. Lind would not discuss the situation or say how long he would remain in Vera Cruz.

Replying to a question as to whether there was any foundation for the rumor current here that a general exodus of American citizens from Mexico City would take place on Saturday, Lind said such might be the case. He declined to explain further.

GET MILLION IN BULLION.

MEXICAN BANDITS MAKE RICH HAUL NEAR VERA CRUZ.

Capital Reports that Lind During His Visit Failed to Come in Contact With Official Circles and Relations With United States Have Not Changed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Lind, special envoy of President Wilson, left for Vera Cruz last night over the Mexican Central Railroad, accompanied by Capt. William A. Burnside and Ensign Hill of the United States ship Louisiana.

The departure of Lind was not announced in advance, and not generally known even by the crowd at the station, which had gathered to say good-by to many who were leaving to sail on the Ward line steamer from Vera Cruz today. The departure of Lind was due to the fact that the Mexican government was not inclined to carry out certain suggestions made by him verbally since his arrival here. These suggestions concerned the attitude of Washington toward the new Congress, which is to convene on Saturday. In spite of what certain papers have said insidiously to the contrary, Mr. Lind was in Mexico City without coming in contact with official circles, and he has returned without having held a conference with a single Mexican official. As for Mexican relations with the United States, these have not changed in the slightest, and therefore the public may rest completely tranquil. This is not a diplomatic excuse, but an expression of the most absolute truth.

BANDITS ROB TRAIN.

A band of sixty armed bandits held up a train on the Interoceanic Railway between Mexico City and Vera Cruz early yesterday morning, beat up some railway employees, robbed the passengers and trainmen and looted the express car, which contained such quantities of silver bullion that the bandits had to leave much of it behind. They got away with about $1,000,000 worth of bullion, money and valuables. The marauders disappeared after their exploits and have not been heard of since. Railway traffic was renewed after the short interruption. The million pesos recently offered by Gen. Prisciliano Cortes, Governor of the State of Yucatan, to the Federal government for the urgent needs of the central government is at the disposal of the treasurer-general of the republic at the vaults of the London and Mexico Bank in this capital. Gen. Cortes telegraphed yesterday to President Huerta that a branch of the London and Mexico Bank in Merida had received the million pesos to be shipped to this city at the order of Eugenio Paredes, general treasurer of the republic. The branch of the London bank in Merida yesterday informed headquarters here that the amount had been deposited in their bank. He yesterday informed the general treasurer that the money is at the disposal of the managers of several banks in the capital. After the meeting had discussed the monetary situation and the recent persistent demands upon the banks for specie it was decided to ask the government of the Federal District to punish severely any and all merchants discounting bills tendered to them in payment for merchandise.

WATCH DEPOSITORS.

By watching lines of those waiting to exchange bills for specie at the banks the managers were able to identify many of the persons who were carrying on discounting, and found that they were small retail merchants who made an additional profit from their business in this manner. The banks yesterday continued to exchange bills for silver, although they used their discretion. In limiting payments at the National Bank the system was adopted of paying only a certain percentage of the bills presented in silver. In a few instances where persons desiring bills changed wanted specie as the result of the general movement or for speculative purposes, paying tellers refused to give silver.

The official report of the several days' fighting sent by Gen. Mercado to Minister Blanquet is as follows:

"Chihuahua, Nov. 13.: To the Minister of War, Mexico City:

"I have the honor to report that 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon the enemy was dislodged by our brave troops from the last positions which they held to the south of this city. They were driven back toward Mapula, where, in the greatest confusion and disorder, those who were able entrained in their cars, and others on foot and on horse fled in terror in various directions toward Aldama, Santa Eulalia, and to the mountains. They abandoned a small amount of ammunition of war."

In his report, Gen. Mercado states that the losses suffered by the revolutionists during the attack numbered more than 800. Among the killed and wounded the Federals sustained the following losses: Four high officers, ten minor officers and 120 soldiers.

Among the killed and wounded one thing which is worthy of notice is the fact that all their bodies are well dressed and wear silk underwear. "I judge that this is the result of looting in Torreon," says Gen. Mercado. "From the battlefield itself and from the positions where they had entrenched themselves we have collected banners, in addition to others which were taken by members of our forces. These banners have ridiculous inscriptions and the names of the brigades of Urbina Villa, Herrera, Chao, Hernandez, Ortega and Rodriguez.

Expediency of Advising All Subjects to Leave Mexico City Is Under Consideration.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Nov 13. — The German government today considered the expediency of advising all German subjects resident in the interior of Mexico to remove to the coast towns for greater safety.

The German legation in Mexico City today again urgently advised the Germans residing in Torreon and Durango to leave those cities on account of the expected hostilities there. The Mexican diplomatic representatives have made financial and other arrangements for the purpose of assisting them to depart. All the warnings given earlier to the German residents, it is pointed out, proved fruitless, and only four left Torreon.

SAN DIEGO (Cal.) Nov. 13.—The armored cruiser South Dakota, which was to begin target practice off the Coronado Islands next Monday, received orders to await further word from the Navy Department before beginning the practice. This change of programme causes the belief that the South Dakota may be ordered to Mexican waters at any hour.

Orders have been issued to Lieut. Martin Metcalf, commanding the Pacific torpedo flotilla, now in Southern California waters, to have the vessels of his command ready for service on twelve hours' notice.

The destroyers are due to arrive here from San Pedro tomorrow, when they will fill their bunkers from the La Playa station.

English Author and Cambridge Economist Favors Interference in Mexican Affairs.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 13.—Touching upon the Mexican situation in an address advocating world peace, B. N. Langdon-Davies, English author and Cambridge economist, speaking before a university audience here today, advised intervention in Mexico, but not specifically by the United States.

With regard to the trouble in Mexico, Prof. Langdon-Davies said:

"You ask if I think there is no place in the world for force. Yes, there will be for a long time a place for force. There is room for a force which denies the right of any nation to cut its own throat, or the throats of other nations, and to destroy its natural resources. It is the right and the duty of some nation to interpose force in such a case.

"I believe that America, England and Germany control the destiny of the world," said the Cambridge economist, "because these nations believe in reason, not force."

Fears Wilson Can Find No One to Govern Mexico According to the President's Prescription.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The Daily Chronicle says it doubts whether any Mexican leader can administer the unruly and backward nation on the American prescription without American military occupation. The newspaper expresses the hope that there will be no American blockade of Mexican ports, and if there is that it will not continue longer than is necessary, owing to the large volume of British trade which it would suspend and which it might destroy.

According to the Daily Mail, the British government is exchanging views with the European powers regarding the American policy in Mexico.

Powers Standing Together for American Policy.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—United support from the great powers abroad for the American policy toward Mexico, shown in a variety of quiet diplomatic activities, gave President Wilson and Secretary Bryan confidence today that the elimination of Gen. Victoriano Huerta as provisional President of Mexico would soon be an accomplished fact.

That the financial blockade instituted by the United States had effectively tied the purse strings of Europe, that diplomatic pressure was being exerted on all sides at Mexico City, that close friends of Huerta were applying their influence and persistent reports saying Huerta had gone into mysterious seclusion, raised the hopes of the Washington government that definite progress toward solving the Mexican problem was being made.

An exchange of cablegrams with Ambassador Page, an agreement by Great Britain to leave the solution of the Mexican problem in the hands of the United States and an announcement that no moral or financial support would be granted by England to the Huerta regime, set forth in London press dispatches, created a favorable impression throughout official Washington.

It was felt that Great Britain, France, Germany and other nations now stood together in acquiescence to the plan of the United States for the elimination of Huerta.

President Wilson had prepared early today a statement of the situation outlining the communications presented by Charge O'Shaughnessy and John Lind, but within a few hours such favorable advices had been received as to cause the President to withhold the document from publication. He stuck it away in a drawer with many another summary of international affairs which it has been found unnecessary to make public.

WILSON OPTIMISTIC.

"There are elements in this case," said the President," which I cannot discuss at present, but which make it look to me very much more favorable."

The President spoke thus of the situation to a half hundred Washington correspondents at their semi-weekly conference. It was apparent that he felt decidedly encouraged by recent advices. The President is not usually quoted after these conferences, but today he permitted quotation to the extent of the single sentence. This he did to allay any tension that might have arisen in this country over the situation described in the dispatches from Mexico City. Asked about the word "favorable" he explained that he mean "favorable to a settlement."

The President gave no details to show upon what his optimism was based, but he made it clear that a primary condition of settlement was the ousting of Huerta and all those who stood for the kind of government he was conducting. It was evident that the President had received important dispatches, but he declined to say whether they were from Mexico City or Nogales, the Constitutionalist headquarters.

Later, however, it was learned that from other high officials the plan of financial isolation was bearing fruit and that the plan for Huerta's elimination was being acquiesced in by foreign governments, especially some of those which had previously recognized him and upon which he had come to rely for aid.

One of the important factors in the situation which caused Washington calmly to await developments was the report through authoritative channels that members of the Huerta official circle were divided, some of them urging his resignation to avoid international complications. They were reported to be using every effort to prevail upon him to make a formal announcement of retirement at a fixed date.

The situation has progressed to the point in the view of many officials where even a definite rejection of the American demands by Huerta would not alter his future materially. Confidence prevails that he is drifting into certain bankruptcy and can not resist much longer the pressure exerted against him.

MAY LIFT EMBARGO.

Another influence that is expected to contribute to Huerta's overthrow is the extension of moral support to the Constitutionalists. If pressed to the extremity, the American government will lift the embargo on arms to aid the Constitutionalists in composing the situation, but there still is a hopefulness among high officials that such a step will prove unnecessary.

The United States has offered no mediation to the Constitutionalists, but simply has endeavored to learn what protection would be promised to foreigners and their property and what would be the programme of action of the Constitutionalists if they were successful by arms.

The Washington government realizes that even if Huerta should announce his intention to retire, a competent machinery of government would have to be substituted, and that negotiations for an armistice and peace arrangements looking toward a fair and free election would have to be carefully worked out. The United States purposes to help in any way it can, affording a medium of communication between Nogales and Mexico City if desired, and otherwise contributing toward a peaceful solution.

For this reason the progress of William Bayard Hale's conferences with Gen. Carranza are regarded as an important phase of the American peace programme.

There is a feeling among administration officials that if the Constitutionalists were as sincere as they have been represented in their desire for the retsoration of constitutional government, little difficulty would be encountered in selecting a man acceptable to both sides for the Presidency ad interim, while further arrangements for an election are made.

To the foreign nations which have made inquiry as to what might follow if Huerta did relinquish power the Washington government has informally indicated this process of pacification.

The Izumo sails about November 20 for Manzanillo or Salina Cruz by way of Honolulu.

BRITAIN POSTED ON MEXICO.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Nov. 13. — The British government is being kept informed of every move made by the United States government in regard to Mexico, both through the British Embassy at Washington and through Walter H. Page, the United States Ambassador here. Ambassador Page received another long message from the State Department at Washington today and immediately paid a visit to Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary. They remained in conference for some time.

These visits and the cablegrams from Washington are believed to be the result of an understanding between Great Britain and the United States that neither shall do anything regarding Mexico without informing the other. As far as Great Britain is concerned, however, she has agreed to leave matters in the hands of the United States on the understanding that the government at Washington will do its best to protect the lives and property of British subjects in Mexico.

Great Britain would like to see the Mexican difficulty settled without recourse to arms, but, should such a solution be decided upon, Great Britain will offer no objection. It was hoped that the announcement that Gen. Huerta would expect no support should be followed by a likewise announcement from England would induce him to step aside in favor of a man more acceptable to the government at Washington.

A FEW FIGURES

Which Demonstrate The Superiority of The Times As An Advertising Medium More Eloquently Than It Can Be Portrayed in Words.

The best criterion of the publicity value of a newspaper is the extent to which its columns are used. About this, there can be no doubt. It is indisputable.

Month after month, year in and year out, The Times prints more advertising than any other newspaper in the world, and leaves its struggling local rivals far in the rear.

The following is the record of each newspaper in Los Angeles for the month of October:

ADVERTISING RECORD FOR OCTOBER, 1913.

Third Morning Newspaper (The Penny Piker)	581,100
First Evening Newspaper	802,800
Second Evening Newspaper	728,100
Third Evening Newspaper	295,200

During the month named, The Times printed more separate classified advertisements than the other two local morning newspapers combined, and 5093 more than it printed during the same month of last year.

sion in the hands of Filipinos, the only check, since the forming of the assembly, that the American government has had in the islands.

They point to the fact that during the almost fifteen years Republicans have been in control there were a large number of Democrats holding office in various branches of the government, from those of the smaller executive positions to that of Justices of the Supreme Court, but that with the coming of the Democrats into national control all Republicans are being turned out of office to make room for Democrats, who know nothing of the country or problems and who have never seen the islands.

ASKED TO RECONSIDER.

In two instances officers who tendered their resignations were asked to reconsider from Washington. These two were Frank W. Carpenter, executive secretary of the islands and the man who is in closer touch with Filipino officials than any man who has ever been there, and Dr. Victor Heiser, director of the Bureau of Health, who has been in control of health conditions since 1902 and who has made Manila one of the cleanest cities in the world in place of the pest hole of Spanish times. He also established the leper colony on one of the Cuyo Islands, a model for the world, and where the people elect their own officials and govern themselves.

Both of these officials tendered their resignations as soon as the changed policy was announced from Washington, but, upon urgent request, were prevailed upon to reconsider for a time at least.

Gov.-Gen. Harrison, it is said, by these returned Philippine residents, pays no attention to the ideas of the Americans there who have spent years studying Philippine problems. He defers only to the Filipino officials.

An instance of his attitude was the treatment of Vice-Gov. Newton Gilbert, acting Governor-General, upon his arrival, and who has been in the islands for many years. It is reported that the acting Governor-General sent a wireless to Harrison that he would meet him when the ship arrived and accompany him to the stand where the official exercises were to take place, and that Mrs. Harrison could go with Mrs. Gilbert. In reply, he received word that "Mrs. Harrison will be with me and Commissioner Manuel Quezon will accompany me," the official head of the government not being recognized at all.

Then, another thing about the arrival of the new Governor which started a rather large tempest, was his information, sent in from the steamer while still three days from port, that he would come ashore dressed in a cutaway coat and silk hat for the ceremonies.

As official functions among the Americans in the islands are generally gone through with during the day in spotless white duck and straw hats, or even with helmets, this order for those officials ashore to follow the new chief executive in costume created a panic. Old coats were dug out of the bottom of trunks and chests, and hats that had been used only for masquerades were pressed into service for the occasion.

HARRISON UNPOPULAR.

Harrison and his private secretary, Gerald B. Seldomridge, fell out within a short time after their arrival in the islands, and the latter arrived back on the transport yesterday after being in Manila but ten days.

That Harrison does not intend to recognize any of the officials who were there when he arrived has been mentioned several times in Manila dispatches, and another instance of this standing-off from the previous administration occurred at a farewell reception given at the girls' dormitory of the Normal School in Manila, October 14. At that time teachers, pupils and hundreds of persons interested in education in the Philippines attended the reception to Vice-Governor and Mrs. Gilbert, but the new Governor-General and his wife failed to make any appearance or send any word that they would not be present, although they were expected.

Commissioner Dean C. Worcester, who has had charge of the wild tribes of the islands, numbering 8,000,000 people, is also leaving the islands. His record has been a remarkable one. He first went to the islands long before American occupation and studied conditions under Spanish rule.

With the coming of the Americans he went back and has been the "white father" to the hillmen for nearly two decades. He has brought the wild tribesmen, non-Christians, from a state of complete savagery a long way on the road to civilization, and his remarks upon the attitude of the present administration are caustic in the extreme.

VIEWS OF WORCESTER.

In a speech in Manila on the eve of his departure to the United States he said: "The slump in real estate values and custom receipts, and the withdrawal of funds about to be invested in Philippine commercial enterprises, which so promptly followed Mr. Wilson's expression of hope that the frontiers of the United States might soon be contracted, conclusively demonstrated your opinion as to what would happen under Filipino rule.

"Let no man think that I am either harsh or extravagant in my characterization of the conditions which prevailed under Filipino rule. While other men have been talking about making experiments in government here, as if there had thus far been none worth mentioning, I have devoted myself to a prolonged study of those already made, spending most of my time for the past six months in a careful reading of the records of the insurgent government.

"The real question is, shall they (the Filipinos) make their long and adventurous journey guided, helped and protected by the strong and kindly hand of the United States of America, or shall they be left to stagger along alone, blind in their own conceit, under the keen and watchful eye of another powerful nation, hungrily awaiting their first misstep?"

The attitude of those already having money invested in large enterprises in the islands is exemplified, according to word brought by the Thomas, by the Havemeyer interests, who had taken up government land to go into the production of sugar extensively. They have discharged all their men, their plants and development work are abandoned and they are trying to sell out their interests for a small portion of what they have invested to the Japanese, who are large sugar growers in Formosa.

GRAFT EVIDENCE STRONGEST YET.

Whitman Expects to Indict Tammany Politicians.

Norman E. Mack to Be Called in John Doe Inquiry.

Gov. Glynn May Also Order Special Term of Court.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—It was learned tonight that in following the trail to Buffalo, Mr. Whitman will send to that city an assistant to be present at the trial of the $100,000 suit for alleged libel brought by William J. Conners against a magazine. The article which Mr. Conners charges contained a libel was published in 1908, prior to the dates of alleged grafting mentioned by John A. Hennessy, but Mr. Whitman hopes nevertheless that evidence relevant to the John Doe investigation will be brought out.

George H. McGuire, the Syracuse bonding agent, was still in such a nervous state today as a result of his ordeal on the witness stand on Tuesday that he was unable to resume his testimony this afternoon. Dist.-Atty. Whitman said McGuire's testimony was essential before proceeding further, and the hearing was postponed until next week.

A rumor was current that Gov. Glynn would order convened a special term of the Supreme Court in New York county to follow the John Doe revelations.

John K. Clark, an assistant District Attorney, returned today from Oswego and reported to his office that he had obtained sufficient evidence to warrant indictment for extortion of one alleged Tammany "bag man."

The evidence unearthed today by Mr. Whitman's investigators was the strongest that has yet come to light and in the opinion of those close to the situation, will form the basis for numerous indictments. George H. McGuire, the Syracuse bonding agent, has assured the District Attorney's office that he will make a clean breast of all he knows in connection with the extortion of money by politicians from contractors. In the opinion of the District Attorney, McGuire knows enough to warrant the indictment of half a dozen men or more.

Already subpoenas are being prepared for several political leaders. Among the number, Mr. Whitman announced, was William Conners of Buffalo. Mr. Whitman also announced that he would investigate charges made in Buffalo by John A. Hennessy, William Sulzer's investigator of graft, against Norman E. Mack.

Mr. Hennessy said this afternoon that he had given the District Attorney the names of 300 contractors who said they had yielded to the extortions of grafting politicians.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOWLING GREEN (Ky.) Nov. 13.—Indictments charging the unlawful use of money in recent elections in this county were returned today by the Warren county grand jury against six prominent politicians, including three successful candidates for county offices and indictments charging vote-selling were returned against fifteen persons.

Indictments were returned against Duncan Milliken, Democratic nominee for County Attorney, Elvis C. Smith, County Clerk-elect; Lon Jackson, County Assessor-elect; Youree Patterson, defeated candidate for County Clerk; James Tucker, defeated candidate for Sheriff, and James L. Jenkins, one of the city's wealthiest citizens.

DEFINES "MIXED BLOOD."

U. S. Court Decision Will Put an End to Suits Involving Sales of Indian Land.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Nov. 13.—A decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today that any Indian having "an indefinable mixture" of white blood is a "mixed blood," and hence entitled to sell his allotment of Indian land, it is believed, will put an end to many government suits to annul such sales on the ground that the grantors are "full bloods" and incapable of conveying land.

More than 1200 suits involving titles to White Earth lands are pending, and it is expected that in a majority of the cases the grantors are mixed bloods in the Circuit Court's interpretation of the law.

The decision reverses a holding of Judge Page Morris of the Federal District Court that an Indian with only one thirty-second or one-sixteenth of white blood is a full blood.

The final meeting was spent in making a division of the $2,400,000 in appropriations among the only districts of the foreign fields.

The board authorized the payment of a debt of $69,000 on the Methodist Church in Rome.

WILSON FILLS SEVEN OFFICES.

Los Angeles Postmastership Next on the Docket.

Fight Is Now Between Spellacy and Rinehart.

President Wants to Name a Good Business Man.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Seven California postmasters were nominated today by President Wilson, and Postmaster-General Burleson conferred with the President about others to be named soon, but the big fight is over the Los Angeles postoffice, and the Postmaster-General has declared to California callers that the most careful consideration was to be given to that office. He has announced that the candidate selected must be a good business man, because the Los Angeles office is one of the most important in the country. Furthermore, no reactionary will be appointed.

At the present time the fight seems to be between Spellacy and Rinehart, and word has been received that the latter has started for Washington to push his claims. He is said to have boasted that he had been a Tammany man in New York and he has the support of eighteen out of the thirty-three members of the County Patronage Committee. Moreover, he is a Princeton man.

Isadore Dockweiler is expected tomorrow. He is one of the patronage committee and a Mesmer man, but whether his well-known friendship for Spellacy will make him an advocate of the latter is not known. The Democratic chiefs from California are urging Spellacy's selection, and on the whole, the fight promises to be a very pretty one. Tim Spellacy has gone to New York, en route to California, and J. O. Davis also leaves tonight for home.

The seven postmasters named today by President Wilson are as follows: George P. Dobyns, El Monte; William J. Sims, Gardena; H. L. Byers, Huntington Park; J. W. Heard, Oil Center; Duncan A. Gray, Soldiers' Home; Milton M. Pilkinton, Hermosa Beach, and Alfred Bellieu, Watts.

A Piano Factory Sells to You Direct

The whole plant at your disposal! Every upright, grand and player piano must go NOW at YOUR price!

The new plant of the Johnston Organ & Piano Company, at Van Nuys, is ready for occupancy. The machinery is ready to be set in motion. And as fast as we possibly can, we are moving our entire Los Angeles factory out to the new location, so that we may catch up with the thousands of dollars' worth of advance orders which we have on hand.

The pianos here in the factory, however, we will not move. We're going to sell them to you directly at our present factory, 700 Sichel St.

Piano Prices Have Struck Bottom. Act Quickly.

There is a real necessity back of this piano sale, a tremendous motive. To crate these pianos and ship them to our new factory at Van Nuys would entail an enormous expense. Rather than go to that expense, we have decided to sell them here and now for just about whatever they will bring. You have heard, perhaps of "factory-to-you" piano prices. But did you ever actually go directly to the plant and make your own selection from hundreds and hundreds of new designs and get a wholesale price on them? The figures we are quoting now on beautiful new Grands, Baby Grands, Uprights and Players, will make it absolutely impossible for any other store in Los Angeles to sell its instruments while this big sale lasts.

Every Piano Must Go at Once, Regardless of Cost.

We will make it an object to you to pay cash for these pianos, but if you are unable to do that, bring $50 and choose your instrument. If that is too much, bring $30, or bring $10 or bring $5. Every piano in this factory sale has got to go at once. If you are unable to pay any more, simply pay the cartage and take them away. Use them free for a couple of months. They must be sold at any sacrifice.

Make This Test.

See the best pianos to be bought elsewhere for $475. At this factory-to-you sale they are only $198. See the pianos for which some of your friends have had to pay $500 at other places, then come to the factory and find similar values here for only $276. See the beauties reduced to $312, $164, $348, $316, and plainer cases for still less. There never was such a cutting down of prices on such uniformly costly and most valuable pianos. Come now. You cannot buy a poor piano in this factory that offers only good ones. The nation's very proudest names, the most exclusive makes, the very best that money, no matter how much, can buy, are placed within easy reach of every home. And not only are the prices reduced, but payments are as low as $1.00 a week.

How to Get to the Big Sale.

Take the car, northbound, on Spring st., marked "North Main St." Get off at Sichel St. (It's only a ten-minute ride.) Walk one block South to the big Murray M. Harris factory, which we now occupy. Come today, while the choice of pianos is at its greatest.

For Alleged Intimidation of Working Miners in the Copper District One Hundred and Fifty Unionists Must Answer the Charge of Violating the Court's Injunction.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CALUMET (Mich.) Nov. 13.—The already large number of arrests for alleged violation of the injunction prohibiting intimidation of workmen in the copper strike district was increased this morning by 150. The militia made the arrests at the Isle Royale and Superior mines, where both strikers and women sympathizers have been unusually noisy during the past few days. Those arrested, including both men and women, were cited to appear before Circuit Judge O'Brien.

It was learned today that the mounted artillery on duty at Ahmeek has been supplied with rifles. Heretofore they have been armed only with pistols and riot sticks.

A shot was fired at a train bringing imported men to the Copper Range mines, but no one was hurt.

Governor Is Commended for Sending Militia.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Nov. 13.—After an all-day session during which both sides of the coal mine strike were presented to the editors of practically all the larger newspapers in Colorado, the newspaper men tonight adopted a resolution declaring the present strike should be called off immediately and that the union should give up its demand of recognition by the operators, that the union should abandon its claim for higher wages, and that the operators should guarantee the miners the unprejudiced right to join the union, trade at any store, have their own check weightmen, limit their labor to eight hours a day, and to the enforcement of all laws relating to the coal mine industry in this State.

Gov. Ammons is commended for sending troops to the strike zone.

The verdict came through an effort to place before the people of Colorado an unprejudiced and conservative statement of facts in connection with the strike. Editors from all parts of Colorado met to hear the facts presented by the parties concerned. The meeting was arranged by John C. Shaffer, editor of the Rocky Mountain News and Denver Times.

Representatives of the coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America addressed the conference. Gov. Ammons explained his efforts for peace.

ASKS FOR MORE MEN.

Los Angeles Collector Recommends Increase in His District on Account of Its Growing Importance.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Matters affecting the customs district of Los Angeles occupied the attention of Collector John B. Elliott, Secretary McAdoo and F. M. Halsted, Chief of the Customs Bureau, today.

Elliott represented that some of the men in his district are underpaid and while the department expects to have expenses reduced, he expects, by not filling one $400 place that is vacant, to be able to use the money in increasing some of the $3-a-day inspectors to $6. One $840 place now vacant will probably be filled.

The inspector at Long Beach, who is not under civil service, will be displaced by a civil service man at Avalon, to inspect the boats running between that place and the mainland.

Another non-civil service man at Santa Barbara will give place to a man from the civil service lists. The inspector at Avalon, who is receiving $1000 a year, will lose that emolument.

Elliott was made chairman at the New York conference of customs collectors of the commission on revision of salaries, with special reference to the inspectors. His recommendation to make the minimum salary $1000 a year, increasing it 4 per cent. a year for seventeen years, or until the sum of $1825 is received, was adopted.

Salaries at Los Angeles will be raised, and those at New York, Boston, and other eastern ports, where many men get $6 a day, will be reduced.

Because of the 200 miles of border in the Los Angeles district, and the activity in smuggling opium and tobacco, Elliott urged the need of a boat. The department is opposed to increasing the number of boats, and it will try to assign a revenue cutter permanently to Los Angeles, possibly one now watching the traffic of Chinese at Seattle.

The possibility of improving the service at San Diego was also discussed. With collections of $780,000 last year at an expense of $54,000, Elliott represented that the administration of the Los Angeles office was more economical than at Seattle, Portland, or almost any other office. With the prospective big increase in business, he urged the need of more money and men.

COMPANY IS PREPARED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HOUSTON (Tex.) Nov. 13.—General Manager W. G. Van Vleck announced tonight that the Sunset Central lines have available all the men necessary to replace the strikers.

Van Vleck said he expected service to be restored as rapidly as arrangements could be made to put new men to work.

Reports from various divisions over the system show the walk-out was general. Apparently arrangements for men have been made at Victoria, Tex., where cars have been fitted up as living quarters.

A dispatch from San Antonio reported the eastbound transcontinental passenger train as leaving that city at 10:30 o'clock tonight on time, with a crew made up of two assistant superintendents, a train dispatcher and strike breakers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—The Godchaux Planting Company, the largest producer of sugar in Louisiana, telegraphed President Wilson tonight asking that he use his good offices to have the Southern Pacific strike settled. The telegram points out that the cane-grinding season is at its height. Without railroad facilities it will be impossible to move the cane to the mills, and a great loss to the cane growers will result.

LIPTON'S OFFER IS REJECTED.

WASHINGTON'S ANCESTRAL HOME REMAINS IN ENGLAND.

Sir Thomas Plans to Buy Sulgrave Manor and Set It Up Again in the United States, but Centennial of Peace Commission Fails to Agree With Him.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Nov. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sir Thomas Lipton made an attempt recently to purchase Sulgrave Manor, the family home of George Washington's ancestors in England, with the intention of taking it apart and having it set up again, stone by stone, in the United States, as his gift.

Sir Thomas and an American friend were motoring through Northamptonshire when the American suggested they visit Sulgrave Manor. Sir Thomas fell in with the idea and the two spent all the rest of the day trying to find the place, but nobody seemed to have any idea of the location of Washington's ancestral home. The searchers finally ran into it accidentally. Sir Thomas Lipton was then struck with the idea of presenting it to America.

"I'll buy it," he said, "and have good workmen take it to pieces carefully, present it to the United States and have it rebuilt any place that may be selected, so that the original home of Washington's ancestors may be easily viewed by Americans. I shall send over workmen to erect it exactly as it stands now."

Sir Thomas opened negotiations and made an offer of $40,000 for the house, but omitted arranging with the Centennial of Peace Between England and the United States Commission, which rejected the plan without offering an explanation. Sulgrave Manor remains, therefore, in England, remote and almost inaccessible, perhaps, but on its own ground.

ALLIED SOCIETIES MEET.

Men Connected with Arts and Letters Will Present Gold Medal to Prominent Dramatist.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Members of the National Institute of Arts and Letters and the American Academy of Arts and Letters were welcomed tonight to their first annual meeting to be held in the West by the allied societies of artists of this city. A message from President Wilson expressed his regret at being unable to attend the meeting.

"It is of no small import to the country that such influences for upholding ideal standards of creative art should be encouraged," wrote the President. "The commerce and material development of the country are of deep consequence to it, but above all, must rise those objects in which we are interested. If those objects are disinterestedness our greatness will bear greater distinction and enjoy greater spiritual soundness and health."

A somewhat similar message was read from William Dean Howells, president of the academy.

The gold medal of the academy, which will be awarded to a dramatist this year, will be given Saturday to either Augustus Thomas or Percy Mackaye, it was unofficially made known today.

VICTORIA REACHES PORT.

Three Hundred Passengers Arrive in Seattle on Last Steamer to Leave Nome.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 13.—The steamship Victoria, the last liner to leave Bering Sea this year, arrived late tonight from Nome, Alaska, with 300 passengers. The Victoria left Nome November 6, the latest date any vessel has ever sailed from that port. The late sailing resulted from an extra voyage made by the Victoria to carry provisions to the sufferers from the storm which destroyed half of Nome early last month.

With the sailing of the Victoria from Nome, water communication between the Bering Sea metropolis and the outside world ended, navigation in Bering Sea being closed until next June.

First-class mail will be taken in by dog sled from Cordova, Alaska, during the winter.

Democrats Working Mo on Currency Bill.

Factions Obliged to Meet Separate Rooms.

President's Italian Hand by Committee.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The wings of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee worked rapidly today preparing separate currency measures to be presented in the Senate later Owen and the five other Democratic members of the committee have supported the administration struggled to reconcile their differences and agree on the bill which President wants. Senator Hitchcock and the five Republicans on the committee began perfecting a measure based on the amendments the committee had already adopted, but were obnoxious to the Democrats. When the committee met this morning, the administration Democrats paired to Senator Hitchcock's request ing Senator Hitchcock and the publicans in possession of the committee-room.

No programme has been adopted, but a joint meeting of the two wings probably will be held before an attempt will be made to agree on a course of action. The report that both wings signed a unanimous report on the undisputed points of the bill and submit dissenting reports on the fundamentals of it may be adopted. Senator Hitchcock said tonight that the Republican Senator Hitchcock had a conference days work before them, but the Democrats expressed the hope that they could conclude their task within a week.

The administration Democrats agreed today on the control of the regional reserve banks, one of the points which divided the committee. The administration is contending that the banks of the country should not control the regional banks. The Democrats have tentatively agreed to give the banks the opportunity to purchase the stock. When the question of allowing the banks to control the nine directors of each regional bank arose today, however, Senator Reed would not agree to the provisions of the bill, urging that the government should control the banks. The section and related matters were passed over until later.

The amendments which Senator Hitchcock and the Republicans will offer into the bill today include provisions for underwriting the stock of the regional banks by the national banks, but allowing the public to subscribe for the stock; providing for the election of four directors by the stockholders and five by the government; providing for regional bank directors; for the election of four regional bank directors; for a capital equal to 6 per cent of the capital of the national banks in the district served by the regional bank, and several minor changes.

Anti-Saloon League Convention at Columbus, O., Adopts Resolutions Attacking the Peaceful Methods for His Part in the Presidential Campaign of Blair Lea in Nebraska.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 13.—The convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America adopted a resolution today making a veiled attack on Secretary of State Bryan for his part in the recent Senatorial campaign in Nebraska. The resolution declares that several officers interfering in politics should consider the interests of moral guardians and protectors of the rum power through their influence to hold themselves responsible for the conduct of those over whom they have influence.

Members of the Resolutions committee said they had in mind Secretary Bryan's part in the campaign of Senator Lee as United States Senator from Maryland, when the resolutions were drawn.

The convention adopted a resolution favoring national prohibition through a Federal constitutional amendment and opposing the policy of licensing or taxing the liquor business. The resolutions also urged that such national laws be passed by the next Congress.

The convention closed with officers today and resolved to form a league to pursue their work in closer harmony with the national organization. The convention adjourned tonight but the executive committee will meet in conference with officers tomorrow.

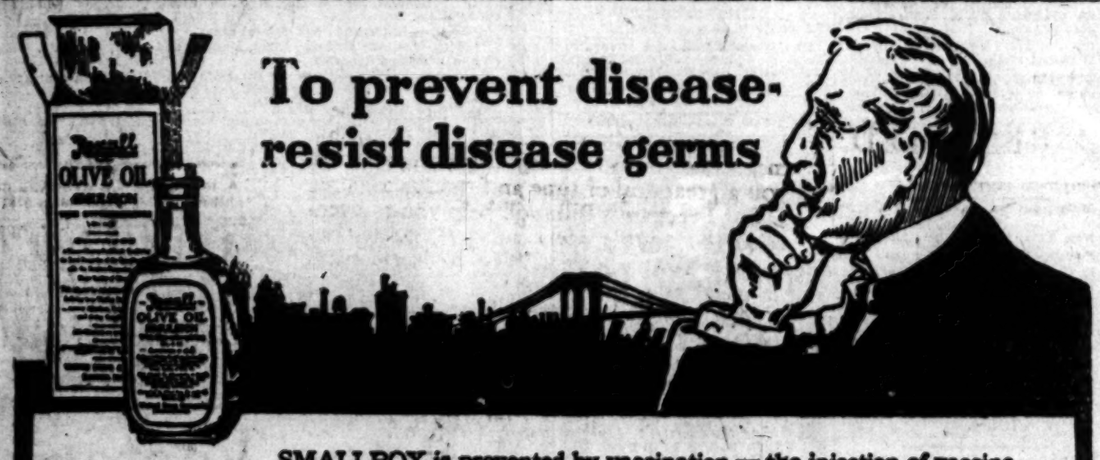
The executive committee will meet in conference with officers tomorrow. Definite programme for the campaign for Federal prohibition will be outlined. A delegation of 100 members will be named to wait upon President Wilson to present the petition for the prohibition amendment to the constitution.

Wilson.

Rev. Dr. Foster A. Reid of Columbus was elected national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League.

A suit asking that the Rev. Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts be restrained from soliciting funds in the name of the International Reform Bureau, a corporation of which he is president, was filed in the criminal court today by Attorney Hinson of St. Louis, who is also superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Missouri, by whom Crafts was employed as a field worker. The bill charges that Crafts, a resident of Asheville, N. C., solicited funds in Asheville, an anti-saloon stronghold, and that Rev. Robinson, a minister of Asheville, accused the police of that city of having attacked the prohibition officials.

Bishop Luther B. Wilson of New York was re-elected president of the Board of Trustees of the Anti-Saloon League. Richmond P. Hobson of Alabama and Foster Copeland of Pittsburg were elected vice presidents. Ernest H. Cherrington of Westerville, O., will take charge of the publicity department of the league.



To prevent disease resist disease germs

SMALLPOX is prevented by vaccination — the injection of vaccine.
DIPHTHERIA is prevented by the injection of anti-toxin.
These enable the body to produce substances which prevent the growth of smallpox and diphtheria germs in the blood.
There are many other diseases, nearly, if not quite as dangerous, and far more common — typhoid fever, the grippe, bronchitis, pneumonia, catarrh, rheumatism, and a score of others — that can be prevented less painfully and more easily by making the body strong to resist germ infection.

Rexall TRADE MARK

Olive Oil Emulsion

(With Hypophosphites)

Is designed for the prevention as well as the relief of disease — by enabling the body to overcome the germs. It, at the same time, strengthens and tones the nerves, nourishes the blood, puts the entire system into a proper healthy condition to combat and successfully resist disease.

Every person not in perfect health has incipient germs of some distressing ailment in his or her system.

Cold weather, over-work, excesses of any kind, are liable to bring about just the conditions under which those latent disease germs will get the upper hand, and put you on your back "down sick."

You who are run-down, tired-out, nervous—

You who, though not sick enough to give up, still don't feel good—

You who are apparently well, and want to stay well—

Take home a bottle of Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion today, and use it as a means to get well and keep well.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is a real nerve-food tonic.

In this it is different from most other so-called "tonics" which either have no food value and do nothing more than temporarily stimulate you, leaving you in a worse condition than before or, having food value, still are so unpleasant to take that many people can't keep them down.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is pleasant to take. The Hypophosphites it contains tone the nerves. The pure Olive Oil nourishes both nerves and blood

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion strengthens you, puts snap and ginger and vitality into your system. It makes you feel better and stronger. It improves your digestion and your bowel action.

It contains no alcohol nor any dangerous or habit forming drugs.

It is guaranteed to be just as represented above — to do all that is claimed above — to satisfy you in every way, or your money back without quibble or question.

Enough for full two weeks' treatment, $1.00.

RADIUM NEEDED IN CANCER TEST.

SCARCITY OF MINERAL HAS RETARDED RESEARCH.

Congress of Surgeons in Chicago Decides that Best Treatment So Far Known Is Early Operation and Are Striving to Impress Public With that Fact.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Scarcity of radium has prevented a thorough test of what its curative properties may be in cancer, according to the report to the clinical congress of surgeons in session here by the cancer campaign committee.

The committee organized to combat cancer by spreading information leading to early treatment of the disease as soon as it manifests itself, reported on the educational campaign of the past year, carried on by the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

"Only time will ... what percentage of cases can be cured with radium," the report states. "In the meantime the public should be informed through every possible source that early surgical treatment offers the best chance for cure. The surgeons who have reported the best results from radium still urge early operation whenever possible.

"Few surgeons in this country have enough radium to give it a thorough test. It has appeared that extensive doses have sometimes cured when smaller amounts have little effect. It is suggested that radium should be standardized to eliminate variations in its strength."

Popular articles in magazines, publicity through newspapers, lectures before women's clubs, in factories and elsewhere, have been effective throughout the year in spreading information on cancer.

Present death statistics on the scourge are of questionable value, it was said. Frederick T. Hoffman of Newark, N. J., declared that discussion of whether cancer is on the increase was merely guesswork.

"Seventy-five thousand persons in the United States will die of cancer in 1913," said Mr. Hoffman. "The rate is 8.96 per cent. of the total mortality for persons over 45. However, statistics may reflect merely better diagnosis and death registration and it is not worth while arguing if cancer is on the increase until we have a complete and accurate report."

"Importance of early diagnosis and surgical treatment was unanimously urged by the delegates in resolutions adopting the report. No other procedure offers hope at present, it was declared.

Fellowships were conferred tonight on 1050 of the leading surgeons of the United States at the opening of the American College of Surgeons. The surgeons were dressed in robes of scarlet and blue. They made an impressive appearance as they appeared before President J. M. T. Finney of Baltimore and received their degrees.

BRITONS' FELICITATIONS.

Sir Rickman J. Godolee of London, president of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, clad in the regalia of his office, extended felicitations of the English society. A reception of fellows and guests by Sir Rickman and officers of the college followed the ceremony.

The object of the American college is to raise the standard of surgery in America. The establishment of a course in surgery in American medical universities and legislation requiring medical men to take this course before they can be licensed to practice, will be sought. Each of the fellows signed the following pledge:

"Recognizing that the American College of Surgeons seeks to exemplify, enforce and develop the highest traditions of our calling, I hereby pledge myself, as a condition of fellowship of the college, to live in strict accordance with its principles, declarations and conditions."

"In particular, I pledge myself to pursue the practice of surgery with thorough self-restraint and to place the welfare of my patients above all else; to advance constantly in knowledge by study of surgical literature, the instruction of eminent teachers, interchange of opinion among associates and attendance of the important societies and clinics; to regard scrupulously the interests of my professional brothers and seek their counsel when in doubt of my own judgment; to render willing help to my colleagues and give freely my services to the needy.

"I pledge myself to avoid the sins of selfishness; to avoid unwarranted publicity, dishonest money seeking and commercialism, as disgraceful to our profession, to refuse utterly all secret money trades with consultants and practitioners; to teach the patient his financial duty to his physician, and to urge the practitioner to obtain his reward from the patient openly; to make my fees commensurate with services rendered and with the patient's rights; and to avoid discrediting my associates by taking unwarranted compensation."

Keeps complexions clear and healthy

WHEN you wash your face do you realize that it is not enough to remove the dirt—that your skin needs a soothing, healing influence to keep your complexion fresh and free from blemish?

¶ Ordinary toilet soaps do not assert this influence. Many of them contain free alkali which tends to dry the skin and destroy its delicate texture. Even the best of such soaps can only clean, they cannot heal and protect the skin. Resinol Soap, besides being an absolutely pure toilet soap, contains the same soothing, healing, antiseptic balsams as Resinol Ointment, the value of which in the treatment of skin affections is known throughout the medical profession.

¶ That is why Resinol Soap does for the skin what cosmetics are supposed to do—it insures not only a clean skin, but a healthy skin, and a fair, clear complexion.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are sold by all druggists. For free trial, write to Dept. 12-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

M'MANIGAL IN DETROIT FOR ENGLAND, REPORTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DETROIT (Mich.) Nov. 13.—Ortie E. McManigal, dynamiter, whose confession aided in sending the McNamara brothers to San Quentin prison and thirty-three other union-labor officials to Leavenworth penitentiary, was in Detroit, Wednesday or Thursday of this week, according to a story which will appear in the Detroit Free Press tomorrow morning. McManigal was released from the County Jail at Los Angeles, November 3.

McManigal was accompanied, it is said, by Detective Malcolm McLaren, who arrested the dynamiters in this city three years ago. On a train running between Detroit and Buffalo, it is said, McManigal and McLaren were joined by Detective Burns and the three men held a conference regarding McManigal's future movements. It is understood McManigal intended to cross the Canadian border at Buffalo and that his ultimate destination is London, Eng.

MEMBERS SUSPEND CHINESE PARLIAMENT.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PEKING, Nov. 13.—The Chinese Parliament was suspended today by a decision of the joint session of the remaining members of the two houses. It had been announced some days ago by officials that President Yuan Shi Kai intended to substitute for the Parliament an "administrative council" of seventy-one members, composed of Cabinet officers and others appointed by the President. Yuan considered the Parliament unwieldy. Previous to this, 300 members of the democratic party, formerly led by Dr. Sun Yat Sen, had been expelled from Peking, and neither House had been able to form a quorum.

HUERTA ON VISIT TO A SUBURB.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 13. — The statement made by the Minister of Finance Wednesday night that he had been unable to present Mr. Lind's message to Gen. Huerta was verified today. The provisional President had gone on a visit to a suburb without the formality of notifying his personal friends or official associates. It was not until a very late hour last night that those entrusted with the task of giving him Mr. Lind's message were able to locate him.

The announcement today of Mr. Lind's departure from the capital and circumstances attending excited only casual comment. A number of Americans left for Vera Cruz, but the capital as a whole lost none of its accustomed calm.

Considerable anxiety was evident at the American Embassy throughout the day, but the President of Mexico was apparently unruffled. Charge O'Shaughnessy said that he had received a communication from Secretary Bryan, but was non-committal on its character.

SAYS GEN. DIAZ WILL RETURN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Gen. J. Santos Zelaya, former President of Nicaragua, tonight attributed the rumors that he was under surveillance by the government to his enemies, of whom, he said, he had many in this city. He reiterated that he had experienced no difficulty in entering the port of New York and declared he had no intention of returning to Nicaragua or engaging again in Central American politics.

Gen. Zelaya said yesterday he met Gen. Porfirio Diaz, former President of Mexico, in France, recently, and that Gen. Diaz had said he had every intention of returning to Mexico in the near future, but that he would reside there quietly in the event of his being allowed to return. He quoted Gen. Diaz as saying:

"I am a Mexican above everything, and I intend to be buried in my own country."

For INDIGESTION

It is so much wiser to take the proper remedy than to let the trouble continue, that you ought to act without delay.

Indigestion robs you of your strength, of your sleep, of your power to work or to enjoy the natural pleasures of life. If it lasts—if your food is not permitted to nourish you—serious sickness is almost certain to follow. This may cause you more intense suffering and cost you a great deal of time and money to cure.

But Beecham's Pills will help you to overcome the trouble safely, surely, quickly, before harm is done. This great world-remedy is famous for the lasting good it does as well as for its immediate tonic effect upon the stomach and other organs of digestion.

BILIOUSNESS is a common form of Indigestion.

It shows that poisons are being formed in the intestinal tract. Headaches, poor appetite, restless nights, bad dreams, sour taste, coated tongue, sallow skin, nervousness are among the symptoms of Biliousness. HOLLINS FIRM GOES TO WALL.

Banking and Brokerage-house in New York Closed.

Withdrawal of Deposits Is Blamed for the Crash.

Estimated Liabilities Much Over Its Assets.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The failure of H. B. Hollins & Company, an old-established banking and brokerage house, with international connections, was announced simultaneously today on the stock exchange and in the United States District Court. An involuntary petition in bankruptcy against the firm had been filed in the court. Liabilities are estimated at $5,000,000 with assets, largely bank loans, of from $2,500,000 to $3,000,000.

The firm was established over twenty years ago, but recently underwent several changes in personnel. Harry B. Hollins, the senior member, was a business associate of the late J. P. Morgan. William K. Vanderbilt also was at one time identified with the firm. Mr. Hollins's partners include Briton N. Busch, the board member, and Walter Kutzleb, for some years the manager in this country of the Russo-Chinese Bank.

According to the firm's lawyers, the failure was precipitated by the withdrawal of several large deposits.

MEXICAN INTERESTS.

At one time Hollins & Company had extensive interests in Mexico and represented in this country the National Bank of Mexico and the International Mortgage Bank of Mexico City.

The difficulties of the firm are believed to date back to the panic of 1907, at which time they were burdened with a number of unprofitable properties. On the stock exchange it was understood the firm had closed out its few mining contracts or commitments a few days ago.

CREDITOR BANKS.

Its principal creditors were the Hanover National and the Bank of the Manhattan Company. These institutions are said to be fully insured as also are some other banks that are supposed to have made loans to the insolvent firm. All told the firm's bank loans are said to aggregate between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000.

Harry B. Hollins is a director in numerous financial and industrial corporations and is prominent in social circles. His town house was recently leased for the season by Vincent Astor.

Beekman, Penken and Griscom, attorneys for the suspended firm, issued the following statement:

"The failure was due to the withdrawal of large deposits, thus greatly reducing the firm's working capital, which is largely invested in securities which could not be readily sold in the present market."

According to Wall-street gossip the firm was hard hit by the panic of 1907. Rumors were current at that time that J. P. Morgan, Mr. Hollins's close friend, came to its aid and prevented its suspension then. It has been frequently reported since that William K. Vanderbilt gave the firm financial help from time to time.

MEMBERS OF FIRM.

A revised list of the firm's members, made public this afternoon, is as follows:

Harry B. Hollins, Bernard J. Burke, Briton N. Busch, Anthony H. Walkburg, John A. Aull and Walter Kutzleb.

Kutzleb was for years the American representative of the Russo-Chinese Bank. Aull is a brother of Mrs. Paul Borg, and Walkburg is her nephew. Harry B. Hollins is a director in the following corporations, according to the directory of directors.

Central Union Gas Company, Northern Union Gas Company, Corporation Trust Company, Equitable Trust Company, Havana Tobacco Company, International Steam Pump Company, Publishers Paper Company, Vacuum Cleaner Company, and the Long Island Motor Parkway.

The firm was at one time heavily interested in the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton and the Pere Marquette railroad companies, both of which reorganized several years ago. It was understood that the Hollins's obligations in these two properties were taken over by J. P. Morgan & Company. The firm's Mexican interests, it was said, contributed to but was not necessarily responsible for the failure.

MITCHEL AS A BOXER.

New York Mayor Says This Was Largest Item of Expense in Recent Campaign.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Two hundred and seventy dollars for boxing lessons and a course in physical training is the largest item of expense contained in the campaign expense account of Mayor-elect John Purroy Mitchel, which was filed today. According to the memorandum covering this item—which incidentally does not state why Mr. Mitchel thought it necessary to learn how to box—the money was spent during the campaign between September 16 and November 4, and all the lessons were taken at Mr. Mitchel's home at the rate of three or more a week.

"FOOD TRUST" SUIT SEQUED.

Federal Grand Jury at Chicago Starts to Investigate the Quaker Oats Company.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The Federal grand jury begun today an investigation of the affairs of the Quaker Oats Company. It was said in the District Attorney's office this was a sequel to the government's civil suit for the dissolution of the so-called breakfast-food trust, which was filed last June.

In this suit, the government charged that the Quaker Oats Company, after absorbing the Great Western Cereal Company, controlled 90 per cent. of the oatmeal and by-products trade of the country. The company operates large plants at Decatur, Ill., and Ft. Dodge, Iowa.

EXPLOSION KILLS THREE.

TERRE HAUTE (Ind.) Nov. 13.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Three men are dead today, the result of an explosion last night in the Higgins Martin coal mine at Mine Ridge. Samuel Stuthard and William Purcell, shot firers, were suffocated, and Henry Poff, engineer, died from heart failure brought on by the excitement.

He said he had missed several trains. He expressed the hope that he would be able to fulfill his obligations to the sailors.

A large number of the American sailors are now here. Twenty-eight will be received by the Pope tomorrow.

"OF RICHMOND, IND."

Who? Nobody But William Dudley Foulke Elected President of the Municipal League Again.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TORONTO (Ont.) Nov. 13.—William Dudley Foulke of Richmond, Ind., was today re-elected president of the National Municipal League. George Burnham of Philadelphia was re-elected treasurer and C. R. Woodruff of Philadelphia, secretary. John Stewart Bryan of Richmond, Va., was added to the list of vice-presidents and the following new members were placed on the Executive Committee:

Mrs. P. Bancroft, San Francisco; J. A. Gaight, Seattle; H. Strong, Minneapolis; G. B. Ward, Birmingham, Ala.

"The City Manager" plan of municipal government was indorsed by the special committee appointed to study commission government and its departments. Commission government at present rules more than 7,000,000 persons in 300 cities and towns. The supporters of the plan are divided as to whether commissioners be elected for specific posts, or on a general ticket with power to divide the departments among themselves.

GAS ON THE STOMACH

Use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for This Form of Indigestion.

It is a poor treatment for stomach trouble that treats the stomach alone. Back of all your lack of appetite, sourness of stomach, belching of gas, nausea, pains after eating, heaviness and lump-like feeling in the stomach, is bad blood. The food is fermenting in the stomach, only partly digested, because the stomach is weak.

Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and notice the difference in your condition. You will be able to eat three good meals a day without discomfort.

The new blood, which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make, will restore the stomach to its normal condition, positively strengthen the digestive organs and increase the flow of digestive fluids.

You will also find a great improvement in your general health, and new strength in every nerve and muscle.

Do not put off finding relief a single day. Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today and begin the treatment at once.

STENOGRAPHERS ARE USED FOR COMPANY'S OFFICIALS.

Counsel for Telephone Corporation Tells the Government Attorney at Denver How Employees Acted as Directors of a Concern Which Bought Numerous Western Lines.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) Nov. 13.—Three stenographers, two of them girls, employed in the offices of the Mountain States Telegraph and Telephone Company, here, were the officers and directors of the Corporation Securities Company, a $50,000 corporation which borrowed millions of dollars and bought up numerous telephone lines in the West, according to the admission made by Milton Smith, counsel for the Mountain States Company, in a hearing today before C. J. Smyth, assistant to the Attorney-General of the United States. Smyth is taking testimony for use in the government's suit to break the alleged telephone monopoly of the Bell corporations.

It is charged by the government that the Corporation Securities Company was organized by the Mountain States as a means of acquiring the stock of the Interstate Consolidated Telephone Company of Portland, and its subsidiary companies in Washington, Montana, Idaho, and other Western States.

It is alleged that the Corporation Securities Company paid $2,660,875 for the stock of the Portland concern, borrowing the money from the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company.

CONFAB AT WASHINGTON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Theodore N. Vail and E. C. Kingsbury of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company conferred today with Attys.-Gen. McReynolds. The Department of Justice has been for some time observing the operation of the company and its relations to the Sherman law. McReynolds said he talked with the officials about the government's litigation against its Pacific Coast companies and about the telephone business in general. He said he had not discussed acquisition by the government of telephone and telegraph lines.

GREEK'S DEATH A MYSTERY.

Chicagoan Who Fought in Recent Balkan War Found Shot in His Candy Store.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—James Tearas Charapolis, a former captain in the Greek army, who fought through the Balkan War, was found shot to death in his private office in the rear of his confectionery store, here today. A revolver was found on a table. A note, stating that the writer's father in Greece would pay his debts and declaring that he was about to take his life, also was found in the room.

Police are investigating the death to determine if it was a case of suicide or murder. Pictures were thrown from the walls and other evidences of a struggle were found. Two chambers of the revolver had been discharged, but only one wound was found on the body of Capt. Charapolis.

Many Recoveries From Lung Trouble

A medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles which has been thoroughly tested for many years, and which has been instrumental in restoring complete health to a large number of sufferers, should be thoroughly investigated by every one. While no undue claims are made for it, nor any guarantee that its use will restore health, Eckman's Alterative has been given the full credit in saving lives in many cases. Read this case:—

Wilmington, Del.

"Gentlemen:—In January, 1908, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs. My physician, one of the leading practitioners of Wilmington, Del., said that it was lung trouble. I took eggs and milk in quantities, but I got very weak. Mr. C. A. Lippincott, of Lippincott & Co., Department Store, 306 to 314 Market street, Wilmington, Del., recommended to me Eckman's Alterative that had done great good, and upon his suggestion I began taking it at once. This was about June, 1908. I continued faithfully, using no other remedy, and finally noticed the clearing of the lungs. I now have no trouble with my lungs. I firmly believe Eckman's Alterative saved my life."

(Affidavit.) JAS. SQUIRES.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Sold by The Owl Drug Co. and leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

Rear-Admiral T. S. Phelps Jr. Tells How He Was Restored to Health

Retired Naval Officer Ends Severe Rheumatic Attacks with Akoz.

T. S. PHELPS, JR.
Rear-Admiral U. S. N., Retired.

Rear-Admiral T. S. Phelps, Jr., U. S. Navy, retired, whose home is now in Oakland, has met with such success in freeing himself from rheumatic pains with Akoz, the new medicinal mineral, that he states it as his firm belief that this remedy will permanently cure any case of rheumatism.

"I was a sufferer with rheumatism for eight years, with occasional severe attacks that would confine me to bed for a month or six weeks at a time," said Admiral Phelps. "My hands, knees and ankles would swell so that I had to have a nurse to care for me.

"I was under the care of physicians and tried numerous remedies, but received nothing more than temporary relief until about two years ago, when I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. John D. Mackenzie, who advised me to try Akoz.

"I tried this remedy both externally and internally for about two weeks and received marked beneficial effects. I persisted in the use of the remedy and have never since had a severe attack of rheumatism. I consider that this remedy has benefited me more and to a more lasting extent than all the drugs I had previously taken.

"I can cheerfully state it to be my firm belief that if this medicine is taken faithfully and conscientiously it will permanently cure any case of rheumatism."

Akoz has also proved equally effective for catarrh, eczema, ulcers, piles and stomach, liver and kidney troubles. It is sold at all Owl Drug stores, where further information may be had regarding this advertisement.

ECZEMA ON SCALP ITCHED AND BURNED

Would Fester and Come to Head. Could Not Sleep. Hair Fell Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in Two Weeks.

R. F. D. No. 2, Seymour, Mo. — "My scalp broke out with fine pimples at the start. They itched and burned so much that I was compelled to scratch them and they would fester and come to a head and break out again. The trouble was attended by such burning and itching I could not sleep, also when I sweat it burned the same. My hair fell out gradually and the scalp kept rough and dry with itching and burning. After about two years the pimples broke out between my shoulders. My clothing irritated them. I was troubled with that eczema five or six years.

"I tried everything that was recommended without any benefit until I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment according to directions, and Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me sound and well in two weeks." (Signed) S. L. Killian, Nov. 22, 1912.

For pimples and blackheads the following is a most effective and economical treatment: Gently smear the affected parts with Cuticura Ointment, on the end of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cuticura Ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue bathing for some minutes. This treatment is best on rising and retiring. At other times use Cuticura Soap freely for the toilet and bath, to assist in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores. Sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

A "Thanksgiving" Turkey

is, of course, a play on words. This turkey would have been a regular Thanksgiving turkey had it not been for the timely meeting of the barb-wire fence and the boy's coat tail. Mr. Leslie Thrasher, the artist, cleverly depicts the boy's annoyance and the almost cackling relief of the escaping turkey. The picture is full of action and above the ordinary.

Without Benefit of Clergy

By E. E. Rittenhouse

Equitable Conservation Commissioner.

Do you know where there are 17,000,000 unmarried men and women in the United States? Statistics show that the greater number of these people are physically and mentally qualified to marry. Why should they be refused to do so? There are thousands of men and women unmatched who would make ideal husbands and wives, but through lack of opportunity, or propriquity, find themselves drifting along. "Married men are better risks than bachelors," says Mr. Rittenhouse, "because they have each of them been sized up by a woman, who is harder to fool than a doctor." Read this article—there are some enlightening statements in it.

Money-making and love-making go on powerfully during the interest and imagination of men and women did as they did before the fall of the tariff, and trust as they before the fall of man. But it takes a master of the short story, like Peter B. Kyne, to give a new turn and a fresh interest to the subject. Reuben K. Pinole, in the first story of a series by Mr. Kyne recording his love in love and lumber, bucks the business game because he needs money to deposit, together with his heart, of No. 3 feet of Miss Natalie McQueen. He starts in by ing $43.10 grow to look like $7000 in short order, well, the story is an inspiration to those who want know how A1 little wives and A1 big credits are bustling U.S.A.

The Golden Chimera—

Article.

By Edgar Saltus

Getting rich quick—or trying to do so—is not a modern passion, but is as old as greed and ancient as gold itself, says Edgar Saltus in an essay that sparkles and scintillates with wit and wisdom. Monarchs once lived, compared with whom Midas was a pauper. One of them, Amenhotep III., is disclosed by recent excavations in Egypt as having amassed treasures amounting to eighty-four thousand millions of our money. Fascinating subject, isn't it? So is the article.

Now and then the Semi-Monthly Magazine finds a writer with real magic in it—and hastens to publish it. "Reunion," by Lillian Bennet-Thompson, in the next issue, is an instance; and not so serious, but delightfully natural is "Reassurance," by Madeline Bridges.

FOR EXCHANGE—

2250 acres silt edge alfalfa and deciduous fruit lands located in the heart of the San Joaquin Valley, on the Southern Pacific Railway close to a good live town. This land lays comparatively level, sandy loam soil with a big percentage of silt deposit very similar to the best Imperial Valley soil. Free from alkali and hardpan. It is adjacent to a body of land 15 miles square which is very highly developed to vineyard, peaches, apricots and alfalfa.

The water conditions are unsurpassed, water level being from 10 to 14 feet on any portion of this land. A number of wells in the vicinity from 45 to 90 feet deep. The lift pumping study is not to exceed 20 feet.

The main line of the San Joaquin Light and Power Company runs through the center of this property with a large substation centrally located on this land.

This body of land is right in the line of activity being improved on all sides. Owner wants Southern California. Will exchange on strictly cash basis.

BUSINESS CHANCES— Of Many Kinds Unclassified.

I OFFER POSITIVELY THE GREATEST MONEY-making wholesale and manufacturing opportunity in Los Angeles today; a business that shows about $15,000 CASH profits in 6 months without spending a penny for newspaper advertising or salesmen, and the surface of possibilities and expansion not even scratched. Business conducted strictly cash-with-order basis, and customers in every State. I will prove every claim and permit examination of books and you can see cash rolling in daily. Am at head of several big companies, having organized and now conducting this business around an idea I evolved. Your own eyes can see the orders and cash and your own judgment will approve this class-A proposition. Most excellent reason for rejecting myself of attention to this business and selling same. Will include certain co-operation for obtaining continuous business without advertising or salesman's expense. Easy to understand and conduct. Not a cheap man's opening. $20,000 required for exclusive ownership; will take half in good real estate. Ideal opportunity for man with bright son or for partnership of live men. Positively no time for purely curious. Quick attention solicited. Address K, box 468, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

WOMEN AND CAT SAVED.

Were in an Upstairs Room of a House on Hollywood Boulevard When Fire Started.

Three women and an Angora cat were rescued from a burning residence last night by members of Engine Company No. 27, after the flames had cut off escape by the stairway. The fire originated in the home of W. E. Lester of No. 5826 Hollywood boulevard, and trapped the women in an upstairs room.

Miss Beatrice Lester, Miss A. Benninger and Mrs. Regina Mettler and the cat were upstairs in the house when they became aware of the fire. Rushing to the stairway they were driven back by the smoke and flames. In the meantime neighbors had turned in an alarm.

A ladder was placed against the building and the women were carried to the ground in safety. The loss on the house and contents was approximately $500.

SEEK TWO MISSING GIRLS.

They Are Thought to Have Left Their Home in Tropico in the Company of Two Boys.

City and county officers have been asked to search for Vesta Brown and Ruth Wilson, 15-year-old girls living in Tropico, who disappeared from their home on Tuesday of this week. The girls are thought to have left in company with two boys whose names have not been learned by the police.

According to the story told by Mrs. O. E. Brown, mother of one of the missing girls, her daughter sold tickets for a moving picture show in Tropico Tuesday night she, in company with the Wilson girl walked off with two boys.

Glendale officers say they noticed two strange boys and two girls answering the description of the missing ones, wandering about the streets on Wednesday. The Brown girl had been living with her grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Brown, who lives in Tropico.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

Congressman to Speak.

Congressman W. D. Stephens will address the Parent-Teacher Association this evening, in the Norwood-street school building, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Pythian Sisters Banquet.

Moneta Temple, No. 17, Pythian Sisters, will entertain Knights of Pythias with a chicken banquet at the hall, No. 5835 Moneta avenue, this evening. The dinner is to be an old-fashioned eastern "feed."

Meeting of Baptist Society.

The Woman's Society of the First Baptist Church will meet today at 11 o'clock, have a luncheon at noon and a business meeting and musical programme in the afternoon. The music will be by Mrs. Guy F. Bush.

Cornerstone to Be Laid.

The cornerstone of the new Church of the Epiphany will be laid at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Altura and Sichel streets. It is expected that the ceremonies will be conducted by Bishop Johnson of the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles.

London Woman to Sing.

Mrs. Walter Watts, a mezzo-soprano from London, Eng., is the headliner on a musical programme to be given under the auspices of the Canadian Club of Los Angeles at the Federation of State Societies building this evening.

Meeting of Evening City Club.

The Evening City Club will be addressed on Monday evening at Christopher's by Henry James, his subject being, "In Jest and Earnest." An election of officers for the ensuing year will also be held at this meeting, and a full attendance of members is urged.

Stanton Post Meeting.

Stanton Post, G.A.R., and Stanton Women's Relief Corps will hold a joint open meeting this evening at Mammoth Hall. Reminiscences of Chattanooga and Chickamauga, with accompanying patriotic songs and readings. All friends cordially invited.

Mrs. Lee's Condition Better.

Mrs. Baker P. Lee, wife of the rector of Christ Church, was considerably improved in condition yesterday. Attending physicians are more hopeful for her recovery from a complication of diseases than at any time within the past week.

Suit for Damages Filed.

A damage suit for $15,000 against the Wilcox estate, was filed in the Superior Court on Wednesday, by W. E. Lady, attorney for Hugo Staudinger, who was hurt in an elevator accident in the Wilcox block on October 3. It is recited in the complaint that when Staudinger attempted to get in the elevator it was started by the operator and as a result he suffered a broken ankle and other injuries.

Dash for the Atlantic.

In the dark watches of Sunday morning a special train of seven coaches will draw out of the Salt Lake yards for a truly cross-country dash. It will be a train carrying the Count of Luxembourg Company on a non-stop, special-all-the-way journey to New York over the Salt Lake, Union Pacific, Northwestern, Grand Trunk and Lehigh Valley. Arrangements for the train were completed yesterday.

Hurt in Elevator Fall.

George Scovgard, 46 years old, of No. 539 East Fifth street, fell forty feet in a freight elevator in a new building being erected at the corner of Sixth and Flower streets, yesterday. At the Receiving Hospital it was found that he had sustained a fracture and dislocation of one ankle and dislocation of the other, and also was suffering from concussion. After emergency treatment, he was removed to the Clara Barton Hospital.

Temple B'nai B'rith.

At the Sabbath eve service at the Temple this evening at 5 o'clock, Dr. Heeht will speak on the subject: "Migration, Emigration and Immigration." Tomorrow morning Sabbath services begin at 10:30, when the rabbi will give an expository talk on the current Scripture lesson. This service will be preceded by the Children's Sabbath service at 9:45. The music at all services is in charge of the Temple quartette choir, and includes a solo rendered at each service by one of the quartette in turn.

After Advertising Fakers.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association again felt obliged yesterday to take notice of the fact that misleading and fraudulent advertisements have commenced to appear in at least one local newspaper. For a long time the city had been free of this nuisance. After an investigation by the directorate of the association it adopted resolutions condemning such methods on the ground that public policy suffers and the community's commercial integrity is injured. The advertisements under condemnation are those announcing bankruptcy and fire sales.

Rabbi's Lecture Postponed.

The lecture by Rabbi Kraus on "Melting Pot," which was to have been given in Blanchard Hall on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Million Club, was postponed on account of the rain and will be given on next Tuesday evening. All will be honored at that time.

Fails in Suicide Attempt.

In an unsuccessful effort to end her life last night, Mrs. [illegible] of No. 2422 South Grand avenue jumped from a second-story window of her home, but escaped serious injuries. Her husband, who was talking with her a few moments before, found her lying in the yard and called Dr. Carl E. Phelps. Ill health is the reason assigned for the woman's act.

Recovering From Breakdown.

Mrs. Virginia Moneta Patterson, widow of the late Wilson Patterson, who was vice-president of the First National Bank of Napa and died in Naples, Italy, is recovering from a serious breakdown. She has been in her apartments at the Hotel [illegible] for several weeks under the care of Drs. Orbison and Frick. Her daughter, Mrs. Harry R. Culbertson, said yesterday that she is entirely out of danger and well on the road to recovery.

Congregation Sinai.

Dr. R. Farber will deliver during the Sabbath eve service at Temple Sinai, which begins at 8 o'clock, the first of the series of courses on historical characters, his topic for tonight being "The Prophet as a Hero." Rabbi Edgar F. Weinstock, will read the lesson, stated by the regular choir. A special feature of the service will be a soprano solo from "The Creation," "With Verdure Clad," which will be sung by Miss [illegible] tomorrow morning's service will begin at 9:30.

GREAT BOULEVARD OUT WEST FIRST STREET.

Council Public Works Committee for It and Owners Enthusiastic.

Northwest Demands Splendid Improvement and City Officials Are Ready to Carry Out the Project—Meeting Yesterday Settles Matters Except Official Adoption of Ordinance—Plans Have Larger Scope.

After listening for more than three hours to the arguments and statements of those for and against the proposed West First-street boulevard beyond the tunnels, the Public Works Committee of the City Council, composed of Councilmen Bryson, Rolfe and Snowden, voted unanimously yesterday afternoon for favorable report upon that splendid improvement, and recommended to the City Engineer and City Attorney be at once instructed to draw up the preliminary documents necessary to the passage of an ordinance authorizing to start proceedings. The men who have since made fortunes out of their holdings on that thoroughfare and I will put myself on record as believing that First street is going to be another Seventh street after this boulevard has been put through."

The petition embodying the recommendation of the boulevard advocates was read by Samuel Storrow, chairman of the Committee for the Improvement of West First Street of the North, East, West Commercial and Improvement Association and was signed by Storrow himself on behalf of that organization, and by Ralph Bennett, for the West First Street Improvement Association. Storrow represented also the owners of approximately 40,000 feet of frontage on West First street, whose signatures to that effect he had with him.

SUMMED UP.

The text of the petition, which embodies in their entirety the recommendations favorably passed upon by the Council committee, and which sums up in concise and comprehensive form the features of the boulevard project, follows:

Gentlemen: Whereas, we have been appointed a committee in charge of preparing designs and urging action lookin toward the widening, regrading and paving of West First street, and of Temple street west of Vermont, from Figueroa street westward to the city limits; and,

Whereas, we have heretofore petitioned your honorable body for action in this matter, which petitions were extensively signed by property owners interested in the improvement, and especially by property owners who would be most affected by the financial burden of the work; and,

Whereas, we have heretofore appeared before your Committee on Public Works, explaining to them in detail just what we desire; and,

Whereas, the proposed improvement of West First street is a part of the project for the improvement of First street by means of a subway from Broadway to Figueroa street, having a capacity of a double-track car line and four lines of vehicle traffic, which will require adequate approach and outlet from the western and northwestern parts of the city.

Now, therefore, we respectfully request you to act favorably upon our petition and to pass an ordinance of intention in accordance therewith containing the following recommendations:

(1.) Order the beginning of proceedings for the widening, regrading and paving of West First street, and Shall Los Angeles Have a New Railroad Station Or Give It Up?

It will be a pity if, on account of the bickerings of small-bore politicians, the petty objections of undersized knockers and the ridiculous inconsistencies of our botch of a charter, Los Angeles should lose that sadly-needed new railroad station. The danger of losing it is serious, however. It is as sure as the almanac that unless the mischievously-set-up obstacles are removed within a week and the railroad gets fair play, the money appropriated by the Southern Pacific for the depot will be diverted and spent in another city where they really want improvements. Let us have the new station—one of which we will not be ashamed when the multitudes come here in 1915! The way to get it is to sweep aside all trifling disputes and all the miserable little objections raised by faddists or pettifoggers, and GET IT, GET IT, GET IT!

DEATHTRAP NEAR SCHOOL.

Principal Reports Remarkable Series of Accidents and Two Fatalities to the Council.

Charles J. Fox, principal of the Euclid-avenue school, yesterday called the attention of the City Council to the following facts:

Last week George Wood, aged 6 years, a schoolboy, was run over by an auto; his leg was broken at the hip.

Last spring Fannie Evdkmneff, a schoolgirl, was run down and killed by an auto.

Last winter Morris Jones was injured by an auto.

A year ago a man was killed by an auto.

Tuesday a man was hurt in a collision with a motorcycle.

The point is that all of these accidents occurred on Stephenson avenue, near Euclid, within a stone's throw of the school. Letting the facts make their own argument, Principal Fox asks: "Do you think this is a critical condition?"

REAL POLITICS IS THE MOTTO.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS.

"Can't Be Politicians Unless We Do," Says the President, and Good Work Gets Under Way—Pointers on History and How to Get Votes. Some Object to Mixing It.

The meetings of the Women's Republican Club will hereafter be held in a hall, at a convenient place to be announced. Mrs. W. J. Variel, president of the organization, at whose home the meeting was held yesterday, introduced the subject in this way:

"We are not getting on. Our meetings must be held in a hall; this is too much of a social," and after some informal talk it was decided to secure a hall for the meetings, beginning with that for December.

Mrs. Variel "rose to the occasion" on another point. Some of the women balked at the suggestion of joint headquarters with the men during the approaching campaign. They didn't like the smoke nor the appearance of some of the hangers-on, nor did they like the idea of hobnobbing with certain characters who insist upon fastening themselves to political headquarters of the feminine gender. This caused the president to say:

"We can't be politicians unless we do it."

Mrs. H. H. Rose, wife of the Mayor, said she had been about headquarters considerably during her husband's campaign and she had been able to accommodate herself to conditions.

The speakers before the club were W. J. Variel and Fred Spring.

Variel reviewed the history of the Republican party, for the instruction of anyone who had not in the past followed political history, telling them how the Republican party had practically ruled the country for fifty years and made it what it is. Continuing, he said:

VICTIM OF LARCENY.

"The Republican party in this State has been the victim of larceny at the hands of the so-called Progressives. They are attempting to lay hands on Larson Girl's Evidence Most Damaging to Father.

She's Eager to Make Out Bad Case Against Him.

He Takes Stand in His Own Defense; Denies Story.

Casting contemptuous glances at her father and telling with bitterness in her voice of his actions toward her mother, Miss Luella Larson, yesterday proved the last and star witness for the prosecution in the trial of Louis A. Larson, charged with the murder of his wife. Eagerly and with flashing blue eyes, she gave the most damaging testimony that has been introduced. To offset it, the defense sprang a surprise by calling Larson in his own defense, and when the session closed he was on the witness stand, vigorously denying the statements she had made against him.

It was a strange scene from a pathetic domestic drama that the courtroom presented; that of an attractive 17-year-old girl, anxious to convict her father of murder and a father repudiating emphatically the bitter statements of his own child in his efforts to save himself. One woman in the courtroom sobbed aloud, and throughout the girl's recital there were many tearstained faces among the spectators.

When the girl was called to take the stand, Larson, who had been sitting with his hands calmly folded upon his knees, suddenly shifted his position, and his face flushed when she frowned coldly at him and quickly averted her glance. She was neatly dressed in a blue suit, with lace collar, and her dark hair fluffed out from beneath a black velvet hat with HUMAN ASHES MERCHANDISE.

So Rules the Assistant Postmaster Here in the Case of Cremated Remains of a Japanese.

Since the inauguration of the parcel post system all sorts of curious "mail" have been sent and delivered through the postoffice department. The list includes chickens, flowers and about everything falling within the prescribed weight, fixed first at scribed weight, fixed first at eleven eleven pounds, but now at twenty

Yesterday, however, turned up something new in the way of parcel-post packages.

There was mailed at Station H, of the local postoffice establishment, at Pico and Figueroa streets, a small box containing the ashes of K. Marasawa, a Japanese, who died recently in this city, and whose remains had been cremated. The package was about the size of a cigar box, securely sealed and consigned to friends of the dead man in Osaka, Japan. It is said that the last request of Marasawa was that his body should be burned and the ashes sent back to rest with his ancestors, and the relatives took steps to see that his wishes were complied with.

Assistant Postmaster Dishman was asked if under the postoffice regulations such a shipment could be made, and he replied: "Sure, isn't it merchandise?" And that was the end of the argument.

M. and M. Calls "Supervisor" Down for Baby Act.

Strong Resolutions Condemn Road-Work Blocking.

"Highways Nothing to Me," Is His Retort.

Supervisor Norton, who, in order to spite the other members of the board, as he expresses it, has refused to vote for good-roads extensions when it takes a full vote of the board to legalize the gift of oil and rock, is receiving hearty condemnation from every quarter. Los Angeles county is saving from $50,000 to $100,000 a year by allowing various districts to build their own systems under supervision of the Highway Commission, the county supplying free the rock and oil.

Yesterday the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, an organization composed of 500 or more representative business men, passed a resolution indorsing the policy of the Supervisors in keeping up the good roads and condemning the acts of Norton.

The following letter was sent to the Supervisors by Secretary Zeehandelaar:

"Whereas, the improvement of the county roads has been a most valuable factor in the development of the county of Los Angeles; and,

"Whereas, the honorable Board of Supervisors has in the past added many miles of good roads and realized the necessity of such improvement; and,

"Whereas, lately one member of said Board of Supervisors has refused to vote in harmony with the other members of said board for such work without any apparent and sound reason;

High Railroad Officials Marvel at the Greatly Increasing Wealth of Southern California.

J. M. Johnson, vice-president, in charge of traffic for the Gould lines, and his assistant, J. N. Githens, who is in charge of freight solicitation for the allied Missouri Pacific, Iron Mountain, Denver and Rio Grande and Missouri Pacific railways, arrived here unannounced yesterday from San Francisco, to find out why the industries of Southern California continuously tick in terms of ready dollars.

"We started on the citrus-fruit men," said Blair last night, "because many took the short crop of last year as evidence of what Southern California may normally be expected to produce in the way of oranges, lemons and grapefruit. Naturally, when Messrs. Johnson and Githens found that the crop this year will run over 40,000 cars at the lowest estimate, they were agreeably surprised. The visit of these men has no other significance than a praiseworthy attempt to find out why Southern California continuously shows increased production and prosperity."

Johnson, who is accompanied by his wife and a sister-in-law, is a guest of his wife's niece while here. He and Githens expect to spend today and tomorrow in investigating traffic conditions in the Southland before proceeding East.

W. F. Whiteman, chief clerk of the train department of the Western Pacific at San Francisco, is also a member of the party, but as he stated last night, "only as an onlooker."

TO HAVE JURY TRIAL.

Woman Accused of Beating Husband, Not "Chowder House Jim," Out of Jail on Bail.

Mrs. Daisy Dunn, wife of J. J. Dunn, No. 1139 Colton street, who was arrested Wednesday and taken to the City Jail on a charge of disturbing the peace, was arraigned in Judge Williams's court yesterday. The specific complaint against the woman was that she had been beating her husband, who is blind and a paralytic. He was formerly a bookmaker in Chicago and accumulated considerable money. When arraigned Mrs. Dunn demanded a jury trial and the case was set for February 17, bail of $50 being required and furnished. Dunn stated to the police that it was just a little family difficulty. It was inadvertently stated in The Times yesterday that the principals in the affair were "Chowder-House Jim" and his wife. This is incorrect. The former popular chowder-house man, J. E. Dunne, and his estimable wife, reside at No. 1830 West First street, and Dunne handles investments. He says he may deserve beating but Mrs. Dunne never administered it.

Day Aside for California's Mission Founder.

Exercises at San Gabriel by Catholic Orders.

Holiday Two-hundredth Birth Anniversary.

Two hundred years from the date of his birth, Father Junipera Serra, founder of the missions in California, will be paid a fitting tribute in a State-wide celebration, this year being the first in which November 24 has been set aside as a legal holiday commemorative of his achievements.

The day falling on a Monday those having in charge the ceremonies of the local celebration, have decided to make the Sunday preceding the real day of observance and San Gabriel the place.

Pasadena Council of the Knights of Columbus has planned an interesting programme for that occasion and has also contributed a magnificent bronze tablet to be set into the walls of San Gabriel Mission as a fitting memorial. Past Grand Knight Bernard J. McConville has been the moving spirit and is chairman of the Arrangements Committee, which has as its other members Frank Watkins, John S. McGroarty and ex-Senator R. N. Del Valle.

The affair will have two sides, the religious and social. The first will find its place on the programme in the morning when Bishop Conaty will sing the pontifical high mass in the mission, which was one of the favorite places of residence of Father Serra when in the southern part of the State. The old mission, where he frequently said mass and preached to the neophytes, will ring in his honor and to his glory.

AFTERNOON EVENTS.

The programme for the afternoon will be staged in the San Gabriel Mission Play Theater and the author of "The Mission Play," John S. McGroarty, will be chairman. Those who have been invited to speak on the occasion are Arthur S. Benton on "The Influences of the Missions on Architecture," Charles F. Lummis on "The History of the Missions," Joseph Scott on "The Value of Father Serra's Work to California," and Robert Burdette on "The Life Work of Father Serra." Benjamin Scovell will read Stoddard's poem, "The Bells of San Gabriel," and these bells will be rung just before the unveiling of the tablet.

Father Theophilus, member of the great order that claimed Father Serra, the Franciscans, will unveil the tablet which is to be placed in the panel between the two western buttresses of the mission. This tablet is just being completed by W. A. Sharp, the sculptor, whose "Calvary" is one of the notable things in the Y.M.C.A. building of this city. According to the artist's conception, the scene will show a facade of San Gabriel Mission with Father Serra in the foreground, his hands raised in benediction over one of the Indian neophytes.

GIFT OF KNIGHTS.

The inscription will read: "In memory of Father Junipera Serra on the 200th anniversary of his birth at Petra, Spain. Given by the Pasadena Council of the Knights of Columbus in the time of Rt. Rev. Bishop Thomas J. Conaty of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles." A great throng of visitors is expected and the Pacific Electric will run excursions from all of the surrounding towns of Southern California to San Gabriel. The congregation of the mission has planned luncheon for those who come to the morning celebration of mass and wish to remain through the day. Music will also add to the entertainment.

"It is no more than right that we should celebrate in this manner," said McConville last night. "Los Angeles has been rather backward up to the present time. At Riverside they erected the great Rubideaux cross in honor of Father Serra. In San Francisco, Monterey, Santa Barbara, San Diego, Ventura and other places, his deeds have been fittingly commemorated by statues, tablets and other insignia, and it is no more than right that on this two-century mark of his birth, Los Angeles should join with the other communities in honoring California's earliest hero."

END OF GOOD WORKS.

Death Takes Woman Who was Long Active in Churches and Clubs—Funeral This Afternoon.

The death of Mrs. J. M. Clute, No. 1216 Orange street, early Wednesday, removes from the city one of the active workers in religious service, a prominent and beloved clubwoman, who had, during her long residence here, endeared herself to a wide circle of warm friends.

Mrs. Clute was born in Cleveland, and came to Los Angeles twenty-two years ago. She had been active in Immanuel Presbyterian Church and the Y.W.C.A., and belonged to several clubs, among others the Friday Morning Club and the Woman's City Club, in which organizations she was one of the prominent members.

Beside her husband she leaves three children, Mrs. Howard Robertson, wife of Assistant City Attorney Robinson, Mabel E. Clute and Walker F. Clute, the latter a senior at Stanford. A sister, Mrs. George W. Cummings, lives in St. Louis.

The funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the residence on Orange street, and interment will be private at Rosedale.

INSPECTS TRAFFIC MATTERS.

State Railroad Commissioner Makes Investigation Preparatory to Resumption of Hearings.

In the face of a driving rain Commissioner Edgerton of the State Railroad Commission made a minute inspection yesterday afternoon of traffic conditions along Alameda street and its bisecting thoroughfares. This was preparatory to the resumption at 10 o'clock this morning of hearings in the allied applications of W. H. Daum and the Southern Pacific, the first to compel track elevation, the second for approval of its station plans.

Before the depot hearing begins Edgerton will entertain the formal application of the Angels' Flight Railway Company for authority to purchase the Angels' Flight Railway and to issue $100,000 par value of stock in lieu of $40,000 face value of bonds and $14,000 par value of stock, heretofore sanctioned by the commission.

GET A PRISONER AT LAST.

Two Chicago Officers Who Came Here for an Alleged Fugitive from Justice Have Adventures.

A will-o'-the-wisp chase after fugitives from justice has been the experience of two officers from Chicago, according to the story they related at police headquarters yesterday. They are Detective Sergeant William D. Rohan and Frank J. Shaughnessy, and they came here to take back E. P. Palmer, who had been arrested in this city on advices from Chicago, on a charge of having stolen gold from a dentist's office there.

While the officers were in San Francisco they learned of the arrest of Alex McLeish in that city, and who admitted that he was wanted in Chicago for stealing money and passing worthless checks. While waiting for requisition papers the officers learned that a brother of McLeish had settled matters for him and that the charge had been dismissed.

This was set-back number one. The officers then came to this city for Palmer, and here learned that the dentist had dropped the prosecution against him. At this psychological moment, two boys were discovered at the Detention Home, said to be wanted at Chicago, one as a runaway and the other for some bad-check operations.

This seemed at last to offer the officers an excuse for not returning empty-handed, but their ill-luck still followed them, for, before they could leave with the boys, the runaway made another getaway, and word was received that the bad-check matter had been settled and the suit dismissed.

The Chicago officers were saved finally, when Walter Clark walked into the Central Police Station yesterday and admitted that he is wanted in Chicago for embezzling $700 from the Mission Dining Car Company, while he was in its employ, and that he was tired of eluding arrest. So Rohan and Shaughnessy will return with a prisoner.

"Just Business."

REAL ESTATE MAN IN JAIL.

SOME QUEER TRANSACTIONS ARE ALLEGED.

Specific Charge Is Embezzlement of Money from One Woman to Invest in House Owned by Another. "Only Ordinary Business Deals," Says Accused.

John C. Dysart, a real estate man of No. 1118 Lomita drive, Glendale, who was secretly indicted by the grand jury last week, returned yesterday from a business trip to Texas and surrendered to the Sheriff until such time as he may be able to secure bonds for his release.

Dysart is said to be fairly well off and has retained Frank Dominguez as counsel. He is charged with embezzling $500 from Mrs. A. F. St. Clare, to be used for the specific purpose of investing in a house owned by Mrs. Burton Williamson. The absence of the latter prolonged the grand jury investigation until her return.

An interesting part of the case which will be developed in a civil action as well as in the criminal, are the curious and intricate transactions alleged to have taken place before the final deal was consummated. Dysart is said to have asked Mrs. St. Clare to buy the Williamson place at No. 1736 Cherokee street. He represented, it is asserted, that by making a first payment he could secure a mortgage on the balance of about $3000.

Dysart also dealt with Mrs. Williamson for the purchase of the place, paying her $200 and giving a note for $2300, it is alleged. When he failed to meet the note, Mrs. Williamson claims to have found that her place was encumbered by the recording of an agreement to sell it.

A maze of transactions, which Dysart says are only ordinary business deals, figures in the evidence which supposedly was presented to the grand jury. Dysart declares he is innocent and that the case ought to be settled in the civil courts.

VALUE OF A RAILROAD.

State Commission Will Have to Determine How to Designate a Losing Proposition.

On the eve of an investigation by the State Railroad Commission into the physical valuation of the Klamath Lake Railroad Company that road has applied to the commission for authority to discontinue operation on the grounds that expenses the past fiscal year exceeded the net income by $12,000. As a result a pretty little problem of whether or not a non-paying railroad has any marked physical valuation is presented to the commission for solution.

In its application the directors of the Klamath Lake Railroad Company informed the commission that the construction of the California Northeastern Railway from Weed on the Southern Pacific to Klamath Falls, Or., left their road dependent on a sawmill at Pokegama and a hydro-electric plant near Klamath Springs for means of sustenance and that the sawmill has just been closed down and the hydro-electric plant cancelled its traffic contracts.

Therefore, urge the directors, further operation of their road means merely the creation of deficit to add to the $12,000 lost the last fiscal year.

TUNNEL DISCUSSION.

Improvement Association Leaves Matter to Individual Action Before City Council.

At yesterday's meeting of the N.E. W. Improvement Association in the Chamber of Commerce, the principal subject discussed was the proposed improvement of the Broadway tunnel. There was a division of sentiment, some favoring the lowering of the grade, some protesting against it, and others demanding an open cut. No action was taken, it being the consensus of opinion that the matter should be left to individual action at the hearing before the City Council at 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning.

A resolution was adopted commending the Park Commission for securing an appropriation and making the noted improvements now in progress at Echo Park.

a white feather. Her voice was clear and her answers quick and decisive. Once, when she was asked to identify her mother's shoes and watch, her voice trembled and she seemed on the verge of breaking down.

"Yes, they were mother's," she faltered. Then her eyes flashed as she looked scornfully at her father. She showed also her dislike for Attorneys Walter Fisher and Sturgis Adams, who represent Larson, by snapping her answers in sharp, cutting tones.

EAGER TO CONVICT HIM.

"Don't tell the children where we are going tomorrow," she testified hearing her father say to her mother, the night before Mrs. Larson was murdered. The remark was regarded as a most damaging one against Larson by the prosecuting attorneys, and there was a look of satisfaction in the girl's face as she made it. Her eagerness in answering questions detrimental to her father was apparent throughout, and on occasions she was admonished by Judge Craig on request of Attorney Fisher not to answer so rapidly.

"Following mother's death, father kept telling me nearly every day, not to tell anybody where she had gone," she added, looking directly at the jury. "He said she was in San Francisco and that he was not kidding me about it."

"On the morning of the day mother was killed I day mother was killed I helped her to dress and pinned $15 in a handkerchief inside her waist. Mother left at 11:45. I didn't see her alive again."

FATHER AND DAUGHTER.

The girl had stated on different occasions, that her mother's last word were "If anything happens to me don't let your father escape." An effort made to introduce this testimony before the jury was objected to and it was stricken out.

"I asked father, when he returned Sunday night, where mother was and he said she had gone to San Francisco," she added. "I told him that was funny, as she didn't take a darn thing with her."

FATHER AND DAGHTER.

"Oh, I gave her plenty of money," the witness stated Larson replied.

"Monday morning I saw father, and he told me not to say where mother went to. Monday night I asked him why mama didn't write and he replied, 'Oh, you have got to give her time.'

"I told him it was funny she'd go off and leave us and not drop us a line. He replied, 'Is that so? You never cared anything for your mother, anyhow.'

"On Tuesday morning I asked him again, and he told me to tell people she was taking a little vacation. I asked him again Wednesday night where mama was, and told him I was lonesome. He told me again that I didn't care, anyhow. He burned all my mother's papers and again told me to be sure and not tell anybody about her."

The girl identified her mother's effects, and retorted keenly to remarks made by her father's attorneys, when questioned as to his conduct toward her. Once, when Attorney Fisher came near her she drew away and refused to look at him.

HE DENIES IT.

Following her testimony the prosecution rested, and Larson, in his own defense, took the stand. The same cool and deliberate manner marked his appearance on the witness stand, that have characterized his demeanor since the trial began. He gazed calmly on the jury and seemed the most unconcerned person in the room. Even the sharp inquisition of Attorney Ford failed to disturb him.

He denied much that his daughter had said, and when asked by Lawyer Fisher if he had told Luella to tell no one of his wife's absence, he replied emphatically:

"I did not."

"When I left my wife on June 22," he said, "she told me she was going to San Francisco, and I told her it was up to her. She told me to tell nobody about her absence as it was our own affair. When my wife had gone I went to the park, and later to a Hill-street cafeteria. About 6 o'clock I went to the Pacific Electric depot. I had a date with Miss Carpenter. We had lunch at a cafeteria and went to the First Methodist Church at Sixth and Hill streets. Later we had ice cream and then we walked to the place where she was staying. After I got home Luella came in and asked me where her mother was. I told her she had gone to San Francisco. She thought it was funny she didn't mention anything about it. I don't remember what else was said."

"Did you tell her not to tell the neighbors where you wife was?" he was asked.

"I did not," rejoined Larson, slowly and emphatically.

The witness said he remembered telling his daughter that she and her mother did not get along together, but denied that he had further conversation with her about the matter.

"Did you tell your daughter you took her mother to the Santa Fe Depot?" he was asked.

"I absolutely did not," he answered, loudly.

CALLS ON MISS CARPENTER.

The witness said that on the following Wednesday night he had called on Miss Carpenter, had lunch at her home, and helped to move some suit cases for her. The next day he worked until he was taken to the Sheriff's office and was placed under arrest.

Relating his domestic troubles, Larson said his wife started divorce proceedings against him four years ago in San Francisco.

"She didn't want it very bad," he added, "and she begged me to forgive and make up for the children's sake." He denied he was in the Verdugo hills on the day his wife was murdered. Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford had just started to cross-examine the witness in regard to a gold watch and ring, claimed to belong to his wife, when court adjourned.

As Deputy Sheriff Harva Allen was leading Larson back to his cell the defendant smiled cheerfully and he appeared well satisfied with his testimony upon the witness stand.

Other witnesses called during the day included Edward Seay and Roy Pitman, two students, who told of finding fragments of a receipt and broken bottles about the place where Mrs. Larson's body was found. James Pope, a newspaper man, also testified as to fragments of a paper found near the scene of the murder on which were the words, "Received of Mr. Larson for rent."

Deputy Sheriff Wright identified rings found in a box belonging to Larson in the barber shop where he was working when arrested.

Mr. Gordan Says-:

—Fashion is saying "hands up" to the man who attempts to make his 1910 Tuxedo Dinner Jacket serve for 1913.

—for it won't serve the man who appreciates smartness as distinguished from mere foppery.

—he is exacting about his street clothes. Why not equally so about the more formal dinner jacket?

—Yes! the coats are shorter and much snugger—hugging the body more closely. Trousers have narrowed surprisingly. Nattiness is the keynote throughout.

—materials to suit your fancy—dress crape or the varying shades of gray, from Oxford to the lighter Cambridge mixtures. Vests are silk—black, gray or white.

—around the corner comes the season of smokers, informal dinners, "stags."

—If YOUR dinner jacket needs a constant silent apology each time you wear it—

Whets a Stick.

we deplore the attitude of Supervisor Norton in connection with this matter and request him to work and vote for the progress of this development of the county of Los Angeles in respect to the improvement of county roads.

Yours very truly,

"By order of the board of directors.
[Signed]

"F. J. ZEEHANDELAAR, Secretary."

This action of the Merchants' and Manufacturers Association is to be followed by similar resolutions passed by other commercial bodies.

Norton has openly stated that he will continue to block the good-roads building in the county until the four other Supervisors join with him in discharging County Counsel Hill and Registrar of Registration McAleer. Both men were long holding the same positions but were recently confirmed under the terms of the county charter.

Norton, who is said to be the agent of E. T. Earl in trying to create confusion in the county and to overthrow the real intent of the charter, is barely on speaking terms with his colleagues. He and Evans are seen in close converse and an employee in the County Assessor's office is said to be also working for Norton.

WHAT NORTON THINKS.

"I don't give a tinker's dam for any of the papers," said Norton yesterday. "I am independent. I don't care about the other members of the board. The more I am abused the better I like it. I represent the "people" and I care nothing about the good roads. My constituents don't live in the county and few of them have automobiles."

A recall petition is said to be forming against Norton and one of the funny things about it is that one of his supposed best friends, whose name is not given out at the present time, will be a candidate against him.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: While the tooth brush may not be generally considered as an implement of beautification, yet there is no appliance to which more careful selection should be given. A novelty recently seen was a tooth brush of oriental make which had attached to the end of the handle a "tongue scraper," for the removal of the "fuzz" after. Odd idea, and yet the more you consider it, the more the homely appliance gains in your estimation.

A Remarkable Invention—An Engine Weighing One-Fifth the Weight of Other Engines, Same H.P.

The Scientific American, in a recent article, says that over 100,000 engines are manufactured annually for use on farms alone.

Everyone knows that in this automobile age the gas engine business is one of the greatest industries of the century.

It will well pay every resident and visitor of Los Angeles to call at 419 South Main street and see a free exhibition that is now being given of this remarkable gas engine, internal combustion.

Free exhibition day and evening. If not convenient to visit these rooms, address The Empire Sales Company, Suite 318 Delta Building, and literature giving fullest information will be sent you free.

Wee pockets which are a mere pretense, are attached to some of these charming confections, and the buttons are as pretty as are the ribbons from which the "garments" are made. Some in plain silks depend for their entire cachet upon the brilliance of the buttons used. These vests are rich and beautiful enough, when put up in a pretty package or box to form a fitting gift for anyone.

Delicious Tastie.

Cheese relish is a delicious article for luncheon on a cold day. It is made as follows: Cut in small bits one-fourth pound of American cheese, eastern preferred. Pour over it one cupful of milk and while it heats stir together a small bit of butter, one-fourth teaspoonful of dry mustard, salt and pepper and add this to the mixture, stirring all the time. When the cheese is melted and the whole is becoming creamy sift in gradually one-half cupful of cracker crumbs. Serve hot on toast.

In Fashion's Hand Glass.

The crownless wedding veil is entirely new; it is held in place by a halo of orange blossoms.

Sometimes a touch of plaid is introduced it the coat by means of a belt, or a vest or waistcoat.

Furs adorn not only the morning tailor-made, but the dressy afternoon and diaphanous evening frock.

Dance frocks for the debutante are fashioned of white tulle or lace with two or three tiered skirts.

Suit coats hang loosely from the shoulders, are rounded below the waist at the back and tilt up in front.

It is a season of luxuries in dress garnitures, and gold and silver silken cords and jet will be much used.

The tunic may be treated in so many ways that every woman may adopt this most fashionable detail.

All clothes of the present are comfortable, shoulders broad, sleeves immense and unrestrained waists.

Evening tollettes are a combination of sheerest tullos or mousseline, exquisite laces and bands of fur.

The skirt may be slashed at the side, front or back, according to where the designer places the drapery.

With afternoon costumes of thin materials are worn smart, loose wraps of velvet, corduroy, brocaded satin or fur.

THE SORRY RESULTS OF HURRIED BETROTHALS.

Laura Jean Libbey Says that a Betrothal Made in Haste Leads to Repentance at Leisure and that a Betrothal Should Be Considered as Solemn and as Binding as the Marriage Vow.

"A man had given all other bliss,
And all his worldly worth for this,
To waste his whole heart in one kiss
Upon her perfect lips."

It is only natural that pretty, vivacious young women should attract beaux, as the dainty honey bee attracts the bee. If all men were alike and methodical in their ways, they would take a reasonable time to give love its rightful opportunity to bud and unfold into its perfect flower in their hearts. But each man is liable to take a different love route. Some choose the shortest cut to matrimony. They meet a girl with a dimpled face who strikes their fancy. Immediately they begin a siege of fervent lovemaking, if the attraction appears to be mutual. A few weeks of being constantly in each other's company, and lo! he is sure that she is the right girl for him, and—he pops the question and the girl accepts him for better or for worse. If they took a reasonable time to become acquainted before their betrothal, with the marriage date following close on the heels of it, all might yet be well. They think they are wise in changing courtship into marriage. With the familiarity of the betrothal, the embarrassment of the two, who are little more than strangers, begins. The hotter the love flame waxes in a man's breast, the sooner it may cool. The lover may find that his pretty sweetheart may be exacting as well. They have talked so much of love that they have not had an opportunity to discuss other matters of importance. He may have led her to believe that, as his wife, she is to enjoy luxuries which he well knows are beyond the limit of his purse. She may be planning—because of the nonchalant boasts he has made, that he will take her, as his bride, to a home that is their very own. Instead his position will only permit a flat—and a very modest one at that. When he explains this to her, there is dissatisfaction No. 1. Not knowing his circumstances she has boasted to her friends of the excellent match she is making; that her fiance has declared that no girl in the land will have a grander wedded life than she. That he intends to devote himself to gratify her every wish. He breaks to her, gently as he can, that he is living at home with his mother, who is depending on him for support. Nothing must alter her claim upon him. In short, she will have to live with them. Dissatisfaction No. 2, for the girl who has flung herself haphazard into a betrothal. He hesitatingly tells her that he has been a bit extravagant in the way of cigars, wearing apparel, and having a good time in general. He would expect her to overlook his foibles, curtailing in household expenses. Dissatisfaction No. 3, when she finds she is expected to do her own work.

Laura Jean Libbey.

A BETROTHAL OF HASTE—REPENTING AT LEISURE.

Each time he visits her they broach some subject which causes them to become more or less disillusioned. The pride of each prevents them from calling the wedding off. It is too late to find fault, because of finding out that their tastes are not congenial. She loves music, it bores him. He likes vaudeville shows, while she only cares to attend operas. He does not care a rap for her friends nor she for his. Each feels intuitively that their hasty betrothal was a mistake; but neither will take the initiative in breaking away. Both would avoid a sensation and the gossip of their acquaintances who invent their own reasons, and curious ones at that, for the sudden breaking-off of an engagement of marriage. There is a foreboding in both hearts that they will not be happily mated, unless both agree to make the best of the matter; realizing that their future happiness is involved. There is nothing like each making a clean breast of their affairs to the other that there may be no misunderstanding after the knot is tied. It is cruelty to both to go to the altar blindfolded.

Young folks have plenty of time to study love's romantic book. They should not rush into matrimony. It should never be considered that there's time lost in wooing. It is only those who are ill-advised who enter into haphazard betrothals.

They should be considered as solemn and as binding as the marriage vow.

LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

The women of Immanuel Presbyterian Church made their November missionary meeting on Tuesday a Thanksgiving affair, and the pastor, Dr. John Balcom Shaw, gave an especially appropriate talk, pointing out that the words "think" and "thank" came from the same root, and when we begin to think we begin to be thankful. He spoke of occidental Christianity, with its broad outlook, as compared with the darkness of heathen countries.

A feature of the meeting was the singing of Mrs. Robert Wankowski in observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first thank offering service ever held in Immanuel Church, on which occasion a beautiful poem was written by Miss Lucy Hanna, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Hanna, charter members of the congregation, and founders of the old Hanna College. Mrs. Wankowski—then Maude Reese Davies—was a student there at that time and was known in college circles as "the girl with the golden voice." The little poem written by Miss Hanna has been set to music and it was this that Mrs. Wankowski sang on Tuesday. The announcement that all financial obligations of the society had been met for the quarter was received with great satisfaction. Luncheon was served at the noon hour from tables aglow with gay autumn colors and the place cards were resplendent with the national bird, without which no Thanksgiving feast would be complete. Two missionaries from the Methodist board addressed the afternoon session—one representing home missions—A. J. McCombs, who brought with him three Mexican boys from the Mexican Industrial School near Los Angeles—and the other representing the foreign field—Mrs. A. M. Rice, who is a teacher in a school for girls of the higher class in Chili.

San Gabriel and Kipling.

The newly-organized woman's club at San Gabriel at its last meeting enjoyed a keen review of Kipling's "The Ship That Found Itself," by Mrs. Frank M. Fowler, who drew a clever parallel between such a ship and a newly-launched women's club. "Each sails upon an unknown sea," she said, "and each must expect to meet storms as well as smooth sailing, but if every member faithfully performs her allotted work the good ship or the good club will ultimately reach its haven in safety. We have a diversity of material in our club crew," she continued, "Spanish, German, Jewish and American women, and these are again divided by religious opinion into Catholics and Protestants, but we are all good sailors."

The club is planning an entertainment early in December to increase its funds toward the purchase of a piano, and in January two travel programmes are planned, one of which will be given by Mrs. Anne Russell, a member who has traveled extensively abroad, and who will give her intimate experiences in housekeeping and touring about Europe, illustrating her talk with photographs taken by herself. The other travel lecture will be by another club member and will deal with a visit to Rome, and more particularly to the Vatican.

Daughters of Eighteen Twelve.

The Daughters of 1812 is an organization formed of the descendants of the heroes who fought in that war, of whom nine are now resident in Los Angeles—the descendants, I mean, not the warriors. All told, there are but eighteen members of this organization in the whole State of California. These nine daughters who live in Los Angeles have planned a luncheon to be given at the Alexandria at 1 o'clock on Monday, November 24, and they are exceedingly anxious that any visiting daughters who happen to be in Southern California will communicate with Mrs. G. C. Dennis at No. 1247 Arapahoe street, as soon as convenient and arrange to be present at the luncheon, so if your grandfather or any other ancestor belonged to that distinguished company of 1812, my sister, make your presence known to the above-mentioned member.

Dramas Dealing With Eugenics.

Three plays will be read and discussed at the meeting of the drama department of Ebell next Wednesday morning — Hauptmann's "Before Dawn" and "The Coming of Peace," read, respectively, by Mrs. C. W. Allen and Mrs. George H. Kress, and Percy MacKaye's "Tomorrow," read by Mrs. Frank W. King. These plays are all based upon eugenics, that vital science the importance of which is magnified by some and depreciated by others. In assigning the plays to the readers Mrs. Mila Tupper Maynard, instructor of the section, has taken pains to select a trio of exceptionally clever women and doubtless the morning will be full of interest.

Men as Shoppers.

Talk about the indecision of women when bent on a selection of a hat, or a gown, or a set of china—it is as nothing compared with the utter uncertainty and vacillation of our honored members of Congress in their agonized efforts to choose a wedding gift for the daughter of President Wilson.

Talk no more about "woman, coy, uncertain, hard to please." For a month now these learned legislators have been trying to make up their minds what to buy, how much to pay for it, etc., etc., and have used up hours of valuable time discussing the question. At last telegraphic reports the choice had finally narrowed down to either a diamond pendant or a set of silver. One Congressman has already consumed over $400 worth of time telling his constituents why he won't contribute toward the wedding present at all and why he considers it in bad taste.

All this fuss and feathers about so simple a matter as purchasing a wedding present, when one has $2000 cash in hand to pay for it! As shoppers, men certainly are a dismal failure.

Alhambra Discusses Poetry.

"Poetry" was the poetic subject of discussion at the Wednesday Afternoon Club of Alhambra this week, Mrs. George A. Rice considering the German poets and Mrs. Elizabeth Sparks the Irish, the latter reciting in sympathetic style Ireland's national song, "The Wearin' o' the Green." Poems of war and poems of sorrow, poems of passion and sentiment, of love and romance, all had place, presented by Mmes. J. N. Armstrong, H. J. Goudge and J. N. Russell.

MEXICAN REBEL RELEASED.

Aeroplane Operator, a Prisoner Here Since August, Is Let go on Own Recognizance.

On the personal initiative of United States District Attorney Schoonover, Lieut. Joaquin Bauche Alcalde, accredited to the army of the Constitutionalists of Mexico, and who it is alleged was incriminated with Didier Masson and others in the sale of an aeroplane to the rebels by Glen Martin, last spring, was released from the County Jail yesterday on his own recognizance. He had been a prisoner since August 27, last, under a bond of $5000.

Young Alcalde, who was a fencing master at the palace in the City of Mexico during the regime of President Francisco Madero, was en route from Calexico, when taken into custody at the Arcade Station. His brother, Capt. Manuel Bauche Alcalde, was arrested at El Paso a few days later, and is now at liberty on a bond of $1500. Didier Masson, the aeroplane flyer, Thomas Dean, his mechanician; Rube Hopkins, Gen. Cambreros and others in the aeroplane incident, have never been captured. Alcalde is an aeroplane operator, and acknowledges having made a number of ascensions over Guyamas in the Martin machine, dropping bombs on the Federals there.

It is understood that Alcalde, in company with R. W. Graenie, who was brought down from Portland several months ago, and afterward released on his own recognizance, will be government witness if needed, at the trial of the principals who are still at liberty.

"I deem it a high honor," he said yesterday, "that the word of one of the Constitutionalist officers should be taken and his release ordered. It is a matter of more pride to me than if I had been successful in securing my bond."

LOST IN THE BIG CITY.

Not Quite So Large as Chicago, but Boy Finds Los Angeles Easy to Go Astray in.

A boy of 13 years, giving the name of Morris Weinberg, was picked up by the police yesterday at Seventh and Mateo streets, bewildered, and weeping for his father and mother. At the Central Station he told a remarkable story to the effect that his father, Louis Weinberg, a tailor, had come here from Chicago a year ago, and that the mother, with Morris and several other children, had arrived at 8 o'clock yesterday morning over the Santa Fe.

The boy said he was overcome by a desire to see his father, and as soon as the family arrived at the depot he started out on a search for him. The little fellow said he had had nothing to eat since the day before, and the Central Station officers took him into the jail refectory and gave him a square meal. They then started him for No. 1018 East Tenth street, where the boy thought his father worked, but no such number was found and no frantic mother appeared to claim her child. So he was turned over to the detention ward at the Courthouse.

After he had been there several hours a sister of the boy appeared at the station, and an officer accompanied her to the Courthouse. In a short time there was a happy family reunion, the father and his wife and other children having found one another earlier in the day.

Real Politics.

the Ark of the Covenant—the Constitution. They propose to get rid of it by changing it to suit themselves. They are allying themselves with anarchists, and it is the duty of every one of you to register and aid in the reorganization of the Republican party. They have stolen our name and our rights, and the situation demands the attention of every patriotic man and woman. The so-called Progressives are just now playing into the hands of the Socialists, who want to make the ownership of property distasteful, with the idea of throwing it all into the hands of the government, that they may get a share when it is divided up.

"Next year we want to get good Republican candidates for office. It is apparent to everyone that one Hiram Johnson thinks he is fixing the place very nicely for himself, but we must stop this loading of the State with freak laws.

"The women should organize in direct co-operation with the men. Women should not flock by themselves in politics. Don't forget that the vote of the washerwoman is as good as yours."

Variel urged organization in city blocks and a house-to-house canvass as the means of bringing results. He said that the so-called Progressives were encouraging the spirit of discontent voiced by Socialists and that the situation is menacing to good government.

Spring began his address by speaking of the enfranchisement of women, and said that he had not yet got accustomed to calling them "fellow-citizens," but he proposed to begin now. He told them that people who believe in reasonable and concrete legislation, to save the State from nonsensical, meaningless and disastrous legislation, must get together under the banner of the Republican party, and he then gave some straight advice:

ON THE LEVEL.

"You must not organize according to the value of the feathers in your hat, nor the quality of the clothes you wear. Every woman has the same right as you have. There must be no feeling that 'I am a little better than you.' The woman who must earn the bread for the family is your sister, and just as necessary to the country—and she is far more numerous. If you properly organize, we will win.

"We have the most nonsensical laws and ordinances that ever afflicted any people. The so-called Progressives are not men of great ideals. A few men, grasping problems too big for their intellect, but not big enough for their ambition, started the organization out of a federation of fantastic ideals, and in order to gain the attention of women's clubs and other federations took these for their platform.

"One Hiram Johnson is a man who will cater to any whim to please anybody, no matter what effect it may have on the people at large, and that is the thing that confronts us. Your influence is very great, and we appeal to you to help us."

Mrs. J. W. Summerfield is secretary of the club and will be glad to enroll Republican women among its members.

WOULD REDUCE RATES.

Cotton Shippers Desire Better Conditions for Sending Staple to Coast Markets.

An application of J. J. Chappell to compel a reduction of cotton rates approximating 30 per cent. between Imperial Valley points and this city and Oakland was entertained by the State Railroad Commission and subjected to assault by attorneys for the Southern Pacific in a forty-five-minute hearing yesterday before Commissioner Edgerton.

Chappell, who is a cotton broker, asked that the rate to this city be cut from 50 to 35 cents a hundred, to San Pedro from 65 to 40 cents and to Oakland from 95 to 65 cents. His premise was that the reduction in rates would be an incentive to a large movement of Imperial Valley cotton to the Orient, and to Japan particularly, where cotton of high quality is in ready demand. Chappell alleged that through the operation of advantageous rates the Texas growers are shipping cotton at a large profit to Japan through the Suez Canal.

Attorney Squires for the Southern Pacific countered by an array of figures showing that cotton now enjoys a relatively low rate from the Imperial Valley to the ports of the State, though admitting that the Texas rates are lower. The reason for this, according to Squires, is because the cotton tonnage of Texas is normally around 2,500,000 tons, while the Imperial Valley normally contributes about 17,000 tons to the railroads.

revolting crimes that would fill the pages of the yellowest-backed dime novel ever written. He confessed to the slaying of Mrs. Gay, but ascribed the deed to "voices" who impelled him to use the gas pipe on the defenseless woman.

He told of his early life as a bellboy for Miss Helen Mathewson of the Hersney Arms, and swore he set fire to the Coronado Hotel, this city, in September, 1905, out of pique over some fancied wrong.

He admitted killing Mrs. Melvina P. Haskin at Compton, and in the same emotionless, low tone, told of sending poisoned candy to his enemies and of trying on three separate occasions to kill Miss Mathewson by sending her or leaving in the house deadly bombs.

The jury looked at the negro in amazement. Many of the women spectators shuddered with horror and several left the courtroom, so realistic was the story. There is no question but that Attorney Cerutti is fighting to save his client from the extreme penalty. Upon Harris's confession life imprisonment is the least he can expect. He admitted having uncontrollable impulses to commit crime. The jury will have to decide whether the negro is insane or can distinguish between right and wrong.

The first part of the recital has already been told. Harris said after the Gay murder was committed he went home, changed his clothes, buried all his bloody garments and then went to sleep. Next day, after looking for a job at a garage, he went to San Diego.

He said ever since he was young he experienced times when the lust for blood was beyond his control, and when he felt that if he did not kill someone he would be slain himself. The doctors, two on each side, will have an opportunity to air their views today.

After he concluded Deputy District Attorney Blair did not try cross-examination. He apparently felt the negro had convicted himself unless the brutality of it all convinces the jury the man is errational.

In rebuttal many witnesses went on the stand to declare in their opinion Harris is fairly normal, and that he is a remarkably bright young negro, who is using the last chance to escape from the fate which may be in store for him.

It is possible the case will be finished today.

THE STRENGTH OF UNITY.

South Pasadena has a plan for the union of several neighboring towns in a large new sewer system for mutual service. It is in meeting exactly such needs as this that annexation is so great a boon.

COMPENSATION.

Nine Governors attended the meeting at Columbus of the Anti-Saloon League. If they slighted our California wines on this occasion there must have been an abundant flow of our grape juice. They can't beat California. The world needs us.

NEVER DIE.

Some mail, though incorrectly addressed, never reaches the dead letter office. The Postoffice Department has ruled that all letters addressed to Santa Claus will be delivered to charitable persons. Saint Nicholas is a spiritual fact personalized by every good man and woman in the world.

NOT UNANIMOUS.

It is said that President Wilson is looking for a good man to succeed Huerta in the palace at Mexico City. Just what authority Mr. Wilson has for naming himself as a nominating committee of one does not quite appear. Neither can we feel entirely assured that the Mexican people will be unanimous in ratifying a President so elevated.

BUSINESS.

Secretary Bryan must have taken two glasses of grape juice for supper the other night instead of one. He wrote the German government a letter demanding the same equality in trade over there for Americans that is now allowed the Japanese. If this keeps on an American abroad will have as much standing as a man from China or Korea. Of course, we do not expect this to apply to Mexico, where the indemnity on a Chinaman is $10,000, and on an American $2000.

DIFFERENT.

A juror up at Quincy, in Plumas county, was dismissed from the box after being accepted by both sides because of having said that an editor should be hanged for shooting a lawyer. If he had said that a lawyer should be hanged for shooting an editor that would have been a manly expression of a fundamental truth, but to hang so useful a member of society as an editor merely for removing from the scene of human activities so pernicious a being as a lawyer—that's different.

CERTAIN TO FAID.

The Chauffeurs' Union in New York will have a hard time making its strike stick. Automobile owners are seldom at the mercy of paid drivers. They understand their own cars and enjoy running them. If a chauffeur throws himself out of a good job he will embarrass himself more than anybody else. His employer can do without him far better than he can do without food. It is never the dependency of one factor on the other that counts, but the urgent demand of life on every man that he do his part.

THEY DON'T LIKE IT.

The Stratford-on-Avon players, who are English in fact as well as in name, and who offer their Shakespeare on Ben Greet lines, have opened their American engagement at Chicago and some of the things which the critics there have said about them do not make pleasant reading for ambitious actors. The people of this country may go to see nature unadorned on the stage once in a great while as a novelty, but a little of that sort of thing goes a long way. The naked truth is all well enough, but one dislikes paying $2 to see it in a theater.

HIS OWN WAY.

If the President of the United States suddenly decided that he could get along better with Congress half the size it is now and ordered the half he didn't like to go home and declare itself unelected and permanently out of politics his popularity as President would not last long. Neither would his job. Over in China Presidents have their country better in hand. Yuan Shi Kai is handling his situation that way and nobody has a word against it. They may have thoughts to the contrary, but they don't say them for fear of losing their heads and of never being able to say anything again.

DAYTIME VALUABLE.

Without romping and frolic and the merry distracting hubbub of children's voices life would soon be as tiresome as a twicetold tale, vexing the drowsy ear. The fogies who object to the noise and racket of youngsters at play should live in padded rooms with cotton wads jammed into their ears till they have learned the power of concentration. They could then pursue their dull routine oblivious to the sweetest song, the cheeriest music in life—the joyous cries of the boy and girl at play, developing a fund of sunshine and optimism to bless them in after life, when the wheels don't run so swiftly.

We don't want to put old heads on young shoulders; we want to preserve young heads on bent backs. And we would like to "put a head" on anyone who snarls about the voices of the children at play.

MEXICO MAY DECLARE WAR.

If President Wilson were surreptitiously trying to force Mexico into a declaration of war against the United States he would meddle with the affairs of that government, interfere with its administrative efforts to establish order, and encourage Carranza and his rebels to continue their depredations. All of those things he has done and is doing, seemingly for want of better judgment rather than for an ulterior motive.

President Wilson apparently needs some one to inform him that he was not elected to be ruler of Mexico, or to dictate to that country. But blindly, stupidly, aggressively he is harassing Huerta with impossible demands, and threatening him with furnishing assistance to Carranza. If President Wilson lifts the embargo on arms and violates the neutrality laws of the nations for the benefit of the rebels, as his personal representative, William Bayard Hale, has stated would be done if Carranza would make certain promises, then Huerta or his regime may declare war and force this country into an imbroglio that will quickly involve Germany, England, France—and Japan.

This is all speculation; but Huerta or his crowd would have nothing to lose and everything to gain by such an act. He could not hope to defeat this nation, but he could hope to humiliate President Wilson for violating the neutrality law, and he could hope to entangle the United States in international complications, especially with Japan. Huerta is too well known as an audacious, hazard-taking dictator to expect that after scorning Mr. Wilson's preachments and impositions he would not pull down the temple of the world's peace with the chance of bettering himself rather than tamely allow the United States to aid his enemies with the foreknowledge of disaster.

The American people are learning that the man who has trained himself in the schoolroom to make beautiful speeches, who has modulated his theories to win public approval, lacks the judgment and balance of a statesman. He has shown himself to be a petulant schoolmaster who is piqued because the leader of a foreign government does not obey instructions, and for punishment proposes to break this nation's oath and aid a mob of rebels who are willing to make promises!

When President Wilson demanded the protection of American lives and American property in Mexico he touched the limits of his authority with that country. He has no more right to prescribe whom they shall have for President, Dictator or Emperor than he has to tell the King of England what His Majesty shall eat for breakfast. President Wilson objects to Huerta because his morals and policies do not suit. If Mr. Wilson is more interested in the morals and policies of Mexico's leader—whether it is Huerta or any one else—than he is in the dignity of this nation, than he is in sanctity of the neutrality laws, he is unworthy of the high honor received from the hands of the American public.

Reports emanating almost hourly from Mexico say that Huerta has fled, that he has defied the United States, or that he has done something else. If he goes, someone will take his place, and what is done in Mexico—outside of the protection of American lives and property—is no official concern of the United States, and especially is it shamefully degrading the dignity of this nation to have "special representatives" of the President practically slapped in the face for meddling with affairs that are none of their business and only because they are obeying instructions of the nation's highest official.

It would seem to one surveying even casually the great legislative and financial problems now existing in this country that Mr. Wilson would have sufficient material to occupy his attention without tampering with the Mexican situation, without making a series of moves and threats, which, if not discontinued, will drive Mexico into some desperate action that must inevitably lead to war. And war with Mexico would be a terrible thing. Our armies could easily enough fight their way through from place to place, but the guerrilla fighting would continue year after year until in impotent shame we would execrate the folly that led us into it.

Have the French in Algeria not learned a lesson in fighting an inferior country by which we could profit? Was not the dreadful humiliation of England in the Transvaal sufficient to show the miserableness of a useless war? Have we so soon forgotten the tragedies of our occupation in the Philippines, where the savages laid low hundreds and thousands of loyal and brave Americans? Then above all things should we avoid a war with a country for no more of a reason than that the morals of its President do not meet with the approval of our President?

HOBSON'S CHOICE.

The conscience of President Wilson is so completely ossified that the unbending spire of Trinity Church is as a reed shaken by the wind in comparison. His moral efficiency clutches any temptation to do wrong in its relentless grasp and hurls it into the discard. Yet he is not devoid of gratitude and—occasion offering—does not fail to do as much good unto others as others have done unto him.

The vacancy in the United States Senate caused by the death of Senator Johnston offered him such an opportunity. It is an open secret that Mr. Wilson's nomination at Baltimore was obtained by getting Mr. Underwood of Alabama out of the way. What promises were made to Underwood to secure his withdrawal nobody knows, and indeed nobody cares, but he went out and the Princeton pedagogue went in.

President Wilson partly discharged this obligation and partly increased it by having Underwood made Chairman of the House Committee on Ways and Means and together in midnight secrecy they concocted the tariff bill which the President in defiance of his published advocacy of "legislating in the open" caused to be secretly jammed through the Democratic caucus.

When Senator Johnston died, Underwood announced himself as a candidate for the vacant toga. But there were others who had similar aspirations, and among the others was Congressman Henry D. Clayton of the Third Alabama District. Mr. Clayton was credited with being the best all-around rustler in Alabama. His aspirations were in the way of Underwood's success. Then the President addressed to Clayton a letter that was both cordial and cunning. He assured Clayton that the country needed him on the Committee on Ways and Means and the Committee on Banking and Currency, and the Committee on Judiciary. He said: "I was looking forward with great satisfaction to working with you and having your experienced counsel and assistance in the work that is before us. It seems to me, indeed, indispensable in the carrying out of our party's programme."

The tariff was safe. The currency bill might be put through without Clayton. But the trust-busting programme needed him. From Maine to Texas the trust-busters were crying for him even as infants howl for soothing syrup and opodeldoc.

Clayton yielded to the praises and prayers of Wilson and withdrew from the Senatorial canvass.

Did Underwood then have a clear track? Not, as the absent big bull moose would say, "not on your tin type." There came another Richmond into the field—Richmond P. Hobson. The Merrimac-sinking Hobson, who is now a prohibitionist, but whose first act when captured and brought before the Spanish admiral was to demand a drink of whisky for himself and his six dripping heroes; the osculating Hobson who kissed his way to Denver and back without flinching a lip or batting an eye; the prohibitionist Hobson who once set his face against whisky and now sets it against barkeepers who vend whisky; the Japanese-destroying, battleship-building all-around whoop-her-up hero.

Hobson was an opponent not to be despised, and Wilson could not fool him as he did Clayton. Underwood recognized this and made an attack upon the naval hero at home and in the House of Representatives. He accused him of a whole lot of things. He said that Hobson, by voting for the Pomerene amendment to repeal the $1.10 tax on brandies used to fortify wines, evinced a desire to poison the people with cheap, impure Ohio wines preserved by benzoate of soda instead of brandy. He said that he did not accuse Hobson of being a tool of the shipbuilding interests, although he voted to help them. He said that Hobson abandoned his party and voted against placing lumber on the free list, that he preferred to tax the shelter of the poor and stand by the lumber trust that was a stench in the nostrils of the country.

Mr. Underwood for an hour eulogized his own Democracy and assailed that of Hobson and then gave way to Congressman Donovan, the self-appointed monitor and timekeeper of the House.

Donovan said that Hobson was a "pot;" that he was "in a hole;" that he was an absentee who voted only twenty-six times and was absent twelve times; that he voted eight times with the Republicans; that he deserted the interests of Alabama while he—Donovan—protected them; that imagination was Hobson's stock in trade; that he voted with the Payne-Aldrich crew. Donovan in conclusion indorsed the New York World in saying that Hobson was a nuisance, and that with his militarism, his jingoism and his anti-Japanism, he has been a visitation upon his afflicted country.

Underwood's attack upon his rival can be understood, but Donovan's assault upon Hobson is inexplicable unless it can be accounted for upon the supposition that the Hibernian strain in his blood made it impossible for him to see a row going on without participating in it.

HOME RULE IN IRELAND.

Suppose it were possible for Congress to enact a law to transfer to the State Legislature of Louisiana or South Carolina the power to make local laws for the government of Massachusetts. Is it not probable that Boston would be heard from in tones of violent remonstrance not unmixed with threats of armed resistance?

The political, social and racial differences between a native of Dublin and a native of Belfast are greater than any that ever existed even in the days of slavery between a Mississippian anxious to keep his negroes and a Vermonter anxious to relieve him of them.

Ireland consists of thirty-two counties. Eight of these are in the province of Ulster. These eight counties have 22 per cent. of the land and 30 per cent. of the population of Ireland. Their people are descendants of the Scotch and Scotch-Irish people who have occupied the north of Ireland for centuries, and who aided William of Orange and his English army to defeat the allied Irish, French and English forces at the battle of the Boyne, more than two centuries ago.

The war was less a war of dynasties than a religious war. Two generations later it was found that the Roman Catholics in Ulster were but one in fifteen of the population, and it is said that this disparity continues to the present day.

Home rule for Ireland consists of a restoration of the Irish Parliament that was abolished more than a century ago. To this Parliament would be given with some modification the same right to make laws for the local government of Ireland that is accorded to the Canadian Parliament for the government of the Dominion.

Ulster is apprehensive that if Ireland shall be accorded home rule it will result in the representatives of the twenty-four middle and southern counties of Ireland inflicting on the people of the eight northern counties drastic and oppressive laws that will invade their liberties, overtax their property and make whistling the tune of "The Boyne Water" a penal offense.

Dublin replies that both King James and King William have been thoroughly dead for two centuries, and that Belfast has no occasion to get into a state of mind over the situation.

There are not wanting British statesmen who profess to share the apprehensions of the people of Ulster. Sir Edward Carson indorses them, and last week Mr. Balfour made a speech in Aberdeenshire in which he declared that the home rule measure of the Liberal party was "an experiment in Federalism of the most impossible, unexampled and preposterous character." He called upon the government before delivering things to the utmost extremity to ask the people by means of a referendum whether they really wished this measure to pass.

The latest cable advices are that the people of Belfast are determined to oppose the imposition of home rule in every way and that they will offer armed resistance to any law that a Dublin Parliament will enact. It is reported that $1,000,000,000 has been pledged for a defense fund.

His Majesty's government appears to be between the devil and the deep sea. If it grants home rule Ulster will secede. If it refuses to grant it Southern Ireland will secede.

How would it do to divide Ireland into two colonial governments, giving autonomy to each?

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

The man who pays his bills on time finds life a journey most sublime; he has a minimum of care; the glad hand greets him everywhere; on every doormat there appears the "Welcome" word, through all his years; and parents see he's in the swim, and name their babies after him, and lovely girls he round him finds, with "Bridal Chorus" in their minds. And when he's old, his whiskers white, he's held up as a shining light; the young are urged to gang his gait and keep their credit clean and straight; and when he shuts his world-worn eyes, and kicks the bedclothes off and dies, deep sorrow does the town enfold, and all the bells in grief are tolled. When to the boneyard he is borne the people all turn out to mourn, and see that he is planted right, and touching elegies indite. But he who doesn't pay his bills is always faced by grievous ills; no girls are camping on his trail to work him for a wedding veil, and people view him with disdain, and say he gives the town a pain. He slinks through life with furtive step, to dodge the Sheriff or his dep.

DESPERATE SOULS.

BY LILLIAN COLLINS.

I was much impressed by an able article upon our penal system in the Sunday Times, written by Walter C. Fisher, a Los Angeles attorney. The spirit of the article was so kindly and tolerant, its logic so sane and wholesome, its passionate arraignment of injustice so stimulating, much good must result from it.

In his article Mr. Fisher makes a very original application of the spirit of our age—specialization.

"In this day of specialization we should not attempt to deal generally with those who break our laws. The individual case should be studied and the offender sent where he can be benefited, and only as a last resort and in a helpless case should he be sent to Folsom or San Quentin.

"We send a man to San Quentin or Folsom and he comes back to us a moral and physical degenerate and pervert. And this in the name of law and order! This in the name of common sense and decency! This in the name of political and sociological economy! This in the name of civilization and Christianity!"

Thus does Mr. Fisher write upon the subject of our State prisons, which he appropriately terms "Schools of Crime." It is an article well worth close study—this story of the educational and reformative value of penal punishment.

When the inadequacy of our present penal system stands so plainly revealed to thinking minds, what then is the barrier that intervenes to prevent a more equitable adjustment?

Most people will tell you it is money—or rather the lack of money.

Talk with whomever you choose upon the matter of prison reform; see if they do not almost unanimously agree that it is the want of means which hampers their efforts to secure a reformative plan for the treatment of criminals, to supersede the retaliatory practice of punishment as now in use.

Want of means with which to give unfortunate men a chance to reform the structure of brain and body to conform to the requirements of social safety!

Yet enough money is expended every year in the maintenance of freak laws, and a futile dabbling in experimental legislation, to institute some really effective process of corrective education.

Dollars—or souls?

It's a rather big question, isn't it?

It is not that there is an insufficiency of money; it is not that society is withholding its money; it is not that the humanitarian instinct itself is wanting—it is merely that the money which society taxes itself to provide for social safety is being expended upon a false basis of values; and because society as a whole does not yet recognize its responsibility for the welfare of the individual.

I am not preaching Socialism. I do not myself believe in the practicality of the socialistic ideal. I believe in the development of the individual through personal effort; but I likewise believe in giving to every individual a chance to develop.

To all humankind is given a common need—the need to sustain life. To sustain life the individual must work; to be able to work and so adequately meet the problem of his support he must be supplied with a proper equipment of tools with which to labor. For this equipment society must render its account in the final adjustment of claims.

Let us glance at the equipment of the average young person of criminal tendency. We will doubtless find some mental deficiency which registers in obliquity of moral vision; or hereditary instinct manifesting in youthful delinquency; or perhaps insufficient or ill-advised discipline in the formative period of life. With one or more of these conditions present in the child's personality he soon acquires the inevitable "bad name" which closes to him profitable avenues for wage-earning. In addition to these tremendous dragging weights his life is lived amid unhappy and ungenial surroundings which urge him to iniquitous forms of excess at every turn.

Life was breathed into him—and an imperative obligation to sustain that life was laid upon him in this same moment; became, indeed, the first law of his existence. He sets to work upon this primal task, using the tools he finds ready to hand in the grudging equipment which society has apportioned to him. Do we still wonder that he sometimes writes his name upon the records of life in the blood of an outraged society?

I am not defending the criminal as a criminal. I do not regard the criminal as irresponsible in the ordinary understanding of the term, in the matter of accountability. Many of these unfortunate creatures deliberately choose what they believe to be the easy path of life. What I do maintain, however, is that all criminals are deficient in some degree, else they could not so choose. I do believe that some defectiveness within themselves urges them beyond their power to resist. I find it in me to hope that if the problem of sustaining life be not made too difficult for their puny strength—mental, moral or even physical—in most cases the initial propulsion toward crime would not manifest in actuality.

When society shall come to recognize its responsibility in the matter of creating a criminal class, we shall not have far to seek for the solution of the tremendous sociological problem which this class embodies in concrete form. Having by its negligence and selfish preoccupation permitted this highly dangerous class to evolve, it is indispensable that all criminals be given a chance to rehabilitate themselves with the social body in order that society, itself, shall develop equally and symmetrically. As the strength of a chain lies in its weakest link, so the real efficiency of a society demonstrates through its lowest unit. There are peace and safety for none so long as the great factory of materialism continues to turn out its hordes of desperate souls each year.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

The Art Quarrel.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Reading an article in Sunday's Times about the disagreement between the new Museum Board and the California Art Club, it occurs to me that the Club, if, judging from the recent exhibition, it is going up to the elevated standard it set up to the elevated standard it proposes to assign to itself—nor all of the best artists members of the club, as can easily be seen.

The Museum of Art as a public institution should be governed by experienced men and women—not by any clique or individual and independent of their narrow and self-seeking.

Why did the present Hanging Committee of the Museum of Art select some of the best places for their own, often poor, work, elevating themselves at the expense of some better artists?

It is evidently thought that a background of white marble was too conspicuous and rightly so—but why subject others to this outrage?

The Hanging Committee ought to consist of men experienced in art matters, and no competing artists ought to be allowed to push their own prejudices.

In the gallery was insufficiently lighted there were so many outsiders hung, why not one picture by each instead of three.

We need a strong, just hand to rule and push the unjust, self-seeking out to his right place.

The Museum of Art is a splendid thing and one of the finest institutions of refinement and culture and must not be given over to narrow-minded ignorance.

Los Angeles is growing bigger, broader and more just; it will not tolerate this new and splendid institution as a set of party-ruled painters as a hanging committee whose members are not men enough to do justice.

NEW BOULEVARD TO THE BEACH.

PARK ORGANIZATION WANTS RIGHT OF WAY.

Public-Spirited Citizen Offers More Than His Share to Induce Proposed Route to the Beach Collides With Cannon Point Count.

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 13.—A party consisting of G. W. Fox, James and J. E. Minor was present at a meeting of the Ocean Park Progressive Association last night to secure the right of way for the proposed boulevard from Los Angeles to Santa Monica, by way of the Inland boulevard, ending at Ocean Park.

The communication has been received by the association from C. Q. Cooper, who owns 140 acres of land within the city limits through which the road must pass, offering the right of way through his property, in addition to agreeing to widen the road through this land to the width of eighty feet.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Slowly ascending the wide steps from the main lagoon, Venice Boulevard avenue, under the shelter of an umbrella which she held over her face to keep off the stinging rain, Miss Genevelve Smith, a visitor from El Paso, collided with the cannon standing at the top of the steps with such force that it knocked her unconscious to the brink of the pool below. She was picked up insensible and taken to her home, where she was revived the extent of her injuries proved to be a slight bruise on her forehead.

Edward, secretary of the California Realty Board, delivered an address on "The Annual Code of Realty Dealers at Del Rey" at a meeting of the Venice Board of Realty Dealers at Del Rey last night. Members Messrs. Peterson and Eakins were appointed to take charge of organizing realty boards in South Ocean Park and Santa Monica. Members of the Venice Board applied their stamp of approval to a petition being circulated among the realty dealers of all Venice, calling for a law providing that property owners vote a bond election. It was decided at the meeting that Venice be converted into a boulevard and definite action was taken to that effect.

Now that a storm is raging thousands of sea gulls desert the rocks on the Santa Monica beach this afternoon, presenting a sight to visitors. The birds will rest several hours in the water, through resting from a long journey, unusual for these birds to assemble in large numbers. Old sailors along the beach, at the action of the gulls, declare that there is an unusual wind prevailing in the ocean, not only upon extraordinary occasions do the sea birds seek refuge from the elements.

Though the police have not been successful in apprehending the thief who entered the apartment of Miss Ethel Smith, on Mildred avenue, and stole therefrom the lady's entire wardrobe with the exception of one pair of stockings, which he overlooked, Miss Wallace returned only a short time thereafter. TO RESUME ELK HILLS CASE.

Former United States District Attorney Will Leave for San Francisco, Where Sur-Rebuttal Begins.

Former United States District Attorney A. I. McCormick will leave for San Francisco today to be present at the resumption of testimony in the Elk Hills case, which begins there on Monday. The evidence in behalf of the defendant corporation, the Southern Pacific Company, has been completed, and the government is now presenting its sur-rebuttal.

While in the north McCormick will consult with United States District Judge M. T. Dooling, who has been designated by Judge Gilbert, senior justice of the United States Court of Appeals, to hear the "withdrawal" oil suits, as to when the court will hear the arguments on the motion of the defendants to dismiss the "withdrawal" complaints.

That is the next move in the litigation, Judge Wellborn being disqualified from sitting in the case, Judge Dooling is well-known in Los Angeles, having presided for several months in the local courts as one of the extra judges called to assist in clearing up the docket. He will assume the duties of his new position on December 1, and he will move to Bakersfield with his family.

For Harmony's Sake.

OUSTER MAY BE WAY TO PEACE.

Plans to Remove Head of the Civil Service Discussed.

Row With District Attorney Starts Ball Rolling.

Would Test Evans's Schemes by Court Action.

As the result of Wednesday's tilt between Chairman Evans of the County Civil Service Commission and Dist.-Atty. Fredericks, a movement was reported about the Hall of Records yesterday to request the Supervisors to remove Evans from his present position, which can be done by a four-fifths vote. It is thought that if the Supervisors should become aware of an overwhelming sentiment against Evans they will discharge him him in the interest of harmony and on account of his Utah record.

Though Evans has disclaimed any connection with E. T. Earl, he has gone to the former rebater with all his complaints and interviews and the county officials believe that he and Earl are in hearty accord in the attempted formation of a county political machine and that desperate efforts are being made to oppose both the District Attorney and the Sheriff in their efforts to keep up a high standard in their respective offices.

As far as Capt. Fredericks and County Counsel Hill are concerned, neither will take any part in the projected move to oust Evans from his office and substitute somone calculated better to get along harmoniously with the other commissioners and with the heads of the departments.

It was Evans who wanted to subject Dr. Whitman, superintendent of the County Hospital, to a civil service examination, and he went so far as to post notices that Dr. Whitman, County Counsel Hill and other experienced heads of various departments must subject themselves to an examination.

However, upon advice from some source Evans receded from this attitude. Atty.-Gen. Webb has rendered a number of opinions recently in regard to the scope of the State Civil Service Commission that apply to the county as well.

WILL HE RESIGN?

It is believed that the Supervisors have an experienced man in view for the position of Civil Service Commissioner and that if Evans should see fit to experiment with handing in his resignation it will be accepted without comment, except from Norton, who has consistently stood by his friend in their numerous bickerings with the District Attorney and the County Counsel.

Commissioners Hunter and Sykes have worked with the Supervisors in a harmonious manner, but Evans has apparently felt that the board has been too friendly with Capt. Fredericks.

Evans issued a statement yesterday in which he outlined some of his reasons for his repeated altercations with Capt. Fredericks.

"Capt. Fredericks has consistently sustained the County Counsel and assisted him in rendering opinions to the effect that nearly all of the charter provisions relative to civil service are unconstitutional and ineffective," states Evans.

Evans also says that the primary difference between Capt. Fredericks and him are that the former is opposed to the merit system as applied to his own office.

"It seems an unwarranted assumption upon the part of the District Attorney to call upon me for resignation," adds Evans. "He should cast the beam out of his own eye in order to give him a clearer vision as to the mote he thinks exists in the other fellow's eye."

WHERE FREDERICKS STANDS.

The District Attorney does not oppose the principles of civil service, as he has repeatedly told the Supervisors, but he is seeking a way in which the principles of efficiency can be applied by the board even though the creation of the County Civil Service Commission is unconstitutional and inoperative in the opinion of judges and leading lawyers.

In his own office he is willing to have any member of his force go before eight or ten judges of the Superior Court and receive their indorsement and then be voted on by the Supervisors, but he says that he does not propose to hamper the work of criminal investigation and prosecution by allowing persons who lack the qualifications give so-called examinations.

It is pointed out that if Commissioner Evans is allowed to build up an illegal civil service system, when new department heads are elected anyone can go into the courts and have the law adjudicated illegal, thus depriving hundreds of competent, efficient attaches of their employment.

County Counsel Hill believes that the Supervisors can work out the ideas embodied in civil service and also consult with the present commission, but he says he will not render opinions which he believes are untrue simply for the sake of placating Evans or anyone else.

Hill makes the point that if Evans does not believe in the legal opinion rendered the Supervisors he can easily test it in the courts.

EMERSON KNIGHT IN EUROPE.

What an Eight Months' Tour Through Chief Cities of Central and Western Europe May Embrace.

On February 2, 1913, Emerson Knight of Los Angeles boarded a train for New York, whence he sailed on the great liner Kaiserin Auguste Victoria direct for Hamburg, arriving at that dominant seaport of Northern Germany on the first of March. After spending three days there he proceeded to Berlin and remained at that magnificent capital till March 18, visiting the art galleries, the temples of music, and historic monuments. He next sought the great book marts at Leipzig, lingered five days among the art galleries at Dresden, paused at quaint old Nuremburg, spent seven days in Munich—making a total of five weeks in Germany.

On April 5 he entered Italy, stopping successively at Verona, at Venice, five days in Florence, at Naples and Pompeii, and eleven days among the historic associations of venerable Rome. Thence he visited Pisa, Genoa and Milan—a total of six weeks in Italy.

He then turned his face northward via Switzerland, visiting romantic Lugano, Lucerne and Zurich, and remained for some days with friends at St. Gallen.

His trip down the Rhine, partly by steamer and rail, and partly afoot, included Basel, Strasburg, Heidelberg, Frankfort, Wiesbaden, Coblentz and Bonn to Cologne. In Holland he visited Amsterdam, Haarlem, The Hague, Delft and Rotterdam. Belgium included stops at Antwerp, Brussels and Ghent.

Two months were spent among the art treasures and historic scenes of Paris, whence he made excursions to St. Denis, Chartres, Versailles, St. Cloud, Chantilly, Malmaison and Pierrefonde. Thence he passed through Rouen and Dieppe to the British shores at New Haven and so on to London.

The marvelous world capital was his headquarters for two months, from August 12 to October 14, during which interval he made excursions to other cities and cathedral towns. One of these took him to the important maritime city of Hull on the east coast of England, and to Beverly, Scarborough and York. Another was a pedestrian tour of 283 miles, through the southeastern counties of Kent, Surrey, Hampshire and Sussex, including the Isle of Wight, and occupied fifteen days. Starting homeward from London he visited Oxford, Warwick, Kenilworth, Stratford-on-Avon, Chester and Liverpool.

From that port he sailed on the Empress of Britain to Quebec, where he arrived October 25. Thence via Montreal, Toronto, Detroit, Chicago, Atchison (where he stopped with friends a few days,) Salt Lake City and the Western Pacific (the new overland route) to San Francisco, arriving at Los Angeles November 10. About 16,000 miles were covered in the entire journey.

REALTY MAN RELATES WHAT HE LEARNS ON TRIP.

British Highways Are Better Kept Up Than Ours and Railroad Crossings Are Protected—Southerner Tells of the Wisdom of Building City Parks Early.

Three exceptional men delivered unusual addresses before the Los Angeles Realty Board at its luncheon at Christopher's yesterday. The praises of California were sounded in golden speech and the needs of its greatest city announced with that courage which sees the remedy easily at hand.

William M. Garland, lately returned from an automobile tour of France, England, Ireland, Holland and Germany, spoke with feeling of Los Angeles in comparison with all other cities, declaring this to be the most prosperous, as well as the loveliest. He spoke with perfect confidence of present conditions, which, he said, reflect only the current temper of the entire country, and which will quickly be clarified, just as the beautiful rains of yesterday and the day before have sweetened the air and nourished the earth.

Nowhere did Garland see so many automobiles as are in Los Angeles county, but the English system of keeping its road good, he thinks better than ours, and his advice is that this county make adequate provision, now that it has them, to keep its excellent roads up to their high standard and save money by preserving instead of rebuilding.

He had been struck with the English practice of avoiding railroad crossings, because their roads always go under or over steel tracks, thereby saving the sad sacrifice of life which is made almost daily in this county and elsewhere in the State. Garland said that nearly every man who drives a car is only a child at play and will not protect himself with sensible precautions at curves and dangerous crossings.

The wisdom of beginning early on an adequate system of public parks was emphasized by former Judge James Banks, recently from Alabama, where for many years he presided as chief justice of the State Supreme Court. Banks is an orator of the old school and his address was beautiful in its color and diction. Cities, he said, are cruel and hard, and they need streaks of color to brighten their somber picture, and gardens of beauty to break their sordidness.

John S. McGroarty spoke on sentiment and history in business. He related how many believe the old myth that the name California, is a combination of Greek and Latin words meaning "fiery furnace," when in reality California, as a word, was invented by a Spanish novelist before America was discovered, and the name was given a dream island located in unknown seas. This was more of a prophecy than a romance, because California therein was a land of gold ruled by women.

PRESENT BIBLICAL DRAMA.

The first of two productions of "The Shepherd of Bethlehem," a four-act Biblical drama by Frederick H. Wilson, was given at the Auditorium last evening for the benefit of the I.O.O.F. and Rebekah lodges of Los Angeles. The attendance was about 1500. Wilson appeared in the title role of Saul, the "mad King of Israel." Mrs. B. Percy Greenfield played the part of David, and W. R. Blair that of Jesse. The performance will be repeated this evening.

of Temple street west of Vermont, with the necessary connections, and extending from Figueroa street in a westerly direction to the westerly city limits.

(2.) That said street be built 120 feet wide between the property lines, taking the additional width over and above what is now within the street limits from either or both sides, as the City Engineer may recommend.

(3.) That the said street be designed to have a sidewalk on each side, each sidewalk to be sixteen feet wide, said sidewalks to be wholly or partially paved.

(4.) That a double-track railway for city and suburban cars be provided for in the center of the street, with proper provision of waiting platforms at stopping stations of the street cars.

(5.) That a system of underground ducts be provided for water, sewage and wires.

(6.) That a system of ornamental lighting be provided.

(7.) That the City Engineer endeavor to conform his re-establishment of grades to the attached profile so that no grade shall be greater than 3 per cent.

(8.) That an assessment district be formed extending from the Los Angeles River to the western city limits, and from Wilshire boulevard to Sunset boulevard, or such part thereof as may seem to be benefited by the work proposed.

WEST FIRST-STREET IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION,
By Ralph Bennett,
Chairman Petition Committee.

N.E.W. COMMERCIAL AND IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION,
By Samuel Storrow,
Chairman Committee for the Improvement of West First Street.

Emmet H. Wilson, representing a number of protestants against the boulevard, argued that the widening and grading necessary for the transformation of First street into a great traffic artery would entail an expense that would bear heavily upon the frontage owners and that the boulevard would not be worth the cost. The proponents of the improvement were instantly on their feet with a volley fire of rebuttal.

SITUATION A DISGRACE.

Gilbert S. Wright, owning and representing 1100 feet of frontage on the line of the proposed boulevard and 6500 feet of frontage in the district that will have to bear the assessment for the project, gave a stirring talk in which he declared the present street and boulevard situation in Northwest Los Angeles, a city disgrace. He asserted that the experience of those who years ago all but killed the West Seventh-street widening project should be a valuable lesson to those who are now opposing the improvement of West First.

"Paris owes its fame to its boulevards," said the real estate man, "and London is waking up and condemning hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of property to create new traffic outlets. Los Angeles has a golden opportunity in this First-street project, which can be put through easily and cheaply."

H. Fisher, owning residence property on Temple street west of Vermont, objected to the boulevard on the ground that "it would be used as an automobile speedway and general traffic thoroughfare, to the detriment of the section as a residential district." He was answered by a chorus of denial and Frank Herron, representing the owners of 2100 feet of Temple-street frontage in the same vicinity, declared with emphasis that the boulevard was just the improvement he and many others wanted, even though they would have to sacrifice portions of their frontage to get it.

J. H. Gage rebuked the small owner who thought he couldn't afford to pay the necessary assessment and at the same time kicked because his district is not provided with all the improvements enjoyed by other neighborhoods. He declared that as a small property holder he was ready to dig deep into his pocket because he expected to get his mopey back many times over.

NEEDED AND WANTED.

Fielding J. Stilson laid stress upon the significant fact that the Hollywood advocates of the boulevard had firmly declared that unless the boulevard were assured they would oppose both the First and Second-street tunnels. Stilson, who is secretary of the Petition Committee of the West First-street Improvement Association, emphasized the fact that the boulevard proposition is a serious movement backed by serious people, who believe it to be the only salvation of the northwest.

C. Wesley Roberts gave everyone in the Council chamber food for solemn reflection by stating that if the boulevard and tunnel projects should fail the northwest will be doomed to lay forever behind the rest of the city. He cited the opinions of men representing the loan activities of leading insurance companies and gave instances of the refusal of loans in the district. He said that the opening up of the northwest would mean an instant advance in property and loan values and that the people paying the cost of the improvements would get back many dollars for every dollar expended.

TOO MANY COMPROMISES.

Joseph Mesmer declared that the city "makes too many compromises with kickers and obstructionists." He avowed that if an improvement could be shown to be of general public benefit the protests of the few who might be so short-sighted as to stand in their own light should be ignored for the public good. "The talk about the damage this boulevard will do is preposterous," he said. "There are only three or four buildings of any real value along the entire route of the boulevard."

W. A. Coombs, who has played a prominent part in the circulation of the boulevard petitions, evoked enthusiasm by announcing that a movement has already been started west of the city to carry the West First street boulevard on to the sea, and that a plan is now under discussion for extending East First street as a wide, paved highway on to Whittier.

J. H. Wood said that the West First street boulevard is the biggest and most important improvement projected since the aqueduct was launched. J. M. Snodgrass, president of the West First-street Improvement Association, gave the history of the movement, and outlined plans for action. Miles Gregory and R. W. Dromgold, both former Councilmen, spoke enthusiastically on the plan, the latter declaring that unless the boulevard is made a reality the tunnels themselves will lose half their usefulness. Among others who spoke in favor of the project were Charles Lantz, F. R. Brainerd and Dr. J. W. McReynolds.

— SANTA MONICA RAIN.

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 13.—A light rain that fell here this afternoon increased the amount for the storm to .51 of an inch. This brings the total for the season up to .76 of an inch. In Sawtelle only .32 of an inch was registered for this region, bringing the total for the season up to .49 of an inch.

Sad Is the Story of Confidence Abused

Judge McCormick opening the famous box.

Center of all the trouble between Elie Notreca and Joe Garwo. It was proposed to contain $3150, joint fortunes of the two men. When it was opened yesterday all there was in it was $5 and two old newspapers. The money is gone and so is Garwo. From left to right in the picture are Atty. Goodwin, who appeared for Notreca, Judge McCormick and Atty. McCarthy, for the Commercial National Bank.

Filmflammed.

MYSTERY BOX OPENED; FORTUNE HAS FLOWN

THE mystery of the little tin box has been exploded. Incidentally, Elie Notreca's faith in his fellow man has been shattered. For more than a year he called Joe Garwo his friend. When Garwo suggested to Notreca that they could make a fortune in a corner grocery store, Notreca agreed. He had saved a little fortune against the day when he expected to return to sunny Italy. He said he could put $1150 into the purchase of the grocery. Garwo, a magnanimous friend, offered to put in $2000. He showed Notreca a fat roll on several occasions, as though he was accustomed to carry much money around with him.

They met one day last June and Notreca was for paying the money over at once. Garwo, in his superior wisdom, suggested it would be better to deposit the combined sum in a safe deposit box. Notreca agreed, and bought a little tin box. Notreca tied his little fortune in a handkerchief. Garwo tied his up in a newspaper. He permitted the outside of the roll to be seen by Notreca before the newspaper bundle was tied.

"Now, we shall carry the box to the Commercial National Bank," said Notreca. The box was locked with a little key and together the friends went to the bank, obtained a receipt for the box and chatted for a time, making plans for the corner grocery.

Notreca did not see his friend the next day nor the next, nor as the days passed. It was most mysterious. It clung in his mind that Garwo had been killed. Friends suggested he had fled. But, no, replied he, for why should he take with him $2000 safe in the little tin box in the bank?

Prudence hinted he had better look at the box and look at the money in the bank would not let him do so without an order from the court. He had been deposited jointly by the men and Notreca had not signed Garwo's consent. But how could he when he did not know where his friend was?

Finally Notreca sought out Attorney Goodwin and told him the story.

"I saw the money in the box," said Notreca. Goodwin believed him. On Wednesday obtained an order from Presiding Judge McCormick to open the box in court, where it was ordered to be opened.

The little tin box was brought by Goodwin and Neil J. Mc[illegible], counsel for the Commercial National Bank. It was unlocked by Judge McCormick. Then lawyers, bank officials, the clerk, even the judge were excited. Judge McCormick cut out Garwo's newspaper package before tore open an end, and a pair of scissors went up as real money was expected. But, alas, further investigation showed the package showed $5 was all that remained; the rest was a folded newspaper.

Notreca's handkerchief was empty and it held nothing but a folded newspaper. He had been fleeced of his fortune was gone, so were his plans for a rich old age in sunny Italy. Now he swears vengeance on his friend. He will work and plan to bring him to justice.

NEW BOARD IS CANDID WITH STOCKHOLDERS

THE new directorate of the Los Angeles Investment Company is holding daily sessions, the members devoting several hours of their time to the concern's affairs, and giving it the same attention they give to their own business. These men are doing everything in their power to straighten out the situation for the best interests of all concerned. They now have experts at work on the books and as soon as the auditing is concluded, will be able to make a complete statement.

William Cohn filed notice yesterday of withdrawal and dismissal of the suit against the company, in which William A. Ramsay was joined as plaintiff. The action, so far as Ramsay is concerned, stands. The complaint asks for a receiver for the company. The hearing on an order to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed, will be held before Judge McCormick tomorrow.

The directorate is candid with the stockholders and the public, as is shown by the following statement issued yesterday:

The new board of directors of the Los Angeles Investment Company beg the indulgence of the stockholders thereof until the examination of the books and affairs of the corporation has been made by the experts now at work, and by the new officers of the corporation. We ask the confidence of the stockholders and their assistance. We have stepped in the breach in the interests of the stockholders to preserve this property in its entirety—to put it upon a sound financial basis providing we find it to be a possibility. We are neglecting our own private affairs for your interests and are entirely unselfish in the matter as no member of this board would have accepted a directorship or office if offered it for pecuniary consideration. If you believe the above statement and are willing to instrust us with this work and believe us competent, then we ask you in all fairness to withhold all opinions and give us your undivided confidence, and refrain from any further litigation which cannot possibly do any good, but only gratify the spleen of some disgruntled person or persons who have not the welfare of the corporation at heart, but want to see its assets filtered away in litigation and receiver's fees.

Any person who has entered into a valid contract with the Los Angeles Investment Company for the purchase of real property now owned by the company should realize that his contract is just as effective notwithstanding the change in the directorate, and that no matter what may be the mutations of boards of directors of the corporation there will always be some one who will be the legal representative of the corporation, and he will be in a position to receive all moneys coming due upon compliance with the terms of the contract by the purchaser, and upon performance by the purchaser of the terms of the contract to be performed by the purchaser, will convey such property under the contract. Any failure or neglect on the part of the purchaser to make the payments on a contract as the same comes due would jeopardize his rights, while a compliance with the terms of the contract on the part of the purchaser, will enable the purchaser on completion of the payments under his contract to obtain a deed.

ARRIVE SAFE IN PORT

Mary Dodge With Party Aboard, Arrives at Long Beach, Reports a Safe Voyage.

William Pierce, who left his wife and daughter, was among the passengers, and he reports a most joyable cruise in the north, with no incidents to mar the pleasure.

The only disappointment of the season in Alaska was the poor digging of the placer claims, which was the object of the son's trip. The party left here July 1 and returned here on October 15. They visited Nome, Dawson, Skagway, Juneau, Sitka and other points of interest. The steamer Mary Dodge will go to Alaska again next year, and will probably make a trip from here.

Mary Dodge With Southern Aboard, Arrives at Long Beach Reports a Safe Voyage.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The 400-ton schooner Mary Dodge, Capt. Terry, sailing 123 Southern California members of an Alaskan development company, who have spent the summer in Alaska, arrived in port here last night and is moored at the outer wharf. Nearly all of the passengers left for their homes in Los Angeles and Pasadena.

William Pierson and his wife and daughter, were among the passengers, say the trip was not an enjoyable one both ways, with accidents to mar the pleasure.

The only drawback to the season in Alaska, nothing rich was found in digging of the company's property, which was the object of the schooner's trip. The Mary Dodge left here July 16 and returning left Nome on October 15. During the trip to Nome, in October, they found shelter at Grantly Harbor. The Mary Dodge will go into winter quarters here.

WHITE SOX AT BOYES SPRINGS.

Will Probably Take Spring Training There.

Seals Will Be There at the Same Time.

Three Other Towns Want the Sox to Come.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago's White Sox may do their spring training at Boyes Springs, Cal., in 1914, according to information coming from a reliable source on the Pacific Coast. President Comiskey is due in San Francisco tonight and negotiations may be opened with Boyes Springs residents that may lead to the Sox training there next spring.

Paso Robles, Modesto and Watsonville also want the White Sox, and since only one place will be chosen, three must lose out in the scramble for the honor of taking care of Comiskey's players for their next championship struggle.

Acting Secretary Grabiner also is on his way to the Coast and will close a deal for training quarters at once.

SEALS TO BE THERE.

Arrangements already have been completed for the San Francisco Seals to train at Boyes Springs next spring. This resort is said to have hotel accommodations for both clubs, and plans are under way for building another ball park there. The Sox and Seals can stage a number of practice contests at this training camp. Boyes Springs is said to be the best training camp the Seals have had since they began making visits away from their home city for conditioning purposes.

President Comiskey said before starting on his world tour that he had not decided on training quarters and that his team might not go back to Paso Robles next season.

Residents of Watsonville and Modesto also have made flattering offers for the Sox, and undoubtedly will be considered, as it is understood the team's officials are having trouble closing a satisfactory deal with the management of the Paso Robles Hotel.

BENNY CHAVEZ IS TO FIGHT FOX.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Nov. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Match-maker Eddie Pitts of the State Athletic Club has matched Benny Chavez of Trinidad and Jimmy Fox of San Francisco to meet in a fifteen-round bout at the Stockyards Stadium here Thanksgiving night.

The weight of 120 pounds at 3 o'clock p.m. on the day of the contest will allow Chavez to enter the ring strong, which he was unable to do in his recent bout with Eddie Campi at Los Angeles.

Fox's record shows him to be a clever performer. He has defeated such classy boxers at Eddie Campi, Lee Johnson, Jimmy Carroll, Young Abe Attell, Ad Zotte, Harry Dell and Marty Kane. Besides these boys he defeated more than forty other boxers while battling among the four-rounders of San Francisco. His only defeat was when Johnny Kilbane won from him in a bout at Oakland.

TEDDY EASTERLY IN DIVORCE SUIT.

Here is where "Ted" Easterly comes back to Los Angeles. This time it is not as a big leaguer. "Ted" is going to appear in the major part of plaintiff in a divorce action against his wife, papers having been filed by his attorney, C. A. Stice, yesterday afternoon.

This documentary evidence goes to show that Mrs. Easterly wearied of her husband just five years and five days after the date of matrimony, said date having been August 10, 1905, and the place, Imperial, in the Imperial Valley of this Imperial State.

At the time of becoming tired of her player husband, in 1910, the Easterly couple were sojourning in Cleveland, having with them, Albert Eugene, a little son. Mrs. Easterly is said to be residing with her parents at Calexico at the present time.

The plaintiff asks permanent custody of the son.

Maroons Leave.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Trained to the minute and full of confidence, the University of Chicago football squad left tonight for Minneapolis, where Saturday they will battle Minnesota for the premier conference football honors.

The team departed after a mass meeting of students and a brief signal drill. The players were taken to the station in tallyhos drawn by students.

VARDON AND RAY GIVE IMPRESSIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, the British professional golfers who, during the last three months have played matches throughout the United States, sailed for home today. Speaking of American golfers, Vardon said:

"We have met the best players America had to produce and 'Chick' Evans of Chicago is as good a player as I have ever seen. Ouimet of Massachusetts is the champion, of course, but while he is a wonderful player, I don't think he would have an easy time in Great Britain, as our courses there are more difficult than those we played here.

To be exhibited at the dog show which opens November 27. The large picture in the center is of Boozer, an English bull belonging to William L. McDonald.

WRESTLER AND DALTON BOX.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 13.—John Piombo, the Italian champion wrestler, will at an early date, meet Al Williams in a wrestling match. Piombo, is in training at the New Walter's Hotel, where one of the proprietors, Joe Morretti, has fitted up very fair quarters in the rear of the bar of the hotel. Here Piombo and Kid Dalton, who is training for his match at Taft with Barrue, will spar every day.

Steve Dalton, Kid's brother, will work out with them. Piombo has an enviable record on the mat, having defeated such men as John Johnson, the Swedish champion; M. Saito, Japanese champion; P. Dryborogh, instructor of the Stockton Athletic Club, in a contest lasting one hour and thirty-four minutes; Oscar Gotch at San Francisco, G. Peters, Jean Deronal and Kid Poller, also at San Francisco.

SOX SMEAR THE GIANTS ONCE MORE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, Nov. 13.—The New York National League pennant winners lost to the Chicago Americans by 5 to 2 here today. Wiltse and Russell were the opposing pitchers. Wiltse was touched up for eleven hits. Jim Thorpe, the famous Indian athlete with McGraw's team, was given a chance to warm up in right field, replacing Mike Donlin.

The score:

Chicago, 5; hits, 11, errors, 2.
New York, 2; hits, 7; errors, 4.
Batteries—Russell and Schalk; Wiltse and Meyers.

KENDRICK BEAT CONE.

In Neim's three-cushion tournament, Kendrick last night won from Cone, making fifty billiards to twenty scored by Cone. Kendrick made the high run of four, his total requiring eighty-three innings.

Nix and Cone are on the schedule for play tonight.

UTAH TEAM IS ON THE WAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 13.—With hundreds of students at the train to wish them success, the University of Utah football squad left here today for California. The players who were accompanied by Coach Bennion, numbered sixteen and all were in good condition. They will meet Occidental College next Saturday in Los Angeles and on November 19 will play Pomona College, at Claremont, Cal.

LOYAL ROOTERS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Members of President Wilson's family told their friends today that they planned to attend the Army-Navy football game in New York on November 29. The President has promised to go if, possibly, he can.

ENTRIES FOR THE DOG SHOW CLOSE SATURDAY.

This Will Be the Biggest Event of the Kind Seen in the West—Entries Have Come All the Way from New York—Well-Known Experts Will Act as the Judges. Many Classes and Lots of Prizes.

THE fifth annual bench show of the Ladies' Kennel Association of Southern California will be held in the old postoffice building at Seventh and Grand, November 27, 28 and 29.

This is to be the largest show ever held west of Chicago, and entries have come from as far east as New York. There will be about 250 classes and already 275 special prizes have been offered. The judges are experts of national reputation and are to be brought here from the East especially for the show. Miss Lyda Patton of Atlantic City, N. J., will judge the toy breeds and toy specials. Vinton Breese of Newark will judge all other classes.

Entries may be made at the Hotel Lankershim until Saturday night. Mrs. F. M. Connor, No. 150 Arroyo drive, Pasadena, the secretary of the association, will gladly furnish any desired information about the show.

THE FORTUNES OF FOOTBALL.

First Regular Line on Utah Team Given Out.

Tigers Rounding Into Great Shape for Big Game.

High Schools Face for Title, U.S.C. Goes Strong.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

At last an idea as to the class of the University of Utah football team has been obtained. A dispatch was received last night from a man who has followed the fortunes of the Mormon varsity through this season and the one a year ago. He is a keen student of the game and I consider it a great bit of good luck to have this line from him.

He says that the Utah team is very fast and quite heavy, the line averaging 171 pounds, but this is brought down by the average of the backs, who tip the beam in the aggregate at 154. This makes the entire team average about 164½ pounds, which is one pound lighter than the total average of the Tiger team. So much for the weight factor of the equation.

With but two exceptions the men on the Utah team this year are underclassmen—in fact, the total college experience for the entire team averages 1.1 years. However, most of the men on the team never even saw a football in their High School days, so the squad can be classed as a green one. The team that represented Utah last season was a veteran outfit, so the members of this year's squad, who were at Utah last year, had but slight opportunity to get out for scrimmage at that time; in fact, but few of the team this season ever saw a real battle from the field before.

When the present season opened, Coach Bennion had over 100 men on the field, but with a few exceptions all of them were green as grass. The early part of the season was therefore necessarily consumed in sorting out the men for their proper berths.

The task was a big one and had it not been for the services of Lieut. Henry M. Nelly of West Point in helping to bring order out of chaos the team would have been in a bad way, but as it was, the varsity was able to make a very favorable impression during the first part of the season and now seems to have hit its stride and from this point on is expected to win games.

Playing against the strong Colorado teams, composed largely of veterans—from center to full-back—the Mormons have been thrown more or less on the defensive, and because of weakness in the center and on the right side of the line, have been scored on by mass play.

On the offense, Utah has executed some of the cleverest open-field formations ever seen in the Rocky Mountain conference. The team handles the forward pass well, because of its speed, and this play has never yet failed to puzzle the enemy. One of the greatest instances of this was in the game with the University of Colorado, when the heavy Boulder team scored 20 points in the first half, then Utah came back in the second half and held their opponents down and in turn scored 13 points by open play.

In regard to the team itself, most startling of the players is Capt. Sutherland, the quarter-back. He weighs but 140 pounds, but his wonderful open-field running and clever generalship have won fame throughout the entire Rocky Mountain region.

Next to Sutherland comes Right Tackle McIntyre, who is a 190-pounder and who must face our young friend, "Battle" Shipke, the Occidental mogul, who has become a terror to all who have faced him and to all who expect to do so. Well, Mac shines with his best. His average for the season thus far has been fifty yards even, and on several occasions he has dropped the balloon over the seventy mark with ease.

Jack Travers, who plays full-back, is a dangerous man at all times. He is a sprinter of ability and a great defensive player. It was this gent who grabbed a fumbled ball in the game with Colorado College and ran fifty-five yards for a touchdown, winning the game for Utah.

Seem Well Matched.

Now, according to all this dope, the Tigers and Utah will be a fairly even match, with weight slightly in favor of Oxy and the element of speed in favor of Utah by a shade. Both squads are made up of fighters, but both have more than the usual amount of green men.

The Utah squad arrives this morning at 10 and will bring its own drinking water in order to get started right in that much-talked-of battle with our climate. Let 'em drink it

BEARS AND CARDS ARE ON VERGE OF ANOTHER SPLIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) Nov. 13.—An official investigation of the violations of the intercollegiate football agreement between Stanford and California in last Saturday's game was authorized today by a resolution adopted by the Executive Committee of the Associated Students. The California coaches used four substitutes in the game instead of three, the permitted number.

Just what turn the investigation will take has not been decided. Stanford is withholding action upon California's announcement, so it is reported here, that an explanatory letter is on its way from Berkeley to the Stanford officials.

The present friction, following so closely the abrogation of the football agreement last year and the subsequent patching up of the difficulties, may precipitate another difficult situation, according to the executives.

KETCHAM TELLS WHY YALE MEN WON'T WEAR NUMBERS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 13.—Capt. H. H. Ketcham of the Yale football team gave out a statement today in which he made known his reasons for the definite decision that the football men would not wear numbers. It had been suggested that each player be numbered so that the spectators could follow the plays more closely. Capt. Ketcham's statement says:

"I thoroughly disapprove of the practice of numbering football men and we have decided not to depart from our former system. This new step has been advocated by the newspapers for their own benefit in distinguishing the men. Football is not being conducted here for the newspapers, but for the college, and the players are not working to win recognition by the public, but are playing for themselves and the university."

RUGBY NOT ADAPTED TO THE AMERICAN ATHLETE.

Visit of New Zealand All-Blacks Proves English Game Is Not Played Under Proper Conditions in This Country—Lack of Time for Perfection Big Factor — Baseball Takes Place of Rugby in This Nation.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

THE football welkin of the West is ringing with the question of when will our Rugby teams be good enough to stand before teams of the caliber of the All-Blacks? Now that the New Zealand trip is practically over, with the exception of the game with the All-Star team next Saturday—which, under the conditions governing the match this year, will probably not amount to a great deal—we have learned that the American college team is not fitted to play an even game with the football players coming from New Zealand and Australia. How long will it take to give the western teams the proper amount of grooming before they can hope to reach this stage of perfection? Answer this question and you will solve the football riddle in the West and also will determine the fate of Rugby as an American college game.

When the All-Blacks played here, it was toward the end of their trip and they had formed a fairly accurate idea of what was needed in this country and why their opponents fell short so many times and in so many ways.

WHERE OUR PLAY FAILS.

Half-back Taylor, considered one of the greatest Rugby players in the world, said while practicing with the Trojans, that the difference between good Rugby and bad Rugby was the difference in playing the ball and playing the man. In America they play the man, making a strong defense—in New Zealand and Australia they play the ball, making a strong offense, and a good attack is the best defense in Rugby strategy, so the English score one in this phase of the game.

Now a few remarks as to why these visitors have reached such a state of perfection. In the first place, their Rugby season is as long as our league baseball season. Then the boys from the lowest grades in the grammar schools to the senior class in college play the game throughout the entire college and school year. Again a man does not just play Rugby while he is going to school or college, but keeps up with the game until he is at least 35 years of age.

Now taking all these facts into consideration, from the long playing season to the long active service, it is small wonder that the English and the English colonial players have become so good at their favorite sport, and far better than the American.

THE DIFFERENCE IN GAMES.

In the United States we have two great games, football and baseball. The latter is the national pastime and is a game for individual stars and develops nothing but brains; the latter is a game requiring team work and absolute discipline and is just the thing for the student population of this country.

Rugby is more like baseball, as it takes remarkable individual skill to excel and also takes long years of practice for development, as does baseball, but on the other hand you can make a good football player in two seasons, and as no man can play more than four years of intercollegiate sport, it seems only right that the colleges should have a game where the best results can be obtained in the shortest space of time. Football develops stamina, skill, but best of all, an element of personal self-sacrifice that should be a factor in every college man's life, as these years are the formative ones of his career.

With our short football season—of two months—it will be impossible to attain the speed and excellence of the Englishmen in Rugby play, so why not go in for a sport that can be adapted to the circumstances surrounding the American college athlete?

Very Soon.

PLAYERS FRATERNITY AND LEAGUERS ARE TO CONFER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 12.—Omaha, Neb., was selected as the next meeting place at the final session of the annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues here today. Omaha won in a close contest with Nashville, Tenn., receiving 17 out of the 32 votes cast.

There was no discussion today of the demands submitted by the Baseball Players' Fraternity, but the national board was instructed to be ready to appear at a conference with the national commission and representatives of the fraternity. No date for the conference has been set as yet. The report of the Contract Committee that it would be impossible to have uniform contracts for all leagues which are parties to the national agreement, was adopted by the convention.

The delegates visited the Ohio penitentiary this afternoon. Two teams composed of prisoners played a ball game behind the walls for the entertainment of the visitors.

Reports of committees were heard and passed upon. One change made in the association's constitution allows class AA leagues to adopt special forms of contracts. This opens up a way for the contracts of class AA leagues to be made uniform with those used by the major leagues.

Several changes in the association's rules governing the sale of players from class C and D leagues to minor leagues of higher classification were suggested but no definite action was taken.

COAST CHAMPIONS AT PLAY TODAY.

Banks and Ingram are to cross cues at noon today in the third round of the Coast championship pocket billiard tournament at the Majestic, their game being followed by another between O'Brien and Woolsey at 2:15, and a third between Greer and Wilson at 7:30.

All these contests will be of special interest, as Banks and Greer must fight to keep their perfect scores, in order to be in the running for the trophy. Ingram and O'Brien, having lost one each, can hardly afford a second disaster, and Woolsey and Wilson must win or fall out of the running.

On the whole, the evening battle between Wilson and Greer seems to be considered the most critical, as well as the most evenly matched contest of the day's schedule.

The tournament is moving with perfect smoothness and satisfaction, the exemplary conduct of the competitors making light the task of Referee Mackenzie.

all, the more power to them; they'll need all the pep in the world to trample on Pipal's Tigers.

Center for Stearns.

There has been another shake-up in the Oxy line. The fact that Riddick cannot seem to get over his two pet "charley-horses" seems to have put him out of the running for this game and Theo. Stearns will hold down the center of the line. Deems seems to have left guard well in hand, but right guard rests between Doig, Starner and Squires, with Doig leading by a nose.

At right end, Lewis seems to be the logical man for the place, as he has a little more pep than Coffeen, and, again, Coffeen is a valuable backfield sub for Brandstetner at full.

But the best and strongest feature of the Tiger team lies in its tackles, Skipkey and "Tub" Wieman. The "Ship" weighs 198, while the "Tub" rattles the bar at 194, some weight and some class, gents; some class.

Trojans Show Speed.

The Trojans had a scramble in the mud yesterday afternoon and Coach Higgins says that if his men will go against Stanford as well as they went last night, he cannot see anything but victory. And, as a matter of fact, there was a lot of real, class flying around loose. Pat gave the team a shake-up, putting the scrum men in the back-field and the backs in the scrum, in order to get them used to all kinds of play, and they got it.

One of the features of the afternoon was the presence of one Fred Kelly on the field. He was tried at full-back and at center three, but as he hardly knows the game yet, will probably have to look on during the Stanford game, but may get a chance with the Bears.

More Pomona Woe.

Quite a bit of disaster was spilled at Pomona last night. A hot scrimmage was held, and after it was all over, Captain and Quarter-back Wilson was found with a wrenched shoulder, Cogswell, the varsity fullback, was reinjured; McFadden, a sub end, was crowned, and is now out for some time, while Youngman's bad leg was twisted again. This puts the Pomona squad on the slide for the game next week with Utah, if all these things are as bad as reported—but they say that the hospital corps will be O.K. for the Oxy game, so we had best wait and see.

Brennen will take Wilson's place at quarter, Greeley will again fill in at full-back, where he has already made good, and Clary will play Youngman's half. Henderson is again all right, and may be seen in action against the Mormons at tackle. Outside of all this, the Pomona team is as good as it ever was.

The L. A.-Manual Game.

About the only systematic feature in the city high school Rugby situation is the rain, and even that is something of an unknown quantity. Last night it was impossible to determine whether the L. A.-Manual game is to be played this afternoon on Bovard field, or not. Some said it would be staged, rain or shine, while others were of the opinion that if the field was muddy it would be called off until some time next week. But, on looking out of the window, I find that there is enough blue sky to make a Dutchman's breeches, so, in all probability, the game will be played this afternoon, and it should be one of the best high school Rugby games of the season.

The Manual team has been steaming along under full sail and much weight this season; and it looks like a walk-away for them, but we must not forget the L. A. High fighting spirit, which is always a big factor in any up-hill battle. Then, the fact that Ralph Noble has taken over the Blue and White squad tends to lend confidence, as he is one of the best Rugby coaches in the State.

Noble has been working with his backfield through the week and seems to have speeded up that aggregation to a marked degree. The scrum, under Featherstone, has been plugging, but will probably have to play a defensive game, as the Manual pack is noted for its extreme heft.

The Forecast.

In making a forecast concerning this battle royal, it might be said that L. A. will have to depend on the work of the backs, if the team is to take an offensive stand, while Manual will have to work its heavy scrum for advantage. The L. A. backs showed ability in the game with Poly, while all season the Manual scrum has proved its worth.

Therefore, the game should be open as none of the horses brought their gum boots or goloshes with them, there was nothing to do but hang out the "no game; rain" sign.

Racing Today.

CROSS-EYED LADY AND DON PRONTO FEATURE.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

THE ONLY excitement observable to the unclad orb at Exposition Park yesterday was when a cross-eyed lady tried to pat Don Pronto on the nose.

We hasten to explain that Don Pronto is a horse, and not a man.

Had Don Pronto been a man, and not a horse, there might have been no excitement. He might have calmly submitted to having his nose caressed. At that, I have yet to meet the person who really enjoyed having his beak fondled.

WHAT HE SAID.

Anyway, Don Pronto, being a horse, objected strenuously. He lifted up his head and said, "neigh, neigh," so plain that you could distinguish it. He also stood upon his hind legs, and in other ways acted almost human.

Not that he had anything against the lady because she is a lady, but rather because her glims were misplaced.

All racing stables are saturated with superstition. One of these is to the effect that for a cross-eyed person to look upon a horse tends to cause spavins, chilblains, gout, ennui and other ills to which standard-breds are heir.

Persons who have a chronic habit of trying to see their left ear with their right eye, and black cats, are persona non grata around a racing stable. Grooms and drivers stand in deadly fear of them, while the horses sometimes show the same aversion.

EVERYTHING WET.

Racing was at a standstill, and racing in that condition isn't a race at all.

The rain got in its deadly work, and hour of 1:30 p.m.

Science.

PACKY M'FARLAND DOESN'T TRY TO HURT OPPONENTS.

"I SEE some papers are criticising me about the manner in which I handled Tommy Murphy in our recent clash," stated McFarland in a New York interview early in the week. "They say that I should have stowed away the game little Murphy. That's all poppycock. I was satisfied to outpoint him.

"What good would it have done me to beat Murphy into insensibility? I wouldn't have gained a bit of extra prestige by doing so.

"Besides, Murphy relies on his living in the prize ring as I do, and it certainly would have spoiled any chance he had of climbing to the top of the lightweight ladder, if I had disposed of him by the knockout route. I'm glad I didn't.

"You must admire a fellow like Murphy. He is a game kid. I handed him some swift jolts, but he came tearing after me like a wild man. Of course, fighters of Murphy's type are made to order for me."

RUSSIAN WRESTLER ON THE WAY HERE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Ivan Mamutoff of St. Petersburg, a Russian soldier, one of the Czar's bodyguard, and an expert wrestler, arrived here today on the steamship Ryndam, having been given a special leave of absence of six months for a tour of the United States and Canada, during which he hopes to meet the world's champion Frank Gotch. Mamutoff is 21 years old, six feet four inches tall, and weighs 245 pounds.

The Off Season.

SACRAMENTO GETS STAR COLLEGIAN, IS REPORT.

Wolverton Said to Have Secretly Signed Ramage of Santa Clara College Before Going East — Phillies After Same Player—All Coast League Managers Are Strengthening Teams.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

SACRAMENTO has caught the scent of its rivals and has joined in the mad scramble for material with which to strengthen for next season.

It has signed up Ramage, the Santa Clara College catcher, who was sought by a number of major and minor league clubs, according to a report connected with the club who is now in Los Angeles.

The action was taken secretly. No announcement of Ramage having been made, nor was it intended to until next spring. Wolverton, it is said, closed with Ramage before leaving for the East. The Phillies have been dickering for Ramage, and have put in a counter-claim.

Many of the fans will recall Ramage as having been here with the Santa Clara team during the spring training season of 1911. He appeared in a number of games against the Angels and Tigers at that time.

Ramage not only is one of the best college catchers developed on the coast in recent years, but he is a crack ball player. His work on the coast field was him a position on the California team, which is to meet the New Zealanders tomorrow.

To what extent, if any, Ramage will strengthen the Wolves remains for spring workouts to develop. He certainly looks like the goods, but the case of a young player is always a risk, and the average collegian cannot be judged with anything like certainty until he has cut his professional eye teeth."

Runaway of Staff.

In addition of Ramage gives Sacramento three catchers who will line up for work next spring. They are Bliss, the club's standby; the speedy Lynn, who absorbed considerable knowledge while sitting on the bench last spring, and the Santa Rosa boy. It has been unofficially given out that Harry Cheek is to be farmed out, and Reitmeyer turned back to the Coast league.

At this writing stand, the Sacramento coaching staff is really a one-man affair, that party being Bliss. It is a risky experiment, while Lynn has improved entirely from that of last season, Wolverton undoubtedly will prefer to close for a seasoned backstop between now and March 1.

Outfield Lacquers Strengthen.

The outfield of the Coast League appears to outstrip one another in the matter of talent for 1914 is one of the most discouraging things of the off season. Never before has there been such a wealth of outfield activity exhibited by the Coast League moguls.

Interest only to the race fans is the battle of wits and dollars that is now on between Manager Dillon and Outfielder Jimmy Early.

Every morning when the fan, on his way to finish his breakfast garbage long enough to scan the pink, does not see the acquisition of some star or other announced in flaring headlines, he is moaning for new talent began to manifest itself several months ago. The plans for securing it were laid at that time.

Outfielder Early.

Outfielder Jimmy Berry repurchased from the Chicago club before the close of the season it was the first step in his campaign for 1914. This was followed by the establishment of an agreement with Washington and the purchase from that club of Burton and Outfielders Calvo, Germany Schaefer is now with the White Sox, but every member of this team made good on the Coast. Of the more than three or four others who came from the Washington club Among these may be mentioned Outfielder Cashion and Outfielder Gandil, the latter well-remembered for his brilliant work in the outfield of Portland two years ago. The retirement of Barton, Calvo and Schaefer is supplemented by the release of McKenry, Sawyer, Gilhooley and Rodman, four promising youngsters known as the best prospects seen here since Walsh was a sandlot demon.

Ed Reulbach Retires.

At the same time Ed R. Major Reulbach, Detroit baseball, Butler and Bill Rodgers from his championship staff. The fans did not get to see Reulbach in action, but the reports of his work glow like a sunset. Butler is a brilliant performer, but nervousness marred his work in the few games in which he performed. He needs further seasoning. Wilhoit hit the Coast League pitchers as readily as he did the California League talent, and looks like a real "find."

Chattanooga claims this "bird" by virtue of having drafted him. As Venice purchased him from Stockton before the drafting season opened, it is likely that the question of his ownership will be thrashed out before the National Commission.

When Hogan stuffed his two extra collars in the valise and struck out boldly for Columbus, O., President Maier's last act was to stick into his first a "roll" big enough to choke a camel.

"Come back with a championship team or remember to stay away," was Maier's parting admonition.

Hap promised to do or die.

But if Hap dies on this trip, it will be the result of talking himself to death. Hogan depicted the glory of the Venice Tigers to the gaping rubes at every water tank between here and Chicago.

Hap Snags Live Ones.

But with all this airy persiflage, Hap did not forget the prime object of his pilgrimage, and hadn't been in Columbus three hours before he polished Art Delvin into selling Billy Leard. This deal gives Venice one of the best little second basemen ever.

The following two days, Hogan peeled off a few more bills, and Messrs. Cheppelle and Fleharty, both pitchers, became the proud property of the Venice club.

Hap is carrying out his instructions with a vengeance, and the end is not yet.

Leavitt Some Scrambler.

One of the maddest scramblers after talent is Frank Leavitt. Toward the end of the season, Leavitt came to the painful conclusion that he needed everything new from manager to bat boy. He fired Mitze, and it is presumed that he did the same thing to the custodian of the bats.

Art Delvin was imported: likewise half a dozen players from the Texas League, half as many from the St. Louis Browns, a few from New England and one or two from the Mississippi Valley. One of the St. Louis delegation, Catcher Alexander, was the only one who proved to be too fast for the Browns. He looks like the goods. Pruiett, the New Bedford recruit, also won his spurs.

The failure of most of the new men to shine with class AA luster placed Leavitt and Delvin under the necessity of buying a dozen or so new men. They made a fair start this week by purchasing Pitcher Rube Geyer from the St. Louis Cardinals. As long as they insist on recruiting their players from St. Looey we should worry.

McCredie Also Striving.

Walter McCredie, being of a high-strung disposition, plans to rip several large holes in his pennant-winning combination of last season. He is going to get a new catcher or two, some brand new pitchers, a couple of infielders, another outfielder and possibly a new mascot.

The purchase of Bobby Davis from Walla-Walla gives him a fine short-stopper for next season, while he drafted a couple of good men in Outfielder Milligan and Pitcher Brown of the Cedar Rapids club.

The average manager would "turn in" and sleep the sleep of the just for about five months after winning a pennant. But not so with Mac. At all times he is sad and refuses to be comforted.

Ryan in Fast Company.

Jack Ryan has been "signed up" to pitch for Imperial against Holtville in the Casaba League. Great excitement is said to prevail in those parts, as these two towns have great baseball hatred for one another.

Chance for Edmondson.

Houston, Tex., is yearning for Roger E. Edmondson. Roger came from there originally, and the horny hand of fellowship is awaiting him whenever he decides to return. Roger may decide to grasp it should he fall to stick with the Tigers next season.

New York Umpire Here.

Robert Knowlton today registered at Hap Hogan's billiard emporium, which is the official hang-out of the winter baseball colony. Knowlton umpired on the sand lots here last winter, jumping directly there from the New York State League, where he arbitered during the season just closed.

FROM A CARR WINDOW

Introducing Anna Held Hap Hogan Jos Rivers Leach Cross & others.

HAP HOGAN'S anguish over the prospective loss of Outfielder Wilhoit seems to be in the class with dispatches from the field of battle—"delayed in transmission."

Last year, before the baseball season opened, old Cap Anson told Hap that Wilhoit was the most promising recruit that he had ever seen in a minor league. Anson said he thought it was a great mistake not to give him a place in the line-up of the Venice team.

But nobody can tell Hap anything. Wherefor the boy who is now being walled over as the lost Ty Cobb spent the season in the raisin belt.

Leach Cross is the bravest boy in the ring, and in many ways the most appealing. One is constrained to feel sorry for him; it looks as though he were starting on a 2000-mile journey that will end in certain defeat.

It may be that I am rushing in where angels fear to tread; but I can't see Cross in this match.

Rivers has been defeated by two kinds of boxers:

Those whose brilliant footwork bewildered him.

Those who discouraged him by their stamina.

Klibane and Joe Mandot literally beat Rivers with their feet.

Wolgast and Ritchie disheartened him by failing to go down when hit as hard as Rivers could hit.

Cross is in neither one class nor the other. He is not very shifty on his feet, and he never would be able to stand up under the unmerciful storm that was weathered by Ritchie in his fight against Rivers.

Cross is a hard hitter, but Rivers has waxed wealthy on the carcasses of hard hitters.

Cross is also "smart." That's admitted. You would have to admit it. Every dopester you meet drags you into a dark corner and says, in a hoarse whisper: "Leach will be too smart fer the Mex."

I don't know how this brilliancy is going to figure. What is Leach going to do—perhaps recite a poem in Latin to him or whisper something into his ear about the fourth dimension. Rivers's mighty fists will probably be found smart enough for all practical purposes.

At that, all the real experts seem ready to admit that Rivers is not the boxer that he should be. Too indolent to train and too mentally inert to reduce boxing to a science, Rivers has never learned the possibilities of his own wonderful little body.

"He is the boxer without a favorite blow," said Uncle Tom McCarey, in discussing the Mexican. "You hear of this fellow's right-cross and that fellow's straight left; but Rivers has everything. He can hit equally well with either hand, and from any position. Boxing comes to him so naturally that Rivers might become the most wonderful champion in the world if he would only apply himself."

Of all the boxers who have worked at his arena, McCarey seems to have the most real faith in Bud Anderson.

"I am waiting to stage a big match some day," says McCarey. "I feel toward it as a violin maker must toward the one great instrument that he hopes some day to turn out. It will be a match between Bud Anderson and Packy McFarland. This will make a lot of people smile. But I think that Anderson would give Packy the fight of his life. With his short, snapping blows, he is just the one who could give the Stockyards star a wonderful contest."

The baseball magnates in convention at Columbus took the afternoon off yesterday and went to the State's penitentiary. The instinct of homing pigeons!

Now that the White Sox and Giants have played and gone, won't somebody else please come along and bunko us!

After seeing the game I saw, it occurs to me that Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford would be the obviously proper one to manage the balance of the tour.

The fans in New York can allay their fears lest the team report next spring in a worn-out and exhausted condition. If they are weary it will be from sea-sickness. At the rate they were performing here they could keep it up night and day without stopping for meals for several years at a stretch and not even get up a perspiration.

From sports let us stray while we tell of a diabolic vengeance wreaked by the undutiful daughter of Anna Held upon mama.

Anna's darling child it seems has arrived at the embarrassing age of 19. She came with Miss Held to America; but they appear to have quarreled. When Madame Held started on tour, Miss Held was left in New York somewhat shy financially and filled with unfilial wrath.

She has now secured a vaudeville engagement and the theater papers carry the news that she intends to bill herself as "The Daughter of Anna Held."

In these circumstances—and all others—we are for Anna. Absa the daughter! Nineteen is a tiresome age, anyhow. And Anna is one of the most generous, unassuming, amiable little women on the stage. We will now give the college yell for Anna.

The jailer has let Demetral out and we are facing another wrestling match.

Careless jailer!

The next time that ambitious sportsmen plan a big race meeting for Los Angeles, they should be careful not to select a date upon which Impresario Behymer is planning to give a piano recital.

It is history that one of Behymer's concerts always brings a downpour of rain. The greater the star the more appalling the downpour.

Well, men also fall for bargain sales.

At the auction of the Canfield racing stable day before yesterday wonderful trotters and pacers went for a song. Among them was a little pacer with a pedigree that would stretch around the mile track and leave some over.

In the crowd that stood around the auctioneer's block was a gentleman who had come to see the races because he hadn't anything else to do.

The prices offered for the pacer were so absurd that he couldn't resist cutting in with a bid. The first he knew a race horse had been knocked to him with a racing sulky and harness.

This man dimly understands which end of the race horse goes first; and that's all he knows about horses. Wherefor you may know that the family was somewhat astonished when papa came home with his respectable legs straddled out behind a race horse.

Not having anything else to do with it, he tied it up in the family garage. Now he goes out every morning and looks in dumb despair at his four-footed speed demon and wonders why he did it.

What the race track writers are going to do for dramatic effects now I don't know. The promoters have ruthlessly substituted an automobile truck for the broken-down old nags that formerly dragged the scrapers over the track before the race.

Now, we never can draw any more sad and beautiful pen pictures about the race horse of yester years sentenced to drudge that the newer stars might speed.

To tell the truth, I always suspected that they were just base-born scrubs from the plow, anyhow.

Vassar Swiss Ribbed Union Suits for Gentlemen

YOU can afford to have Vassar Swiss ribbed union suits even though you'll pay more for them than for the ordinary knit underwear.

The difference in comfortable fit alone is worth the difference in price; when you put on a suit of Vassar you'll begin to understand what real comfort in underwear is.

The soft, flat seams; the knit-on cuffs and ankles; the snug elasticity of the Swiss rib knitting; all these are added features of advantage.

Your haberdasher has Vassar; or can get it for you; ask him.

POWER BOAT MEN MEET IN NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Delegates from twenty-five yacht clubs and two associations of yacht and power boat clubs, representing in all about 100 clubs, along the Atlantic Coast and the Great Lakes, met tonight at the New York Yacht Club at the request of the Navy Department, the object being to promote a better acquaintance among the owners of power boats and to establish a high standard of skill in handling such boats. It is also proposed to organize what may be known as the United States power squadron, taking in all of the 540,000 power boats registered in this country.

It was suggested that all clubs forming squadrons shall use the rules and signals adopted by the Boston Yacht Club's squadron. The form of organization of this squadron has been approved by the Navy Department. To insure efficacy in the handling of power boats an applicant for membership in the squadron is required to pass a rigid examination, after which he is granted a certificate of efficiency and is entitled to fly a distinguishing pennant. In time of war these trained amateurs could be received as volunteer auxiliaries for duty in the harbors or along the coast.

GAMES AT MORLEY'S.

No games were played last night in Morley's three-cushion billiard tournament, in which Gould, Ashton and Condon have won an equal number of games, and which should be finished next week. Ashton and Price are matched for tonight, and Morley is to take on another drawn challenger for his open game.

UP TO SCRIBES.

Now that Walter Johnson has had his speed tested and we know that he throws a ball just 122 feet a second—half as fast as a bullet—we are going to be hard put next season to find something to take the place of "It comes over with the speed of a bullet." "At that," remarked a fan, "I had just as soon be hit with a bullet."

NORTHWEST TITLE WILL BE DECIDED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 13.—The undefeated University of Washington football team left this afternoon for Portland, where it will meet the University of Oregon team Saturday in the game which will decide the Pacific Northwest conference championship.

Coach Gilmour Dobie took twenty-two men with him. A special trainload of rooters will go to Portland Saturday to see the game.

EVERYBODY SEEMS TO HATE MR. LYNCH.

The statement of Jack Ryder in the Cincinnati Enquirer that President Lynch of the National League has no chance of re-election is equivalent to saying that Gerry Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati club and chairman of the national commission, is against Lynch. One trouble with the National League is that the decisions of the president, right or wrong, are not accepted in a sportsmanlike manner by the different club owners and directors. No matter what comes up for adjudication, one side or the other has a long knife out for the chief executive. This state of affairs has furnished the newspapers with some interesting stories, but they have not been of a nature that has benefited the league or helped baseball. The public, to a certain extent, has become disgusted with the politics of the older organization and looks upon the American League as the better and stronger. The past three world's series have tended to strengthen this opinion.

MACK PRAISES SCHANG.

Connie Mack says Schang is the best young catcher he ever saw break into the big leagues. He looked, during the big series, like a rattling good man, all right, but not nearly as good as Kling was when he first appeared, and a long way, as yet, shy of the American League standard set by Sullivan and Criger.

DOG MEET.

The Pacific Coast Boston Terrier Club will hold their monthly match Tuesday evening, November 18, at 8 p.m., at the Caledonia Hall, No. 119½ South Spring street. The usual ribbon and silver medal prizes will be given. W. M. Kerner will act as judge. All are cordially invited.

Those Eyes!

ANNA HELD AS FISH-CHARMER.

Catches Some Big Ones Down at Redondo.

Also Catches the Eyes of Fishermen.

Fine Bunch of Seaweed Is Her Reward.

Fishing was demoralized at Redondo Beach yesterday for early in the day Anna Held, with her wondrous eyes and fascinating ways, appeared on wharf No. 1, to fish, and at once angling lost its charm for all others, caught by the greater charm of the pretty actress. Even business in the little seaside town suffered for most of the business men and their customers as well had some errand on the pier during the morning.

It required a great many people to help Miss Held satisfactorily angle for the wily fish. There was Vincent Wray, private secretary to Miss Held, who carefully watched the little actress to prevent her from falling overboard in her anxiety to land a fish; Ernst Bial, her musical director, the man with the luxuriant black whiskers, who industriously assisted Wray in keeping the vivacious Anna from stepping off the edge of the wharf; Burt Ewing, of Miss Held's company, who had planned the trip because he had often fished at Redondo Beach, and Miss Held's maid.

WHAT SHE CAUGHT.

"Oh, oh, it ees a bite, truly, it ees," exclaimed Miss Held leanin gfar over the edge of the wharf. At that, all the fishermen on the wharf as well as the members of her party, surrounded her, eager to give the fair angler advice. Tugging and pulling at the rod, Miss Held drew up the line and landed a large piece of seaweed resembling a sponge, on the wharf. "What funny things you do catch here!" said Miss Held examining the seaweed.

Again she cast her line, while Bial, the musical director, held tightly to her coat, fearful of her safety. This time the hook caught on a piling, and after pulling with all her might thinking she had a monstrous fish, Miss Held discovered the truth. Burt Ewing, with his experience and knowledge of fishing, began to give directions how to release the hook, but an old fisherman quickly loosened the hook by tying a heavy stone in the line and pulling it loose. "You are wonderful," said Miss Held to the fisherman, turning her lustrous black eyes upon him with a look he will probably remember to his dying day. "I have nevair seen anything like that any place. How can I thank you?" as the fisherman, embarassed by the praise, disappeared in the crowd.

With that, Merle Reed, a life guard, appeared in his bathing suit, and Miss Held thinking he had come to dive for money as she had seen them do at Catalina, exclaimed: "Oh, will you dive? I will give you a dollar if you will. But no, it ees so cold and you might drown. Don't do it." The life guard refused the money, the thanks of the beautiful actress sufficing, and plunged off the pier, into the water.

AHA! A BITE.

Determined to catch a fish, Miss Held again threw out her line and said, "I wonder if I can charm him with my eyes," and in a few seconds she landed a small tom cod, and every one around her was positive it was the eyes that did it. "Mon dieu, this ees a beeg, beeg bite. Oh, I must get him." And the pretty little actress, with the same grace that charms her audiences on the stage, landed a yellowtail, which, when weighed proved to be a twenty-eight-pounder. "Now just one more," said Miss Held, as Bial and Wray nervously began looking at their watches, with the matinee in mind. And this time she caught a black bass.

Finally with many longing looks at the water the actress was persuaded to go with her party to one of the cafes on the ocean front for luncheon. Her appearance in the little cafe caused quite a commotion and much bustling about of the little German proprietor, who whispered into the ear of one of the party that he had waited upon the charming actress years ago in a cafe in New York. Although the time for the matinee was drawing near and both Bial and Wray were evidently nervous, Miss Held appeared to think of nothing but her pleasure in the fishing expedition, and enthusiastically recalled former fishing experiences.

THOUGHTFUL.

When Wray ordered the restaurant proprietor to have some workmen cease their hammering as it disturbed Miss Held, she quickly remonstrated: "You know in America every minute counts, Wray," she said, "and those men are paid by the hour. Don't stop them."

At 1:30 o'clock the party left the beach in Miss Held's big limousine, the Commonwealth, praying that they would reach the theater in time. "I shall nevair forget what a beautiful time I had fishing," she said. "And I shall nevair, nevair forget the sight of Bial, on the wharf when he walked the ties over the water." Miss Held referred to Bial's experience as they were leaving the fishing wharf where one has to either walk along a narrow plank without a rail or walk the railroad ties of a trestle leading from the shore. While Miss Held fearlessly walked along the narrow plank Bial crept slowly along the ties and the actress doubled up with laughter at the sight of the portly director balancing himself.

ANSON, THE ACTOR.

Pop Anson, the venerable first baseman who led the Chicago Cubs so many years, is looking for some kind of a job on the stage. Pop Anson did a monologue for awhile on the small time and wants to get a chance at the major-league cities. It is the only means he has of making some money for the winter. The old Cap is just as cheerful as when he led the world as a hitter, and, though he has had bad luck in his investments, he is still able to get out and hustle.

POOR OLD GEORGE.

At last we have an explanation as to why George Stovall, former manager of the Browns, was humiliated during the recent series between the St. Louis clubs. Branch Rickey, his successor, says that Stovall was trying to persuade other members of the club to jump with him and go to the Federal League. In the meantime the New York club is trying to get Stovall to come back into regular harness and become a Yank.

How Would You Like To Be the Fish?

Anna Held, fisherman.

Down at Redondo Beach yesterday, fishing with Ernst Beal and Burt Ewing (above) and below, bewitching her catch with those eyes that won't behave.

Football.

SANTA MONICA HAS HOPES OF DEFEATING LONG BEACH

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 14.—On the eve of the biggest game of the year for the Santa Monica High School football team, which this year is one of the strongest elevens ever turned out of the local school, Coach Church and the followers of the team are confident of victory tomorrow over the sliding Long Beach squad.

Rain has prevented any outdoor practice the past two nights, but the team will be sent through sharp signal practice this afternoon as a final workout before the clash tomorrow. Blackboard talks have been substituted for the regular practice during the rainy afternoons.

The eleven is in the prime of condition, and has the best chance to beat Long Beach tomorrow that it has had in the past three years. A big automobile parade bearing the players will be held tomorrow, the machines taking the main thoroughfares of the city. The business men are supporting the team strong this year, and are expected to be out in large numbers to witness the conflict tomorrow.

A big football rally boosting the game and for the purpose of rousing the already pent-up enthusiasm of the students will be held at a specially-called assembly this afternoon at the high school. If Long Beach wins the game, Santa Monica will be shoved down the 250 per cent. in the standing of the teams in the Interscholastic League, while if the locals win they will go up to 500 per cent. and submerge Long Beach to a percentage of 422. Chaffey Union High School defeated Santa Monica by the close score of 3 to 0, defeating Long Beach by the score of 16 to 0.

A Cuban.

M'GRAW SIGNS YOUNG PHENOMENAL PITCHER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—If baseball form, as shown in Havana, Cuba, holds good, the Giants, next season, are to be blessed with a wonderful left-handed pitcher. Young Palmero, who was bought by McGraw two months ago, has just pitched three wonderful games against the crack Birmingham club of the Southern League, winning them all. A cablegram to Hafsel Conte, the correspondent, who is still in New York, says that in the second game of the series in Cuba Palmero let the Birmingham batters down without a hit. In the first he allowed three safe swats and he also scored a shut-out in the third.

Conte says that Palmero, who is but 20 years old, is by far the best pitcher that Cuba has produced. And this is a pretty strong statement in view of the fact that Mendez, the big black, was considered, in his prime, to be one of the greatest pitchers in the world. McGraw during his visit to Havana said that if Mendez was a white man he would pay $50,000 for his release from the Almendares.

HAS LIGHT HAIR.

Palmero bears none of the facial characteristics of the Cuban. He has light hair, blue eyes and ruddy complexion. Conte thinks the young fellow must have some Irish blood in his veins and that his ancestors were originally called Palmer. He has been playing on the High School team of Havana and was awarded a medal for being the best amateur pitcher on the island. Palmero does not speak English, but is a bright youngster and should pick up the language as quickly as did Marsans. He will report to the New York club at Marlin in the spring, and has asked to be allowed to room with Chief Meyers, who speaks Spanish fluently. The chief at one time was government interpreter at El Paso.

There has been some talk of Marsans coming to the Giants from the Reds, but that is very doubtful. The fleet-footed Cuban is easily the star outfielder of Tinker's club and it is not likely that Joe will get rid of a star. At that, McGraw would give Cincinnati almost anybody that Tinker wanted to get this fellow. Marsans always has wanted to play on the Giants because, as he says, he wants to see how it would feel to be with a winner.

SOX SALESMEN.

Several members of the White Sox-Giants party will try to mix salesmanship with sport during their tour around the world. In other words, enterprising business firms will make use of the ball players as commercial travelers in the fond hope of increasing exports. The young man who goes across the water with a fine sample line of cigars needs sympathy.

ERNIE CLARK IS VICTOR IN MATCH AT PORTLAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hisses, catcalls, and boohing greeted a three-round decision awarded Walter Williams, Multnomah club featherweight, over his ancient rival, Allen McNiel of the Beaver club of Portland, at the preliminaries of the Pacific Coast boxing championships staged tonight at the Multnomah club gymnasium.

Moretto, of the Olympic club of San Francisco, outpointed Marshall of Spokane, although Marshall put up a game fight. Phale, unattached, fought a hard match with Pederson of the Vancouver, B. C., Athletic Club, but the experience of Pederson was too much, and the Vancouver boy was given the decision in the fourth round.

In the 135-pound class, Thorness of the Multnomah club was floored by Phil Noonan, the San Francisco entry, and the judges awarded the bout to Noonan in the second round.

Following is the summary:

The 135-pound preliminary—Noonan of Olympic club, got a decision over Thorness of Multnomah club in two rounds.

The 125-pound preliminary—J. N. Moretto, Olympic club of San Francisco, decision over Charles Marshall, Spokane, A. C., three rounds.

The 115-pound preliminary—Paul Pederson, Vancouver, B. C., A. C., decision over Frank Phale, unattached, three rounds.

The 135-pound preliminary—Y. Schmeer, Multnomah club, decision over D. Gomez, Spokane, A. C., three rounds.

The 105-pound preliminary—William Nelson, Spokane, A. C., won a decision over Dick Hewett, Beaver A. C., in four rounds.

The 115-pound preliminary—Williams, Multnomah club, got a three-round decision over McNiel, Beaver A. C.

The 135-pound preliminary—Walter Knowlton, Multnomah club, knocked out Tom Burke, Seattle A. C., in second round.

The 145-pound preliminary—Ernest Clark, Los Angeles club, decision over W. J. Prescott, Olympic club, San Francisco, three rounds.

NEED FOR MORE HARMONY IN A.A.U.

The squabble in the inner circle of the Amateur Athletic Union over the question of whether amateurs shall be permitted to compete against professionals may have a bad effect on this country's chances in the next Olympic games, if the warring factions do not bury the hatchet. The people of the United States look to the union to do the work which is epitomized in the team that takes the field under the banner of the Stars and Stripes. It is a big job. Without harmony, concentration of effort and good nature, something will break. We should not overlook the fact that several foreign countries are already making their plans for the next Olympiad and that competition will probably be keener than ever before. Germany means business this time, already having signed Alva Kraenslein to coach their team. Not long ago they sent a commission over here to study our methods. If you will dip into history you will find what the Germans did for the United States government not many years ago. They are a great people, and, having decided to take an interest in the Olympic games, will proceed conservatively and consistently toward the goal.

PHONEY PLAYS BUT THEY SEEM TO WORK.

Coach McCan of Lafayette uses eight men back of the line in lines of four. The first row shifts to the right or the left of center with a rush and at the moment they reach their position the backs, all of them in line, make their charge.

Coach Geiger of Swarthmore has a play where all of his men on attack straighten up, the ball is snapped and all run in different directions, making it difficult to tell just where the ball is going.

Glen Warner of Carlisle has the other freak Pennsylvania play. He uses ten players on the line of scrimmage, and the lone man back of the line has about five private interferers to follow behind when he hits the line.

LYNCH MAY WIN.

Now that Jim Gaffney has come out strong for Tom Lynch, it is likely that our National League president will be spared the job of leading the Federal League. A month ago it seemed certain that Lynch would lose. At that time it was believed that both Boston and New York would vote against him, and the opposition of Ebbetts and Charley Murphy was well known. It is not at all certain that New York will oppose Lynch now, and, with Gaffney on his side, it is going to be pretty hard to beat him.

CHANCE UNDECIDED.

Chance has not decided where he will take his club for spring training, but it is likely, that he will go to Texas, probably Houston. It is certain that the Yanks will not go back to Bermuda. Chance believes that the poor condition of his club at the beginning of the season was due to the damp atmosphere of the little British island.

NON-STOPPERS AT TRUCK SHOW.

Interest Centers in Test of Commercial Cars.

Fire Apparatus to Be of Special Value at Salon.

Three-Wheelers There in the Small Motor Division.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

Judging from the interest now being taken in the proposed twenty-four-hour non-stop run the motor truck show will be of special interest to a large number of dealers. Several prominent pleasure car men yesterday expressed a desire to enter the contest if it could be arranged, but the decision of Manager Hempel is that only exhibitors in the truck show can take part in the run.

Bert Dingley, local manager for the William R. Ruess Company, expressed a desire to take part in the run. He is also willing to help Manager Hempel in any way possible. Officials are to be named today and the entrants can be announced before the opening of the exhibit. The show space is almost all taken, but there is a possibility that the section devoted to the Krebs truck will be open today.

James J. Canavan, agent for the Knox-Martin tractor, is anxious to secure space at the exhibit. He wishes to show his fire apparatus, which he has just received. At this time, with the Los Angeles officials planning to spend $70,000 for fire apparatus, an exhibit of the Knox would be of particular interest.

The Federal exhibit, to be made by A. S. Robinson, manager of the local branch of the Pacific Kissel Kar Company, is to be complete in detail. In addition to a full line of Federal trucks the Kissel commercial exhibits will be extensive as each of these high-grade cars are to be shown.

The doors of the show are to be opened on Monday. A large attendance is expected. The first lecture will be given Monday evening, and at that time moving pictures will be shown.

THREE-WHEELERS.

The Wagenhals three-wheel delivery car of 1000 pounds capacity is the only three-wheel commercial car in the lighter class exhibited at the truck show.

The Wagenhals is not a motor cycle or pleasure car adapted for business purposes, but a motor car of conventional design with three exceptions:

The drive is by a single rear wheel, the motor and transmission are placed cross-wise in the car and the load is carried in front of the driver.

By the use of a single drive wheel over 700 troublesome parts are eliminated, as the average four-wheeler has over 745 parts in the rear construction alone, while the Wagenhals has but forty-five and none of which are liable to give trouble.

By placing the power plant cross-wise more loading space is secured and the power plant is made more accessible. A valuable feature is in the fact that the entire subframe with power units complete can be removed without disturbing the load in a half hour's time.

By having the load in front of the driver danger of loss of goods by theft or loss is eliminated. The driver, too, the driver's weight being thrown over the drive wheel of the car makes perfect traction assured.

The motor used in the Wagenhals car is a four-cylinder L-head type with cylinders of three-inch bore by four-inch stroke cast in pairs. A Splitdorf dual magneto provides the ignition and those who have heard the car in operation state that the motor runs as quietly and smoothly as any pleasure car motor.

One of the strongest features of the Wagenhals is the endorsement of it by the United States government for parcel post service, and the good work done by the cars in the Detroit postoffice work.

Visitors to Detroit will remember the odd but workmanlike-appearing three-wheel cars doing mail delivery and collecting. These are the Wagenhals, but mostly of the old type while the one shown at the auto show is of the latest model with all of the improvements which have been found advisable in the two years the car has been on the market.

Until William Fitzgerald, general manager of the Wagenhals Motor Company and formerly general manager and treasurer of the National Cash Register Company, took over the factory had worked along in a small way, but now that the merits of the car has been proven the new half-million-dollar company is going ahead on a larger scale and within a few months Wagenhals three-wheelers will be familiar sights on the streets of every city in the United States.

The low price, the economic and extremely low cost of operation and upkeep are features that are bound to make the car popular with merchants in all lines of business as well as those who purchase the first one or five and put them to work with the signs on the cars the advertising value will more than offset the first cost.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

Miss Eileen Canfield, daughter of the late C. A. Canfield, whose betrothal is formally announced today by her sister, Mrs. Caspar Whitney. Alden Karl Martin of San Francisco is the groom-to-be.

MRS. CASPAR WHITNEY formally announces today the engagement of her youngest sister, Miss Eileen Canfield, daughter of the late C. A. Canfield of this city, to Alden Karl Martin of San Francisco. Mr. Martin, who is the son of Mrs. William O'Hara Martin of Reno, is a Columbia University graduate, and also a Harvard man. He is now practicing law in the northern city, where he is a prominent club and society man. On account of the recent bereavement in the bride-elect's family no date has been set for the wedding.

Travelers Honored.

The return from a world's tour of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lombard has been the inspiration for many teas, dinners and luncheons during the last few days, and the merry entertaining will continue through another week. Last night Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Flint, Jr., of No. 20 Chester place, delightfully entertained with a dinner for the home comers. A handsome table arrangement consisted of a series of individual vases filled with My Maryland roses, which brightened the center of the large table, and marked covers for Count and Mrs. Jaro Von Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Case, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Silent, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coburn Turner and Mr. and Mrs. George Beveridge.

Count and Mrs. Von Schmidt of No. 1 Chester place, will give an informal tea on Sunday afternoon for Mr. and Mrs. Lombard. The guests will include Mrs. Lombard's intimate friends only.

On same evening Mrs. Dan McFarland of West Twenty-third street will have Mr. and Mrs. Lombard, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff and Count and Mrs. Von Schmidt for dinner. The affair will be most informal.

Left Yesterday.

Charles William Kemmler, Jr., of New York, who came to Los Angeles for the engagement party given by his betrothed, Miss Marguerite Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rivers Drake of South Hoover street, left yesterday for his eastern home.

For Bride and Groom.

Gen. and Mrs. Robert Wankowski of Oxford avenue entertained last evening with a dinner party complimentary to Lieut. and Mrs. Randolph Talcott Zane, the latter formerly Miss Barbara Stephens, who was recently married. The table was radiant with its centerpiece—a miniature lake bordered with fern sprays and delicate pink rose buds. In the water was a handsome swan boat drawn by tiny swans—the only passengers being the "bride and groom." Standing on the "shore" waving a farewell were figures of the bridesmaids and ushers. Cupids holding bouquets completed the scene and these held plates for Mr. and Mrs. Joy Clark, Miss Beatriz Burnham, Miss Gladys Lindsay, Frank Splane and Lon McCoy. Later a number of the younger set were asked in for dancing.

Mrs. Allen Hostess.

Mrs. Carroll Allen of Orchard avenue was hostess this week at an informal luncheon party. A mound of pink buds decorated the table, where cards held covers for Mrs. Nathaniel Wilshire, Mrs. Walter Leeds, Mrs. Sidney I. Walles, Mrs. Russell McD. Taylor, Mrs. J. J. A. Van Kaathoven, Mrs. William S. Hook, Jr., and Miss Louise Burke.

Visitor Complimented.

Complimentary to Mrs. Frank Robert Johnson, who is the house guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perry Story, Mrs. Fred Johnson delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon with a luncheon and card party. Monogram cards held places and the table was centered with a fragrant mound of the palest of pink roses. Guests enjoying the charming hospitality were Mrs. Story, Mrs. Edward Allan Featherstone, Mrs. William G. Hutchinson, Mrs. Willard J. Doran, Mrs. William Irving Hollingsworth, Mrs. Herbert Martin Bishop, Mrs. Waller Chanslor, Mrs. William W. Mines, Mrs. Guy Brinton Barham, Mrs. Loren D. Sale, Mrs. Frederick P. Barrows and Mrs. Robert Wankowski.

To Give Musicale.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Ellis of No. 1817 West Forty-first street will entertain this evening with a musicale card party. The programme will be presented by Miss Helen Smith of Sierra Vista, Louis Russell, Charles Webb and Mr. Ellis.

To Leave on Visits.

Mrs. Woods Rayburn Woolwine, with her niece, Miss Martha Woolwine, and Miss Sarah Robertson, who has been spending the summer in this city, will leave on Wednesday for Memphis, where they will visit relatives. Nashville will also be visited. Mrs. Woolwine later leaving for Indianapolis and other points of interest, where she will remain until January, when she will again join Miss Woolwine and the return trip will be made.

Pleasant Evening.

In celebration of the thirty-eighth birthday anniversary of Harvey L. Haines, his friends entertained last evening with a dinner party in the English room of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. J. J. Jacobs assisted as toastmaster and speeches were made by L. J. Ollier, Dr. O. M. Justice, Glen Martin and J. L. Dabbs. Orchids and American beauties formed an elaborate centerpiece for the table. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Ollier, Mr. and Mrs. S. MacCubbin, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Laack, Mrs. Alice Freeman, Mrs. Elsie Hammand, Miss Janet Gardner, Miss Juanita Lane, Mrs. Alba Calvin, Dr. O. M. Justice, J. L. Dabbs, Glenn L. Martin and J. J. Jacobs.

Bride-elect Honored.

Miss Sarah Goldberg, whose engagement to Isadore O. Rosenberg of Detroit was announced at a handsome reception given by her parents during the summer, was the honoree at an enjoyable dinner party given recently by Mrs. Morris Goldenson at her home on West Twenty-fourth street. The table was centered by a miniature garden fashioned of ferns and My Maryland roses, out of which walked a tiny bride. Favors were bon-bon boxes made of baby Cecile Brunner roses and the hand-painter cards, marking covers for sixteen, were adorned with the same flowers.

Home from Colorado Springs.

Mrs. W. T. Webber of No. 917 South Burlington avenue has returned from Colorado Springs, where she spent the summer. Miss Grace Burnett, her niece, accompanied her home, and will be her house guest for the winter.

Dinner Dance.

Honoring the birthday anniversary of her sister, Mrs. Charles Hillerman, Miss Maud Hillerman of Pico street entertained with a dinner dance last evening. The table was abloom with a mound of My Maryland roses. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hillerman, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hillerman, Miss Lois Cook, Messrs. Wayland Trask and E. Kelly and the hostess.

ROAD SHOW CAUSES WORRY.

HIPPODROME MEN WONDER IF CAN HANDLE CROWD.

Reece Gardner to Join One of Gaiety Companies—Harrison Hunter Plans New York Vacation. Kitty Gordon Finds Rival in Valeska Suratt.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

I suspected something was in the wind when I encountered Sam Harris, managing director of the Western States Vaudeville Association, and Treasurer Brown of the same organization in close confab with Lester Fountain, manager of the Hippodrome yesterday, for the two first-named gentlemen properly belong in San Francisco.

And now it all comes out that they are sticking around to see what kind of a sensation their first road show will make in Los Angeles. You see, when ten-cent vaudeville puts out a ten-feature road show it is going some.

On top of that it was only two weeks ago that Manager Fountain had to call out the reserves on Sunday in order to handle the crowd, so the trio are wondering what will happen when the road show hits town Monday. The only undisturbed one is President S. Morton Cohn of the Hippodrome, who declares he is going to stay in the box office and see the tidal wave of humanity surge up and move along.

Speaking of visitors from San Francisco reminds me that when G. M. Anderson of the Gaiety was in town he grabbed Reece Gardner, now at the Burbank, and will put him in one of the Gaiety companies as soon as "The Quaker Girl's" run is finished. I am not sure whether Reece is scheduled for the Morosco with Billy Rock and Maude Fulton or not.

Lulu Glaser, now at the Orpheum, is much "up stage" because of the rain. While she does not announce the fact, she really has more pretty clothes than almost any woman on the stage and had planned to make Anna Held and Kitty Gordon look like thirty cents these two weeks. Now it is umbrellas and galoshes, so what's the use.

Miss Glaser, by the way, hints at retirement from the stage, but I am going to be so impolite as to doubt the report. Up to date I have never heard of anyone as popular with the public as she seriously contemplating retirement, so I am going to say Ish Ga Beeble, leaving you to figure out the spelling for yourselves.

I happened to be just in time to grab a highball at a family reunion yesterday when Burlington Riggs of "The Quaker Girl" company and Percy Garratt, the famous organist at the Woodley Theater, ran into one another in Harlow's.

It seems the two are old roommates and each took the other's tip and hiked to Los Angeles at the first opportunity. And it was Van Pelt who gave me the tip.

Which reminds me that Van has admitted that running a cabaret in Los Angeles is a much harder task than going around the world with The Great Raymond. To him the disbanding of the Kitty Gordon Company proved a boon, for he corralled some splendid talent.

Somehow it was with a sense of disappointment that I heard Morosco say he thought that "Help Wanted" would run in Chicago till spring and then go to New York. Imagine Grace Valentine and Charlie Ruggles away from the Rialto all that time.

Kitty Gordon is much peeved because of a report from New York that Valeska Suratt is showing more back than she does, and thus stealing some of her thunder. Now, as a matter of fact, the only girl who ever won a genuine, unboosted reputation in backology was the late Lotta Faust, best remembered for her Sammy song in "The Wizard of Oz." The present-day vintage are really "also rans."

Harrison Hunter is shortly to get a well-deserved vacation. It begins Sunday, in fact, and he is going to New York to watch some of the rest of the folks work. He says that now he has played Los Angeles he has no desire to go on a New York stage again, and will be back in four weeks to join the Burbank forces.

Twenty-third Season.

GREAT AMATEUR ACHIEVEMENT.

WOMAN'S ORCHESTRA IN FIRST SEASON CONCERT.

Admirable Directorship of Schoenfeld—Immediate Popularity of Marjorie Nichols—Miss Percival, Flutist, and Bessie Fuhrer, Concert Master, Share in the Honors.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

Twenty-three years ago next January L. E. Behymer, manager of the Woman's Orchestra, induced Harley Hamilton to take his artists to Santa Ana for their first public appearance.

Since then, this unique organization of amateur women players has given a series of concerts under the baton of Harley Hamilton, now in Munich.

Last night the orchestra gave its first concert of the season at the Gamut Club auditorium, under the leadership of Henry Schoenfeld.

For those who have known for years the remarkable musicianship of Schoenfeld there was no surprise in the really superior work of the orchestra under his able direction. He held together, harmonized the various divisions, soberly, with directness and dignity. Seldom has such bowing been seen in even professional violinists as was witnessed at the concert last night. March, "Coronation Folkunger," the overture of "Merry Wives of Windsor," and the four movements of Mendelssohn's concerto G Minor for pianoforte with orchestral accompaniment were the numbers of the first part.

Miss Marjorie Nichols made her first appearance as a piano soloist in that number. It is rare to find a slip of a girl, barely 12, able to play without notes Mendelssohn's difficult concerto.

Miss Nichols is a revelation of what local training can accomplish. Her exquisite coloring, intelligent interpretation and fingering displayed extraordinary talent for one so young and cast credit upon J. A. Anderson, her teacher.

The most experienced musicians present declared without hesitation or reservation that this young artist was possessed of that rare quality of talent that makes virtuosi.

On other numbers, "Lullaby" and "Serenade," by Schoenfeld, and selections from Schubert, Mendelssohn and Wieniawski, the young artist acquitted herself with a skill and a sympathy that strongly appealed to the large audience present.

In Bizet's "Menuet de l'Arlesienne" Minnie Victoria Percival played a flute obligato of infinite charm, and in "Largo" of Handel Miss Bessie Fuhrer, concert master of the orchestra, appeared as violin obligato in a number that she interpreted with thoughtful interpetation.

In the history of the Woman's Orchestra this concert marks a new standard; one might say that it indicates a turn in the existence of that organization. There is no longer any trace of amateurship under the eminent conductor who has brought the orchestra to a very high degree of efficiency.

While only women are admitted as members of the orchestra, there was one lonely man hidden behind the violins. He played the snare drum, because, as Miss Cora Foy cleverly said: "No snare drum female artist has yet been brought forth. We would prefer, as much as we like the sterner sex elsewhere and everywhere, to have a woman at the snare." But since Sir Henry Wood, in London, has established the precedent of six women violinists in his celebrated orchestra of male musicians, a lonely snare drum man may well be permissible in the Woman's Orchestra.

BAUER WILL PLAY HERE SATURDAY.

Whether Pavlova, Maude Allen or Gertrude Hoffmann are responsible for the dance craze in America, or if the nation is awakening to the fact that exercise is necessary for physical and mental development, or some other reason may be ascribed, there is undoubtedly an inclination to introduce in almost every musical programme, vocal or instrumental, the swinging, rythmic numbers of the dance. Harold Bauer, the master pianist, who comes to the Auditorium tomorrow in concert, is considered one of the most up-to-date of all the technicians of the piano, and this season he fills a wonderful programme taken from Chopin, Schubert, Brahms, Ravel, Cesar, Franck, Granados, Beethoven, Bach, Schumann, that will introduce the various divertisements of dance composition. There is the minuet, the tarantella, the fandango, the polonaise, Hungarian dances and other well-known compositions indicative of this fascinating pastime, and the Bauer programme tomorrow afternoon at the Philharmonic matinee may well be considered the development of the nation's dances as portrayed by the pianoforte composition.

WATER CONSERVATION.

FRESNO, Nov. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Government engineers under the supervision of H. H. Wadsworth for the past week have been making a survey of the San Joaquin Valley to ascertain what can be done toward the conservation of the water from the Sierra Nevadas for irrigation purposes. Today the surveyors had worked as far as Kerman.

OCTOGENARIAN IS UNDAUNTED.

Inclement Weather Fails to Intimidate Him.

Rain May Necessitate School Bond Election.

Crown City Citizens Want More Ornamental Lights.

PASADENA, Nov. 14.—The fact that the rain was coming down in torrents and that the night before three inches of hailstones had lain on the peak did not prevent P. P. Livermore of No. 491 North Alvarado street, Los Angeles, an octogenarian, from making his annual climb up Mt. Wilson yesterday. He could not wait for more clement weather for the reason that his yearly ascensions of the mountain are the celebrations that mark his birthdays, and yesterday was his eighty-sixth anniversary. It was likewise the third consecutive birthday on which he has made the trip.

Livermore is one of the old residents of Los Angeles, and is well known throughout Southern California. He held several public offices in the early days of Los Angeles. He retired from business a number of years ago.

The octogenarian pedestrian started up the old trail from Sierra Madre at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and arrived at the hotel on the summit at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, bedraggled and hungry, but with a radiant face and a cheery word for the attaches of the hotel, who remembered him as "the old gentleman who had climbed up the trail a year ago."

He sat down to a hearty dinner and related his experiences en route, after which he sauntered about the top of the mountain. He did not attempt to descend the peak yesterday, but remained at the hotel over night.

FIGURES ARE CLIMBING.

Another .25 of an inch was added to the rain record of Pasadena yesterday. The record for the season to date, late last night was, according to the gauge of Weather Observer E. R. Sorver, 1.48 inches. At this time last year but 1.18 inches of rain had fallen.

The hail on Mt. Wilson changed to rain yesterday and fell heavily most of the day. Two rocks rolled down onto the automobile toll road, but they were soon cleared away and the road remained passable all day.

The damage in Pasadena was limited largely to the telephone company's system. It being the first serious storm of the year, a great deal of trouble was experienced in this way. Much of it was repaired before night.

The Pacific Electric Railway Company had no serious difficulty.

MUST ATTUNE THEIR EARS.

What the City Commissioners do not know about sharps and flats they will have to learn forthwith. They are to be the judges of music par excellence in Pasadena this winter.

It developed yesterday that there is every probability that the local music-makers who have sought to supplant George Mulford's band as the Pasadena municipal band this winter have a fair chance of realizing their ambition.

The Commissioners believe in encouraging home talent. At the same time, they are aware of the fact that a high degree of skill is demanded by the somewhat classical audiences that listen to the concerts, and they are not altogether certain that the local musicians can fill the bill. They propose now to award the contract to the local band, but with a saving clause that shall read: "For thirty concerts, more or less." The "more" will be interpreted as the meaning of the contract if the music suits; if the reverse, the "less" will apply. They will themselves be the judges.

SCHOOL BOARD CONSIDERS.

There was talk in the city yesterday that another school bond election may soon be called on account of the rain that fell last Wednesday, and which is held by the members of the board and others as partly responsible for the defeat of the bonds. However, there is no concerted movement in this direction. I. N. Smith, a member of the board, said yesterday:

"Of course, whatever the different organizations of the city desire in the matter, the school board is willing to comply with. There is no movement to call another election soon. One might be held, however, within a reasonable time. The rain undoubtedly had a great deal to do with the way the election went."

The board held a conference yesterday morning, but no decision was arrived at as to what shall be done to abridge the financial difficulty it now finds itself in.

WANT MORE LIGHTS.

Still more decorative street lights will soon be installed in the city if the response to petitions now being circulated is as enthusiastic as the circulators believe that it will be. The project this time is to light North Fair Oaks avenue between Washington street and the north city limits. George M. Burlingame and Logan Henshaw are heading the movement.

Some of the residents of this district favor the use of mission posts, with bell-shaped globes, such as have been installed on some of the streets in Riverside. Others favor a post that will be uniform with those that have just been set upon Los Robles avenue.

The Los Robles avenue lighting system, which will connect Oak Knoll with the fashionable residential district in Altadena, will be ready for the turning on of the light within a few weeks.

There is also talk of reviving the project to install similar lights on West Colorado street, making Pasadena the best lighted city of its size in the country.

LONGEVITY IN FAMILY.

An unusual birthday dinner was given last Wednesday night by E. E. Thompson of No. 335 Monterey road in honor of his father, Charles H. Thompson, the occasion being the latter's eighty-eighth birthday. Six of the guests were present at Thompson's wedding and his and their ages, combined, totaled 514 years. They are, besides Mrs. Thompson, who is 87 years old; Carver Thompson, 90; Mrs. Tracy Rood, 88; J. H. Thompson, 82, and Rezin Thompson, 79. All are from Iowa. The birthday dinner has long been an annual event.

AFTER NEW MEMBERS.

With both a women's and a men's campaign committee in the field, the search for new members of the Tournament of Roses Association is now in full swing. A membership of 1500 has been set as the goal and each committee will vie with the other in presenting names.

L. H. Turner has been appointed president of the men's committee, with J. Ormsby Phillips, Grant Orth, George A. Clark, R. H. Miller, MacD Snowball, J. C. Brainard, E. H. Mulligan, E. C. Bennett, J. H. Fearman, E. C. Billingham and C. W. Koiner as captains. These officers have just been named.

CITY BRIEFS.

The Pasadena High School football team will play the Santa Ana High School tomorrow on the Pasadena High School field. The game will probably be a spirited one. This team defeated Pasadena last year, but this year it is not quite as heavy and the Pasadena boys believe they have a good chance.

A banquet to be given by the Cauldron Club at the Hotel Green next Tuesday night will be the first social event at the large caravansary this winter. The dinner will also be the annual meeting of the club and new officers will be elected.

A. Claude Braden, who has become manager of the old Carmelita Playgrounds, now kept up by the Public Athletic League, yesterday appeared before the City Commission to ask pecuniary aid from the city. He was declined it and told that had the city felt it could afford money for the purpose it would not have given up its lease on the playground property in the first instance.

San Pedro.

PASSENGER AGENT TALKS OF CARRYING U. S. TROOPS.

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 13.—"There is little likelihood of the government interfering with west coast passenger traffic, if it is determined to send American troops to Mexico," said H. B. Brittan, district passenger agent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, this morning. "The government has a number of transports at San Francisco, but if it was found necessary to send troops to Mazatlan, Manzanillo, Salina Cruz and other Mexican ports on the west coast ships with large between deck space might be needed. In such case such vessels as the Congress, Harvard and other big passenger carriers would not be required as much of their interiors are cut up into staterooms. Ships like the Umatilla, Senator and some ships belonging to the Pacific Mail line could be used to advantage for the transportation of troops.

"When a vessel, not built for the purpose, is used as a transport, standard berths are erected between decks. These accommodate three persons, one above the other and can be placed very close together. They are used in the steerage of the Atlantic boats and a great many persons can be placed in a small space. Personally I do not believe that troops would be sent by water from the west coast and I am not satisfied in my own mind there is going to be a war.

"But should intervention be determined upon and it was found advisable to rush 10,000 or 20,000 men to the southwest coast of Mexico, I feel confident that the government would not interfere with the large passenger traffic that is now being done along the coast of California, Oregon and Washington."

Mr. Brittan visited the port this morning to see the new liner Congress take aboard 290 passengers for San Francisco and Seattle.

MAY NOT CALL MASON TO PULPIT

Presbyterians Organize Independent Church.

Friends of Former Minister Control Organization.

Second Act of a Three-Act Drama Ended.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 13.—The congregation of the new Independent Presbyterian Church met last night and organized by electing a full board of officers, the personnel of which is noticeably composed of staunch supporters and friends of Rev. O. H. L. Mason, whose troubles in the First Presbyterian Church and presbytery led to the withdrawal of the present new church from the old one.

That they are still his friends was evidenced by the fact that during the meeting last night the calling of Dr. Mason to the new church was informally discussed and the elders-elect were authorized to invite a pastor to fill the pulpit, action being left entirely with J. D. Graham and Prof. Burcham, members of the session, who were foremost in defense of Mason in his troubles.

L. B. Palmer, also a staunch defender and another member of the board of elders, said today that at present he did not believe Rev. Mason was physically strong enough to come to Long Beach now to preach. He has a recent letter from him stating that he was slowly gaining in strength and was visiting in San Francisco. Questioned as to the probable invitation to Rev. Mason, Palmer said he had not yet been asked.

Dr. E. C. Jacka acted as moderator at last night's meeting, and Cleon C. Mason, son of the storm center, was secretary of the meeting. The officers elected are:

Trustees — L. B. Palmer, H. G. Cooley, H. W. Metcalf, R. Lee Wilson, A. E. Hall and F. L. Lindsay.

Elders—J. D. Graham, David Burcham, S. Merrill, E. N. Strong, B. W. France and P. R. Williams.

Deacons—W. H. Montgomery, J. C. F. Robb, J. R. Warner, C. T. Hard, O. McDaniels and Fred Betts.

Sunday-school — David Burcham, superintendent; H. G. Cooley, assistant superintendent; E. E. English, secretary-treasurer; Cleon Mason, chorister; Mary Ruth Ingram, pianist.

The new officers will be installed next Sunday by E. C. Jacka. Dr. J. M. Newell of Los Angeles, a Mason defender, will preach.

The new church has not yet sought recognition by the presbytery.

SECOND ACT ENDS.

A decision by Judge Jones of Nevada City, who is sitting in Department Nine of the Superior Court, awarding to Mrs. Mary C. Lewis title to a house and lot in this city ends the second act of a three-act drama, the principals of which are Mrs. Lewis, her aged husband and Samuel K. Poling. The property in question was purchased with Poling's money, but the title is in Mrs. Lewis's name. In his first action to recover it Poling is said to have alleged that he furnished the purchase price with the understanding that Mrs. Lewis was to secure a divorce and marry him. The court held such an agreement was a violation of public policy and such a plea had no standing in an equity court. Then Poling filed a second suit, alleging that the transaction was a cold-blooded business proposition, in that he supplied the money for investments to be made by Mrs. Lewis, the two to divide the profits. Judge Jones, however, ruled that if Poling furnished the money it was intended as a gift, and this decision quieted the title in Mrs. Lewis.

The final act is still incomplete. Mrs. Lewis is now suing her aged husband for divorce, alleging that she was induced to marry him by false statements as to his property holdings.

MYSTERIOUS FIRES.

Flames starting from some unknown source last night destroyed the big store barn of Gregory and Reel at State and American avenues. The building was filled with 180 tons of baled hay and several tons of coal. Despite the fact that the fire department was aided by a heavy downpour of rain, the fierce wind blowing constantly fanned the flames. The fire also destroyed three delivery wagons and an automobile. The loss is estimated at $6000, covered by insurance. During the fire a heavy beam fell on the hand of C. L. Jones, a fireman, smashing it badly.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A cablegram from Carrinto, signed by Capt. Taylor of the cruiser Buffalo, was received today by Police Sergeant Snow, announcing the death of his son, Lloyd, aged 17, who enlisted in the Navy July 1. Appendicitis was the cause of death. The body will be sent to Mare Island and then reshipped to Long Beach.

Another day of disappointment came today for the relatives and friends of the passengers on the schooner Mary Dodge, en route to Long Beach from Alaska. Dispatches last night indicated that the ship was off Santa Cruz Island, 100 miles distant and would not arrive until tonight. Absence of any news today probably means that the storm of last night will further delay the boat.

FLOWER AND FRUIT SHOW.

Annual Exhibit Attracts Many Exhibitors and a Girl Wins Flower Honors—Short News Stories.

BEAUMONT, Nov. 13.—The annual chrysanthemum show and apple exhibit was held in Gantt's Hall in this city yesterday afternoon and last night and attracted a large crowd, despite the inclement weather which prevailed. All previous records were broken in the excellence of the display.

Prizes on the chrysanthemums were awarded as follows: Largest and finest collection, Mrs. A. T. Gantt, first; Dr. F. D. West, second. Finest bunch, Mrs. J. W. Elder, first; Mrs. C. M. Bailey, second. Finest single flower, Mrs. A. T. Gantt, first; Mrs. J. E. Frear, second. Finest collection raised by girl, won by Miss Doris Espy.

Following were the winners in the apple exhibit: Best plate of one variety, Lukins ranch. Best plate, mixed varieties, A. A. Warren. Best single apple, A. A. Warren. Best plate of apples grown on trees five years old or under, E. S. Foote.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The local members of the Masonic order have formed an organization preparatory to making application for a charter. The following officers have been elected: Worshipful Master, C. F. Rise; Senior Warden, J. C. Sharpe; Junior Warden, A. W. Nolan; George B. Esterley has been appointed Senior Deacon.

W. A. Sewell this week sold thirty-eight acres in section eleven, adjoining Beaumont on the east, belonging to William L. Perry to Dr. A. G. Toprahanian, a resident of Imperial. Dr. Toprahanian will come here with his family to reside and will improve his newly acquired property.

The rainfall of Wednesday will be of great benefit to the grain and fruit crops as well as all other vegetation. The precipitation amounted to 1.39 inches, making the season's total 3.84. The early coming of heavy rains will increase the amount of acreage put into fruit in this vicinity this year. Present indications are that more than 1000 acres of new orchard will be planted.

George L. Wing has been appointed by the City Council as City Attorney of Beaumont and will assume his new duties at the regular meeting of the Council to be held Friday night.

COLORING OF THE ORANGES.

Growers Near Whittier Are Convinced That Coming Crop Will Be a Record Breaker.

POMONA, Nov. 13.—With the commencement of the coloring of the oranges in this locality there comes to the orange growers of Pomona Valley the confident feeling that the coming season is going to be a most satisfactory one. The fact that a large number of growers in Pomona protected their orchards during the cold periods of last winter by smudging left the trees in fine condition for bearing satisfactory crops this coming year. One thing noticeable in the orchards here is that the cold weather seems to have exterminated much of the black scale, so that not nearly so much fruit will have to be washed at the packing-houses as usual.

The young oranges thus far are in excellent condition and are sizing up well. The past hot summer weather was specially favorable to fruiting citrus groves, which were regularly irrigated. In a few localities here where the fruit matures earlier, a limited number of cars will be packed for holiday shipment, but shipping of the bulk of the crop will not be commenced until January. Splendid prices are anticipated by Secretary Dreher of the San Antonio Fruit Exchange from the Pomona Valley fruit, because of the attention that was given to smudging and care of the groves.

The offices of the Pomona Fruit Growers' Exchange are now combined at the large packing-house east of Reservoir street, three rooms having been fitted up for the clerical and book-keeping departments of the North Park-avenue and Reservoir-street houses. The houses are renovated and in readiness for a busy season.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Representatives from the Pomona High School to appear in the debate against representatives of Lincoln High School in the league debate in Los Angeles in December are Lawrence Gantz, Vernon Green, Mildred Cooper and Harold Kennedy, these having been chosen at a recent try-out debate at the High School. The alternates are Jack Loucks and Merle Ditty. On the same day that the debate is held in Los Angeles, viz., December 12, a debating team from Lincoln school will come to Pomona. The local negative team will appear against the Lincoln affirmative team in Los Angeles and the Lincoln negative team will debate the Pomona affirmative team here. Pomona's representatives for her affirmative and negative teams will be chosen at once.

This evening in the First Christian Church was held the first session of the recently-formed Union Bible class, Rev. C. R. Hudson, who has been chosen as teacher in the first period delivering his first lecture on the book of Genesis. Rev. Hudson's seminary class which he has conducted at the church has joined the union class. Rev. Dr. W. F. Harper of the First Baptist Church will teach the class in uniform Sunday-school lesson study and Rev. T. T. Creswell of the First Presbyterian Church will also assist in this division.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK.

VISALIA, Nov. 13.—Contracts have been let by George Ballou, already the owner of fine business blocks in Visalia, for the erection of a two-story, class B structure, to be used for an office building, and to cost approximately $22,000. It is to be located in a very desirable portion of the down-town section. Ballou states that in all probability the building will be used as offices for the Big Four Railroad and for an office and printing plant for the Tulare County Press. Work on the new building is to be started at once.

M'KITTRICK.

M'KITTRICK, Nov. 13.—Ross Hand, a young business man, has been elected City Treasurer, to succeed Oscar H. Tetzlaff, who resigned on account of his removal from McKittrick. Mr. Hand has for several years been connected with the establishment of E. L. Brown & Son. Mr. Tetzlaff, for a number of years the proprietor of a department store, recently closed out his interests here and will likely locate in the northern portion of the State.

San Bernardino.

PROSPECTS EXCELLENT.

San Bernardino Fruit Growers Have High Hope.

Warm Weather Has Aided in Early Development.

Mountains Display Their Seasonal Caps of Snow.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 13.—The early crop of oranges in this valley has not looked so good in many years as right now, according to many fruit experts who have been making a careful survey of the conditions in the several citrus districts.

A few cars of oranges will be sent out for the Thanksgiving market from the earlier districts, but the shipments for the Christmas season will probably be the heaviest in several years. It is expected that several packing-houses will be open before the end of the month, and that picking and packing will be under way in the Highlands, the Redlands, and probably in the Rialto sections, and possibly some others.

The fruit is coloring rapidly; in fact, in many orchards plenty of splendidly-colored fruit is now available, while the oranges are of good size and fine texture. Thus far there has been but little splitting of oranges, another encouraging fact.

The mild weather continuing throughout the fall has encouraged the growers in the feeling that a mild winter is ahead, and no trouble will be encountered from unfavorable weather conditions. However, in most districts the major portion of the growers have prepared themselves for any emergency that may arise in the way of cold.

SNOW-CAPPED PEAKS.

Snow this morning capped the higher mountain peaks surrounding the valley, though "the beautiful" fell only on the higher elevations, as it was an unusually warm rain for the fall season. The precipitation for the storm amounted to .63 of an inch, bringing the season's total to 1.43 inches.

The rain has not only brought a feeling of ease among the farmers and business men in general, but has put the soil in shape for the immediate undertaking of fall plowing and seeding, which will now proceed with a vim. It was a most timely rain in every way. On the mountains the precipitation amounted to from two to three inches in many places, but so far as known no damage resulted.

ENDLESS ALARMS.

The endless chain of fire alarms which has been getting the firemen out in the middle of the night recently, continued last night. A barn belonging to Dr. A. Von Aichelberg was destroyed, including an auto and some stored household goods, the loss being $1500. It is believed to have been of incendiary origin, as have several others.

SNAKE STORY.

A rattlesnake over six feet in length and carrying fourteen rattles, came within four inches of costing Ernest Shay his life while hunting in the Perris hills country. He started to climb over a ledge when he was confronted by his snakeship, who was in front of his face, and but four inches away. Shay dropped from the ledge and commenced in a more favorable position shot the reptile, which is the largest killed in this section for years.

Local attorneys just returning attended the San Bernardino and Riverside Bar Association's banquet at the Mission Inn at Riverside last night. Judge B. F. Bledsoe of this city was toastmaster, and addresses were made by Judge W. J. Curtis, dean of the local bar, on reminiscences of the earlier days; Senator H. E. Wilson and Judge F. F. Oster of this city, Judge Densmore of Riverside and others.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A. C. Bell, for a number of years a well-known realty man in this city, also well known in Los Angeles realty circles, has passed away after a long illness, his age being but 54 years. He was a man with a large capacity for business, and handled large realty deals. He leaves a widow and two brothers here, besides sisters of Redlands and Wilmington.

Francis C. Cuttle of Riverside has left for Washington with a commission from San Bernardino County supervisors to seek funds from the forestry department for the building of mountain roads, under a law recently enacted by Congress. If the mission is successful the money will be used in the Bear Valley roads, both on Big Creek and the Arrowhead.

Plans are being completed for the entertainment of the Older Boys' Y.M.C.A. conference in this city the last week in the month, it being expected that 700 boy delegates will come, and addresses will be made by well-known association workers from Los Angeles, San Francisco and other points throughout the entire State. The sessions of the conference will be held in the First Presbyterian Church.

WILL GO TO KERN COUNTY.

Assistant to Engineer of Los Angeles Highway Commission Has New Offer There.

P. H. Everett, assistant to State Engineer Joyner of the Los Angeles Highway Commission, has just been offered the position of chief engineer of the Highway Commission of Kern county. He has accepted.

Kern county recently voted a $500,000 bond issue for improving highways. Everett has been with the local commission for about two years and a half. He came here from Taunton, where he was connected with the Massachusetts Highway Commission for about seventeen years.

Everett engineered the first piece of modern highway in Massachusetts. That was in Northampton, and then he has helped in the construction of numerous highways.

BIG RAISIN CROP.

DINUBA, Nov. 13.—Details of figures which have been given out by the California Associated Raisin Company—the growers' organization—show that the 1913 crop of raisins for this State will not exceed 100,000 tons. These figures are based on careful compilations made in the packing yards and warehouses and are believed to be accurate within a very small margin. Last year the crop of raisins from this State was 100,000 tons. In view of the considerable shortage and the brisk demand for goods the association has announced a new price list to become effective December 1. The quotation sheet the prices are on the basis of 7½ cents for dates packed in cartons; in bulk, three-quarters of a cent less. Loose goods are quoted at 4¾ cents. Three-crown Loose, $1.45 up to $3.75 for six-pound twenty-pound cartons. Thompson seedless, packages, 7¼ cents.

Santa Barbara.

SECOND CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR SHIES HIS CASTOR

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 13.—The municipal campaign for the election of a Mayor, seven Councilmen, City Clerk and other officers now is warming up, yesterday having been the last day on which candidates could file their nominating petitions. There are two candidates for Mayor, fifteen for Council and two for City Clerk.

A delegation of the city's leading business men at a meeting several weeks ago urged Frank Smith, president of the Central Bank and Stearns Wharf Company and extensive property owner, to be a candidate for Mayor, and he consented. It was believed that Mr. Smith would have no opposition, but on last Monday John E. Henck, a member of the present City Council, announced his candidacy.

It is believed Mr. Henck will conduct his campaign on a strictly reform platform, hoping to get the support of the voters who last spring eliminated the saloons from Santa Barbara. Mr. Smith, it is understood, will not make a personal fight for the Mayoralty, but his many friends have prepared to work hard for his election. He is referred to by his admirers as a conservative and sound business man, with no tendency toward radicalism.

The candidates for Council are A. W. Dozier, Alfred Davis, who is at present City Clerk; Basil Fe... Janney, William ... Johnston, T. H. Morrison, Jo... Williamson, A. L. Pa... Frank Doty, W. T. McKinnon, A. Avery, Marion Lloyd and Le... In this list there are about ... reform candidates as there ... erals and a bitter war will be ... by all.

Miss Holmberg has been the deputy clerk for ... years and has a full knowledge of the workings of the office. It is ... she will poll a big vote ... women and she has many ... among the men voters. ... son is a Councilman ... the reform element of the city.

W. R. Kerney has no opposition for City Treasurer, being a candidate for re-election. For City Attorney, P. Osborne will fight it out with P. Butcher, incumbent.

There are five candidates for the Board of Education, three of whom are to be elected. They are Benjamin Bakewell, Mrs. Helen K. Conant, Mrs. Helen K. ... William T. Barry and ... Berri.

The candidates for Mayor ... are Jane C. Byrd, H. F. ... Benjamin A. Goodridge, C. A. ... wards and Frank J. Mason.

San Diego.

WILL ASK STUDENTS TO RESTORE OLD MISSION

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 13.—Representatives of the various Catholic parishes of San Diego county discussed at a meeting yesterday the movement for the restoration of the old San Diego Mission, which project has been under consideration ever since the dedication in September of the monument to Father Serra.

Attorney Ernest Riall, representing the Order of Panama, was also present, and made a statement as to the plans and progress of that organization in the matter. The pupils of the Grantville school, which is situated one-half mile from the old mission, were the first to act on the suggestion of the committee that each school child in the State of California contribute one nickel to the fund which is to restore to its original form the first mission built by the apostle of California.

The estimated cost is $150,000, and should every school child in California donate his share, the ... will be ample to cover the ... the children will be ... consciousness of having ... ing to the country's ... ment to the ... on the Coast. Shay his life while hunting in the Perris hills country. He started to climb over a ledge when he was confronted by his snakeship directly in front of his face, and but four inches away. Shay dropped from the ledge and companions in a more favorable position shot the reptile, which is the largest killed in this section for years.

Local attorneys last evening attended the San Bernardino and Riverside Bar Association's banquet at the Mission Inn at Riverside last night. Judge B. F. Bledsoe of this city was toastmaster, and addresses were made by Judge W. J. Curtis, the dean of the local bar, on reminiscences of the earlier days; Senator H. M. Willis and Judge F. F. Oster of this city. Judge Densmore of Riverside was host.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A. C. Bell, for a number of years a well-known realty man in this city, also well known in Los Angeles realty circles, has passed away after a long illness, his age being but 34 years. He was a man with a large capacity for business, and handled many large deals. He leaves a widow and two brothers here, besides sisters at Assheim and Wilmington.

Francis Cuttle of Riverside has left for Washington with a commission from San Bernardino County supervisors to seek funds from the forestry department for the building of mountain roads, under a recent law enacted by Congress. If the mission is successful the money will be used on the Bear Valley roads, both via Mill Creek and the Arrowhead.

Plans are being completed for the entertainment of the Older Boys' Y.M.C.A. conference in this city the last week in the month, it being expected that 300 boy delegates will come, and addresses will be made by well-known association workers from Los Angeles, San Francisco and other points throughout the entire State. The sessions of the conference will be held in the First Presbyterian Church.

WILL GO TO KERN COUNTY.

Assistant to Engineer of Los Angeles Highway Commission Accepts New Offer There.

P. H. Everett, assistant to Chief Engineer Joyner of the Los Angeles Highway Commission, has just been offered the position of chief engineer of the Highway Commission of Kern county. He has accepted.

Kern county recently voted a $1,500,000 bond issue for improving its highways. Everett has been with the local commission for about two years and a half. He came here from Boston, where he was connected with the Massachusetts Highway Commission for about seventeen years. Everett engineered the first mile of modern highway in Massachusetts. That was in Northampton. Since then he has helped in the construction of numerous highways.

BIG RAISIN CROP.

DINUBA, Nov. 13.—Detailed figures which have been given out by the California Associated Raisin Company—the growers' organization—show that the 1913 crop of raisins for this State will not exceed 145,000 tons. These figures are based on careful compilations made in vineyards and warehouses and are believed to be accurate within a very small margin. Last year the output of raisins from this State reached 100,000 tons. In view of the considerable shortage and the remarkably brisk demand for goods the Associated has announced a new price list to become effective December 1. In the quotation sheet the prices are on the basis of 7½ cents for fancy seeded in cartons; in bulk, three-quarters of a cent less. Loose goods are quoted at 4¾ cents. Three-crown Lexias, $1.45 up to $2.75 for six-crown twenty-pound cartons. Thompson seedless, packages, 7¾ cents.

SNOWY MANTLE OVER SIERRAS.

Nearly Two Feet Reported at Summit.

Rain Is Light During Day Throughout State.

Further Precipitation May Occur in South.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—With sixteen inches of snow already on the ground in the Sierras, reports of a rainfall tonight were that four additional inches had fallen during the last twenty-four hours.

A. H. Wilson, local forecaster of the United States Weather Bureau, tonight that today's rain may be the last of the storm for Northern California, but that it will continue in Southern California tomorrow. According to weather conditions along the coast, from the Sierras to the sea, Wilson said that the rain had been light during the day throughout the State and continued at night from Point Concepcion south and in the north. No rain fell at Eureka during the storm. San Francisco had a light rain today.

The rainfall for the storm and up to 5 o'clock this afternoon was as follows: Red Bluff, .32; Sacramento, .40; San Francisco, 1.36; San Jose, .21; Fresno, .21; San Luis Obispo, .40; Los Angeles, 1.22; San Diego, .12.

Mexican Consul Invokes International Treaty to Exempt Himself from State Law.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 13.—The treaty between the United States and Mexico has been invoked by Imperial Mexican Consul-General F. Elias of San Francisco to exempt his automobile from taxation under the new automobile law going into effect January 1, for in a letter to Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, the Consul sets forth the provision of the treaty exempting German government officials from paying personal property taxes. He also asks that a license number be issued to him free of charge. It is expected that consuls of other foreign governments will claim a similar exemption by virtue of treaties the United States has with their respective governments. The Federal government also asks exemption for automobiles used in the forest service and by army officers and Federal officers. M. Curtis, assistant solicitor of the Department of Agriculture, has asked Secretary Jordan to refund the automobile tax paid by a forest ranger.

RICE SATISFACTORY.

Crops in Porterville District Are Selling for Oranges Less Than Dollars a Box.

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 13.—Packers in the Porterville district are receiving less than $3 per box, and Porterville for the Washington crop. Fancy packs, according to quality and color, are better. It is stated that which are extremely few are being quoted at $2.85. The demand for the early crops is not sufficient that practically none of fruit leaving this section has been sold on track here. It is said this condition will continue for some days, owing to the amounts leaving the south at present.

Prunes received are the best for the season. There is good money being offered in this district on prunes, f.o.b. and the extra grading received means added profit on that amount.

MOTOR MURDERERS.

Posse Loses Valuable Time Armed Men in Search for Men Who Killed Constable.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Nov. 13.—A posse started eastward from Phoenix today in pursuit of the two men who shot and killed in ambush Constable R. F. Peterson of Mesa, a town east of this city. It is believed that Peterson had arrested the two men who were armed, but who later proved that they had contributed to the posse valuable time in the capture of the man who really committed the crime.

Search was renewed tonight after it was reported that a horse had been stolen from a ranch near Mesa, and that the vehicle, with two passengers, had passed Hot Springs, forty miles from Phoenix, this afternoon.

Officers are of the opinion that Peterson had been killed by two men in revenge for arrests made by him.

Arizona's Official Flag.

PHOENIX, Nov. 13.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Bars diagonals on a field, in the center a star, and in the center a white silhouette of a buttonwood tree, the opening of the Panama Canal, are in the design adopted for the official flag of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

SUICIDE A THIEF.

Before Killing Himself at Seattle Man Confesses to Woman Companion He Had Stolen Army Funds.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 13.—A man who committed suicide early today at a cheap hotel in Yesler Way, where he registered under the name of W. B. Walker, San Francisco, is believed by the police to have been an embezzler of United States army funds. A woman companion of Walker told the police she had joined him at San Francisco and that on the way to Seattle he told her he was a purchasing agent at the Presidio, San Francisco, and had gotten away with funds belonging to the government. The woman said she did not know his real name.

The woman, who said her name was Gertrude Lynn, told the police she met Walker about November 1. He told her he was a quartermaster sergeant in the United States army and had stolen money belonging to the government, with the intention of having a "good time," after which he intended to commit suicide. He asked her to join him and they came to Seattle together, arriving here November 5, after stopping one day in Portland.

Last night the Lynn woman said Walker told her he had spent all the money and would commit suicide. At 4 o'clock this morning, she said, Walker announced his intention of committing suicide immediately. She asked him to wait until she had gone, and packing her suit case, left the hotel.

Late today the proprietor of the hotel, having seen nothing of Walker during the day, entered the room and found him dead. He had taken poison. The woman was arrested by the police soon afterwards at the home of a friend.

SOLDIER IDENTIFIED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—The soldier who killed himself in Seattle was identified by description by the officers at the Presidio tonight as Willis B. Corp, a sergeant overseer of the quartermaster department who was being sought as a deserter after he had embezzled $270 from civil employees at the post.

Corp left the reservation October 31. The money he took with him, according to officers at the Presidio, had been paid him by the civilians who had been taking their meals with the regular army mess. It also was reported that Corp had borrowed various sums of money from his fellow-soldiers.

Corp was from Vancouver, Wash.

"Counter Sale" Ends.

San Francisco Disposes of the Last of the Big Bond Issue Refused by Bankers at Par.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—The city's "counter sale" of municipal bonds was concluded today by three purchasers, who paid $370,000 for 370 bonds, the last of an issue of $3,045,000.

The bonds were the remnants of City Hall, sewer and school issues, which had been refused by bankers at par on the ground there was no market for them as 5 per cent securities. The sale began on August 18.

Highway Commission About Ready to Receive Bids for New Feeder to Southland.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 13.—The California State Highway Commission at a meeting in San Francisco yesterday decided that as soon as County Supervisors assured it rights of way had been cleared, it would advertise for bids for the Visalia-Hanford lateral to tap the main State highway from Sacramento to Los Angeles. The lateral will be nineteen miles long and will cost, according to State Engineer Fletcher's estimate, about $200,000.

WIDNEY TRIAL BEGINS.

Los Angeles Judge, Father of the Accused Man, Is With Him in San Francisco Court.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—The trial of Arthur B. Widney, son of ex-Judge Robert Widney of Los Angeles, on the charge of accepting the earnings of a fallen woman, was begun late today before Judge Dunne in the Superior Court. The jury was selected and the taking of testimony will begin tomorrow morning.

Widney was accompanied in court by his aged father. Miss Noel Murphy, the woman who accuses him, occupied a seat in the courtroom.

Sick Children Placed in Detention Cottage Contract Scarlet Fever and One Dies.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 13.—One child dead and five children and the father ill from scarlet fever, which City Physician W. K. Lindsay believes was contracted at the County Hospital, where the children were taken to recover from diphtheria, is the record of misfortune which has befallen the family of E. D. Ely, a carman.

When the children became ill with diphtheria they were placed in a detention cottage with a scarlet fever case.

EUREKA SCHOOLS TO REOPEN.

EPIDEMIC UNDER CONTROL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EUREKA (Cal.) Nov. 13.—The Eureka public and parochial schools are to reopen next Monday, according to announcement made by the Board of Health today, after having been closed since October 29, owing to a threatened epidemic of infantile paralysis. Nine cases were reported, three of which were fatal.

SURGICAL TRIUMPH.

Kern County Man Has Face Bitten by Foeman, But Now Looks Good as New.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 13.—About a month ago Julius Siami and a fellow-countryman got into a fight over a woman, and in the fray Siami hit the other Mexican on the forehead. The Mexican retaliated by biting a piece out of Siami's lower lip so large that the teeth were exposed to the roots. When Siami was taken to the hospital his face presented a terrible sight even to the seasoned nurses. Dr. N. N. Brown took charge of the case and by a very delicate operation has restored Siama's lip so well that he looks at natural as ever. The operation consisted in grafting a portion of the cheek to the lower lip, and the result is so perfect that hardly a scar is discernable where the fusion was made.

LEG AMPUTATED.

Robert Cook of Los Angeles, colored, and 21 years of age, was so badly injured by an engine in the Southern Pacific yards Monday night that it was found necessary to amputate the leg at the hip. Cook attempted to climb between two moving engines, his coat was caught on a coupling, and he was thrown on the rails. The small front wheel of the rear engine passed over his leg. Cook has a wife and baby in Los Angeles, and has been in Bakersfield but a short time, working as a bootblack in the Imperial saloon. He was taken to the Kern County Hospital, where the operation was performed.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The committee in charge of the banquet to be given T. E. Gibbon and associates of Los Angeles at the Southern Hotel next Friday night appointed a reception committee to meet the guests at the depot, consisting of the following: A. W. Mason, W. V. Matlack, C. F. Johnson, F. W. Tegeler, C. E. Cooper, Harry McCray, A. E. Hoagland and A. Wells.

The Kern County Land Company will subdivide the Shafer land, located eighteen miles west of Bakersfield, and put it on the market to actual settlers for prices ranging from $60 to $90 per acre, according to distance from the railroad. One hundred and sixty acres have been surveyed for a townsite on which a hotel has already been erected. Three test wells have been drilled and ample water found. A well for domestic water has been sunk on the townsite. There have already been a number of applications for twenty-acre tracts on the colony.

MAY ENTER OXFORD.

Notice Is Received That Two Californians Have Passed Rhodes Scholarship Examinations.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Announcement was received by cablegram from Oxford today at the University of California that three of the students who took the Rhodes scholarship examinations passed the preliminary examinations and are eligible for the appointment. The three who were successful are W. C. Cook, from New Mexico, Adams of Stanford and Prindle from Occidental College.

Former students who have passed the examinations are also eligible for this year's selection. The additional lists include J. D. Hartigan, J. C. Altman, Seth Axley and E. F. Holman of Stanford. Axley intends making application from the State of Washington.

The final choice of this year's student will be made by the local committee of selection in the near future. The winner will be given the opportunity of attending Oxford University for three years on a considerable allowance.

F. D. Stephens, who secured the scholarship last year, is a student of law of St. John's College.

MADERA NOTES.

MADERA, Nov. 13.—For the purpose of raising funds with which to furnish their clubhouse, the members of the Woman's Improvement Club held an art exhibit. Though rain came in the afternoon, the ladies' ardor was not one whit dampened, for the rooms of the clubhouse were filled with visitors both afternoon and evening.

The Sugar Pine lumber mill in the mountains, closed down for the season this week.

A Farmers' Institute, under the direction of the college of agriculture of the University of California, is to be held in Madera November 17 and 18. The sessions are to be held in the Lincoln grammar school and the two days will be full of interest to not only the farmer and his wife, but to his town brother and his wife, also, if the programme is followed. Miss L. D. Clarke will address the ladies in a separate room on the topic of labor-saving devices in the farm home.

There were about twenty members present at the meeting of the Madera County Automobile Club. Good roads was the main topic up for discussion. An automobile load of enthusiasts came over from Fresno to help boost the cause along.

How to Avoid those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. This remedy softens the muscles, enables them to expand without strain and enables women to go through the ordeal without pain, nausea, morning sickness or other dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found how easy it is to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists, and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 227 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book to expectant mothers.

Night News from Mexico Gives the Bears Their Opportunity, but at the Market's Close Prices Are About Where They Started—Bonds Are Heavy.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The upward movement in stocks was halted today. The market was under pressure and the range of prices was materially lower until a swift upturn shortly before the close virtually cancelled the day's losses. Dispatches from Mexico City during night removed the main prop of the bulls and effectually checked operations on the long side of the market. Shortly before the end of trading, reports from Washington of decidedly favorable developments caused the market to rally strongly. New Haven fell two points to 76 and Mexican Petroleum recorded a similar amount to 41¾, in both cases the lowest prices at which these stocks have ever sold. On the final upturn Mexican Petroleum jumped four points from the day's bottom price. Further reductions in steel prices were reported. The failure of R. H. Hollins & Co. was without effect on the stock market. The bond market was heavy. There were increasing sales of gilt-edged issues. Total sales, par value, $2,970,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

New York Stock Market.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury Bldg., Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The market was irregular during the forenoon, but later recovered and the result of the day's trading was only nominal price changes. Mexican developments constituted the chief news and, while reports were conflicting as usual, Washington dispatches appeared to be somewhat more cheerful. The covering movement which started a few days ago still seems to be in progress, but shorts are the principal buyers. There has not been a noticeable increase in either the investment inquiry or public participation.

New York Cotton Market.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Fluctuations were narrow, with the close only 4 to 7 points up for the day, but the market had a decidedly steady undertone throughout. There was moderate profit taking early in the day, and what looked like either hedge or arbitrage selling at times for accounts of important spot interests. Commission houses with spinner connections and the local trading element were the best buyers. Indications for tomorrow's into-sight figures are rather more bullish than forecasted yesterday. Estimates now seem to favor some 50,000 or more bales less than the same week last year, while expert opinion is that tomorrow's census report of American consumption for October will be fully up to if not in excess of last year's big total. Taken as a whole the market seems to be developing a more optimistic temper.

Wheat Makes a Fair Net Gain for the Day, Due to the Latest Advices About the Crop in Argentina. Buyers of Oats Are Plentiful.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Estimates that more than 5,000,000 acres, one third of the Argentine wheat lands, had suffered serious crop damage, were about a quick upturn today in wheat, and most of the gain was lost prices closed easy at a gain of ¼@⅝ to ⅞@1 net. Other bullish stories, too, all finished at an advance of ¼@⅝ oats ⅛@⅜, and provisions 10 to 15 cents higher. Private talking was largely responsible for the sharp reaction of wheat in the last hour. Cash sales received aid from the unseasonably mild weather over Illinois and Iowa. There seemed to be an abundance of resting orders to buy on setbacks, however the market dipped. Provisions ran as a result of unusually active speculative buying in behalf of large interests.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Council yesterday approved the plans of the Annexation Commission and its members will now carry the educational work to people in the territory proposed to be annexed.

The Public Works Committee of the City Council yesterday approved the City Engineer's plans for repaving and regrading streets in the vicinity of the proposed Second-street tunnel and ordered an ordinance drawn.

The Board of Public Utilities has ordered the railway company to eliminate the troublesome transfer system on Vermont avenue by making one through cross-town line.

The City Council yesterday passed a mass of building ordinances under one head to simplify the work of issuing permits and eliminate the red tape.

Because of an aggregate of $103,000 bequeathed to the grandchildren of a prominent oil man, petitions of guardianship were filed in the Superior Court yesterday to protect the legacies during the minority of the children.

WILL INSTRUCT ON ANNEXATION.

COUNCIL APPROVES PLANS FOR ADDING TERRITORY.

Commission's Long Work Indorsed and Basis of Negotiations Formally Recognized—Members Will Go Before People With Plans for Increasing Area and Population.

Following the approval by the City Council of the annexation programme yesterday, it was announced by the Annexation Commission that its members will carry to the people a campaign of education which is expected to result in the annexation or consolidation to the city of a great expanse of territory and the additional population of fully 100,000.

The Council unanimously approved the work of the commission, adopted its seven conditions upon which annexation or consolidation may become possible, and urged that the commission continue its good work. The report of the commission, embracing a platform which is the negotiable basis between the city and adjacent territory, was presented by Councilman Betkouski, who is chairman of the Public Service Committee, and also a member of the Annexation Commission.

Councilman Bryant raised the point that the residents in parts of San Fernando Valley will expect service from the aqueduct trunk lines that are to be run from the Chatsworth reservoirs to the city. It was explained by Councilman Betkouski that the smaller communities will have to provide their own distributing systems and when pressed for water, as they will be with natural development and growth of their communities, will no doubt build the systems and take advantage of the water served through the trunk lines.

One of the provisions of the programme provides that annexed districts shall be given the right to connect with the outfall sewer and this met with opposition from President Whitten, who wanted to know if the city would have to lay a sewer in San Fernando Valley, for instance, in case parts of that district became annexed. It was explained that the clause was inserted only for the benefit of South Pasadena, Highland Park, and, possibly, Belvidere, where the sewer connection will be an advantage, and that the agricultural communities will not need outfall sewer connections, and have not asked for them.

Betkouski announced that taxpayers who will be included in the city will have the same opportunity of connecting with the outfall sewer as the present property owners have, and that if the sewer is not adequate for the connections, they will have to take the same chances that those in Los Angeles are taking today. The annexed districts, however, will have to bear their share of the bonded debt that may have to be incurred for the new outfall sewer now being planned to parallel the old.

The commission's attitude was explained by Miles Gregory, one of its members, when he said that no preannexation promises had been made, that none would be made, and that the commission gave no assurances outside of what they felt the city could meet on a general basis of annexation.

DECIDE ON PAVING.

SECOND-STREET TUNNEL WORK.

The Public Works Committee of the City Council yesterday recommended that the City Engineer's plans for repaving and changing grades of streets in the neighborhood of the proposed Second-street tunnel be approved, and that ordinances of intention be drawn. The committee recommends that where the street grade is less than 6 per cent., including the floor of the tunnel, a bituilthic pavement on concrete base be laid. The repaving and regrading plans include Second street, from Broadway to Olive, and Flower to Figueroa; Hill street, from First, to a point 180 feet north of Third; First street, from Hill to Olive, and Clay street, from Second to a point 150 feet north of Third.

The proposed grade on First street will be 11 per cent., and granite block on a concrete base will be laid here, the same pavement as now laid. The proposed grade on Second street, from Hill to a point 166 feet east of that street, is to be 6.3 per cent., granite block on concrete base being recommended here.

CUTS OUT TRANSFERS.

NEW CROSSTOWN SERVICE.

President McReynolds of the Board of Public Utilities yesterday held a conference with officials of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation, at which he ordered an elimination of the transfer system on the crosstown line and arranged for a through service from First street and Vermont avenue to Vernon avenue and thence east on Vernon avenue to Long Beach avenue, the present terminus of the line.

At present passengers wishing to take the crosstown line on Vernon and Vermont avenues are compelled to transfer three times to get from one end to the other of the two sides of the rectangular line. The Utilities Board today will probably make a formal order of approval of President McReynold's action, thus starting the new service on Saturady, bringing a big convenience to a great number of passengers, and establishing the first real crosstown line.

RED TAPE TRIMMED.

BUILDING LAWS REVISED.

The City Council yesterday assembled all of the building ordinances under one head and passed a general ordinance that is expected to eliminate great spools of red tape and enable the public to get building permits without going through so many motions and complications. The building, plumbing, sewer, fire escape, wiring and lighting permits, under the the new ordinance, will be obtainable through a single issuance and by a simpler method.

The Council also passed a revised edition of the house court ordinance with some few technical changes in the interest of elimination of red tape. An ordinance preventing the erection of signs or bulletin boards on tops of buildings without a permit was also passed. All of the ordinances centralize authority in the office of Building Inspector Backus and make it possible for him and his force to do more effective work.

No Station Hearing.

The death of Mrs. Clute, mother-in-law of Assistant City Attorney Robertson, caused members of the City Council to postpone action on the Southern Pacific station yesterday, because of Robertson's absence. The Assistant City Attorney has been handling the legal phase of the work for the Council and it was desired to have him present when any contemplated action was taken. The station matter may come up in the Council today.

Immigration Station Plans.

Immigration Inspector Connell yesterday sent to the Harbor Commission plans of a specimen immigration station to be erected by the city at the harbor, to take care of the immigrants expected with the opening of the Panama Canal. The government will not erect a station for some time and the present plans provide only for a temporary structure. It is 102x122 feet in dimensions, and contains about fifty rooms. The commission referred the plans to the City Engineer for an estimate of the cost.

Tax Collections.

Up to closing time yesterday, the City Tax Collector had gathered in $905,712.94, which is an increase of $72,447.10 over the total on the corresponding day of last year. The total amount paid on the first installment last year was $2,994,976.22, and it is expected to collect $3,100,000 this year, which means that $2,200,000 or so will have to be collected before November 25 of this year.

Once more the City Tax Collector calls attention to the fact that the city tax office mails tax bills only upon request, and many taxpayers who are confused on this point probably will have to pay the penalty.

Experts Begin Work.

The three experts employed for $1500, to determine for the city the investment cost, cost of operation and earnings of an electrical distributing system, left yesterday to go over the aqueduct as the first step in their work. They are Prof. C. L. Cory of the University of California, George L. Hoxie of New York and C. W. Koiner, manager of the municipal lighting plant at Pasadena.

City Hall Notes.

The City Council yesterday passed an ordinance granting the Los Angeles Railway a franchise for a curved double track turning the southwest corner of First and Spring streets.

The South Park Improvement Association yesterday importuned the City Council to pass an ordinance compelling the separation of grade crossings on steam railroads.

An ordinance for the widening of San Pedro street at Timm's Point at the harbor was passed by the Council yesterday. The street is to be widened from seventy-five to 130 feet.

The eleventh municipal market will be at No. 2303 East Fourth street, a permit for its opening having been issued by the building department yesterday.

A sewer to connect Eagle Rock with parts of Highland Park was ordered built by the City Council yesterday, when a contract for the work was approved.

At the Courthouse.

SEVEN CHILDREN PROVIDED MONEY.

GUARDIANSHIP TO PROTECT THE VARIOUS INTERESTS.

Wealthy Woman Leaves Her Property to Grand Nephews and Nieces With Trust Provisions—Scene in Courtroom When Father and Mother Quarrel Over Offspring.

Petitions asking for the appointment of guardians for the grandchildren of Lyman Stewart, president of the Union Oil Company, who were left legacies aggregating $102,000 by their grandmother, Saran A. Stewart, who died some time ago, were filed yesterday.

Stewart petitioned to be appointed guardian of Elizabeth Martin, aged 4 years. She resides at Cynwyd, Pa., and has an estate in this city. Under the will of Mrs. Stewart she is bequeathed $35,000. This is to be invested and placed at interest until Elizabeth reaches the age of 20 years when she it to receive a quarterly payment of 6 per cent. on the amount. She is the daugnter of Daniel H. and May Stewart.

The legacies bequeathed to the other grandchildren are on the same terms. Florence Stewart petitioned to be named guardian for her children, Marjorie, 10, and Clement, 8 years. Their father is Alfred C. Stewart. Marjorie receives $35,000 and Clement $1000.

Margaret Stewart petitions for the guardianship for her children, Dorothy, 14; Adelaide, 11; William Lyman, 16, and Arthur Chichester Stewart, 8 years. Dorothy and Adelaide each receive $35,000 and William and Arthur $1000 each.

SHOOED FROM COURT.

BICKER OVER CHILDREN.

The most interesting feature of the Bannock family fuss occurred outside of Judge Taft's courtroom yesterday. When he dismissed the parties who were in court fighting for the custody of their two boys, Charles and Beryl, declaring it was an issue for the divorce court, Mrs. Weldon Bannock, the mother, at the suggestion of her attorney, went over to Bannock, who had the children, and attempted to take them.

Bannock resisted and the lads set up a wail. The court ordered Bailiff Gates to shoo the couple out of the courtroom and in the corridor the battle for possession was resumed. It raged through the Courthouse and down Broadway.

The vicissitudes of the Bannocks cover a long period. They were divorced in the East and the custody of the boys was given to the mother. She brought them to this city. Bannock followed and, patching up a truce, they were remarried. Later, Mrs. Bannock went on a visit to her mother, taking the children.

Bannock, who is an employee of the Standard Oil Company at Taft, began a still hunt for his family, finally locating them in Portland. He filed a charge against his wife and was awarded the children. Mrs. Bannock turned the trick by kidnaping them. Bannock took the trail again and ran her to earth in a beach city. He has her arrested for contributing, the boys being wards of the court. Thus the family got into Judge Taft's court and the end of the battle is not yet in sight.

RUBIO ASSESSMENT.

TAX COLLECTOR ENJOINED.

By an order of Judge Works yesterday, County Tax Collector Welch is enjoined from collecting assessments for the construction of the $114,017.19 storm drain in the Rubio Canyon district until the suit of the Pasadena Park Improvement Company and others against County Clerk Lelande is finally heard.

The plaintiffs represent property owners within the assessment district. The Board of Supervisors created the Rubio Protection District to drain the Rubio Canyon water, building a storm drain for that purpose. An assessment district was formed to pay for the work.

The property owners involved claim that the Supervisors did not comply with the statute in the formation of the district, and ask that the assessment be declared void. They also ask that Lelande, who holds the assessment list, be enjoined from turning it over to the County Tax Collector for the collection of the assessment.

LOVE REALLY BLIND, BUT AT LAST SHE SEES.

Nina P. Blum is now willing to admit that love is blind. Three months after she met Herbert H. Blum she married him, and three months later he left her, ostensibly to return home, where an alleged estate was awaiting him. Blum being short of money, it was quite natural for her to advance him with his fare to Texas, but the rub came when she was compelled to pay the bill at the Navarre Apartments, where they resided.

Blum sent her letters from time to time, telling how much he loved her, but he failed to remit money for her support, and, growing suspicious, she brought suit for divorce and obtained the decree in Judge Monroe's court yesterday.

The couple were married on New Year's Day, 1912, the matrimonial boat sailed off on sunlit seas, but was wrecked March 23, 1912.

HOUSEKEEPER GETS IT, AND RELATIVES CUT OFF.

L. D. Osgood of Long Beach, who died last February, left his $20,000 estate to his housekeeper, Susie Burke, and gave nothing to his daughter and other heirs. An attack on the will was made by his daughter, Alma Spring, who alleged undue influence on the part of Susie Burke.

The case was called in Judge Houser's court yesterday, when it was stated that a compromise will likely be made. The matter was continued until today to enable Attorneys Daly, G. A. Skinner and Hanson, representing the various parties, to settle on the terms

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

Leslie R. Hewitt, former City Attorney, and later special counsel for the Los Angeles harbor, who was appointed a Superior judge by Lieut.-Gov. Wallace, took the oath of office yesterday, administered by County Clerk Lelande. He will take the bench this morning, occupying Department Sixteen, on the second floor of the Courthouse. Judge Hewitt succeeds Judge Conrey, who was appointed to the Appellate Court to succeed the late Justice Allen.

GRANTS NON-SUIT. A non-suit was granted by Judge Works yesterday in the suit of C. L. Schroeder against the Golden State Film Company to recover from the latter $11,000 alleged profits from the production of the moving picture "One Hundred Years of Mormonism." The right to produce these films was sold to the company by Schroeder, who was art photographer for Joseph Smith, head of the Mormon church.

WANTS HIS WIFE FOUND.

Marshal E. Valentine, a painter living at No. 1242 Virgil avenue, reported to the police yesterday the disappearance of his wife, Ida M., who left their home on the 5th inst. to visit friends in Maricopa. She has not been heard from since. Her height, as given by Velentine, is five feet, and her weight ninety-five pounds. She has dark hair and eyes, and wore a two-piece suit of black material, and a dark green hat, with a black plume. Valentine stated that there was no reason for the woman leaving home.

IN "SPOOKY" PLACE.

F. W. Heriburger, No. 201 South Avenue Eighteen, was robbed of $50 and a watch early yesterday morning near the old cemetery on North Broadway, by two men who took advantage of the "spookiness" of the place to frighten him. Before Heriburger could collect his wits to make an outcry the footpads were gone.

OPIUM SMUGGLER ARRAIGNED.

John A. Edison, charged with having four cans of smoking opium in his possession, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Williams yesterday, and in default of $1500 bail, was committed to the County Jail. Edison was captured at Colton. He is a sufferer from consumption, and it is believed that he brought the stuff across the line at Calexico for his own use.

The Second.

NEW EFFORT TO RECALL WELLS, COVINA JUSTICE.

A SECOND effort to recall Justice of the Peace H. N. Wells of Covina township, the so-called anti-speed justice, was launched yesterday with the filing of a petition, prepared for the signers by Attorney Russ Avery of this city. The reappearance of the movement, after the first petition had been thrown out in a hearing before the Superior Court, caused considerable surprise in Covina.

The faction aligned against Wells grew out of his manner of enforcing the speed ordinance in Covina city. This was handled by Wells in his capacity as City Recorder and had nothing to do with his position as justice of the peace. Since the feeling ran so high over the speed-ordinance enforcement the City Trustees have dispensed with a boulevard officer and no arrests for speeding have been made in ten weeks. Some citizens who signed the original recall petition are understood to have since experienced a change of heart and do not want the recall election to be brought to an actuality. Others are strongly against the justice. Among them is declared to be a group who pledged support to a new newspaper in Covina which was in circulation for eight weeks as the Covina Citrus News. This newspaper retired from the field a few weeks ago and in a valedictory editorial "roasted" its alleged supporters unmercifully, stating that they had not carried out in any sense the agrements entered into.

Justice Wells came to Los Angeles yesterday for the purpose of instituting proceedings against the admission of the petition, as he did at the time the first petition was filed. He says that he will attack the document on the ground that it is irregularly drawn and that it no longer expresses the sentiment of the majority of the people who signed it.

MORE OF LYMAN'S METHODS.

Samples of Newspaper Advertisements Figure in Evidence Introduced in the Court.

In the Dr. John Grant Lyman case yesterday further evidence was given of the advertising methods of the Panama Development Company by book-keepers of a local newspaper. It was shown that an advertisement had appeared, signed by the Pan-American Investment Company, offering to sell a ranch of 300 acres at Boquette, Province of Chiriqui, for $40,000. The next day another advertisement appeared, stating that the Panama Development Company had government lands for sale adjoining the Boquette ranch, thus creating the impression that the lands were similar in character. Both advertisements were paid for by the Panama Development Company.

It is the contention of Asst. Dist.-Atty. Regan that there is not now and never has been a corporation by the name of the Pan-American Investment Company, and that neither that company nor the Panama Development Company had any lands in Panama.

Thomas O'Rourke of San Fernando, who invested $58 in Panama lands, was a witness yesterday. He was so anxious to get something down there, he said, that he had upbraided Lyman for not telling him sooner all about the good opportunities to be had in Panama.

Other testimony given by investors was to the effect that representations had been made to them that the Panama Development Company was an agent of the Panamanian government, and would send deeds for the land; that a million-dollar sugar mill had been erected at Ague Dulce; that a railroad was in process of construction from the city of Panama to the city of David, and that an American colony had taken up 10,000 acres of the government land.

DIAGNOSIS CAUSES ARREST.

Kansas Doctor Said to Have Declared Colored Water, Paste and Salt Indicated Disease.

Dr. H. A. Johnston, arrested on a complaint from Wichita that he is a fugitive from justice, having been indicted with Dr. Edward J. Welsh, on a charge of using the mails to defraud, was taken before United States Commissioner Williams yesterday and gave a bond of $1000 for his appearance for trial in Topeka, when wanted by the Federal authorities.

According to the indictment, a copy of which was transmitted here, Johnston and Welsh are charged with conducting a mail order doctor scheme, the specific charge being that they sent a letter to Andrew Thomas of Del Rio, Tex., offering to cure him of a kidney trouble of long standing, on the payment of $25 down and $10 a month for an indefinite time.

It is alleged that there is no such person as Andrew Thomas, that name being assumed by a postoffice inspector at Wichita, for the purpose of trapping the accused men. In one of the letters sent by Johnston it is charged that he requested a sample of the urine of Thomas before prescribing, and this was promptly furnished by the inspector in the shape of tobacco-colored water, impregnated with just enough library paste and salt for the requirements.

This was sent to Johnston and Welsh and they promptly replied, it is alleged, that the sender, Thomas, was suffering from a bad case of kidney affection and urging him to place himself under their care as soon as possible. When last heard from Welsh was in Des Moines, Iowa.

UNABLE TO AGREE.

After hearing the evidence in the complaint of A. R. Johns, against the Salt Lake Railroad Company the jury in Judge Rudkin's court returned at 5 o'clock yesterday and reported that they were unable to agree. The court decided that a sealed verdict might be made and the result made known today. Johns, who is a salesman of the Federal Fertilizing Company, was injured on May 6, 1912, while traveling as a passenger between San Bernardino and Los Angeles. The train stopped at Ontario —suddenly, it was alleged—and Johns, who was in the vestibule of one of the coaches, was thrown against a brake beam, and his right leg seriously injured. Physicians testified that he will be a cripple for life. Johns sued to recover $50,160.

BERGMAN GIRL ON TRIAL.

Miss Alma Bergman, the young woman who says she stole clothes because she needed them, was arraigned in the University Police Court yesterday on the charge of impersonating her employer, Mrs. T. M. Lynn, and securing a quantity of apparel at the Bullock store. A jury was not secured until noon, and only three witnesses were heard before court adjourned. The case will be continued this morning at 10 o'clock.

GETS A NEW TRIAL.

In the District Court of Appeals yesterday the order of the Superior Court of San Diego county, granting a new trial to Benjamin F. Ostrander, convicted of burglary, was affirmed. The view of the lower court was opposed by the State, but the latter lost in the contention.

If you ever buy a mortgage, the first thing you'll do is to consider carefully the underlying security; then you'll take into account the names on the paper—the moral security; sometimes the man is more important than the property involved.

In the course of your life you probably invest in clothes enough money to buy a good big mortgage. Do you know anything about the underlying security in the clothes you wear? Does the name and reputation of the maker mean anything to you?

Our suits and overcoats are made to be "gilt-edged" security; we put our name into them as a guaranty of good faith.

If you knew how much value you would find in our suits or overcoats at $25, you'd start now to buy one.
